GENERAL PARKER ARRIVES 2:20 P M

COMMANDER OF CAMP MACARTHUR HERE TO MAKE PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS.

IS MET BY MILITARY BOARD

ESCORTED BY AUTOS RALEIGH AND LATER HOLDS CAMP CONFERENCE.

Major General James Parker arrived in Waco yesterday afternoon at 2:20 o'clock to take command of Camp MacArthur.

He came over the Katy road and was accompanied by Captain Paul C. Raborg, one of his three aides.

General Parker was met at the depot by Lieut. Col. H. Erickson, who is division quartermaster and one of the staff of officers of the commander.

Major Matthew Hansen, constructing quartermaster, Captain E. H. Andres, camp quartermaster and a score of other officers officially welcomed General Parker to Waco.

Waco Committee There.

The military committee of the Waco Chamber of Commerce was also represented. J. B. Earle, H. D. Driscoll, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; H. H. Shear, representing the chamber and military committee, and a dozen other civilians and representatives of local organizations also were present at the incoming of the general's train.

W. V. Crawford of the Y. M. B. L., greeted the new commander of Camp MacArthur and a parade of automobiles many blocks long escorted him to the Raleigh hotel. The Waco band gave a short concert at the depot and also at the Raleigh and immediately after General Parker and staff had met the local people he left for a tour of the camp.

Hundreds Meet Train.

Hundreds of civilians gathered at the depot to witness the arrival of the officer who is to control the local army reservation. They followed the parade up town and General Parker expressed himself as mightily pleased with the reception. He had his mind on business all the time, however, and insisted in being immediately taken on another inspection tour of Camp MacArthur. The general made a short tour of inspection last Monday. His orders read to take command in Waco on August 25 and he did with the promptitude characterized of a man of his rank.

In company with Major Hansen, who has charge of the construction work at the reservation, Colonel Erickson who takes charge of the quartermaster's end; Captain Andres, camp quartermaster, accompanied General Parker on his trip through the camp yesterday afternoon.

General Calls Conference.

The General called all of the officers in conference at 5 p. m. They met at the Primm home on the Bosqueville road, where headquarters are to be maintained. Remodelling work is so far advanced that the general can move into the quarters by tomorrow. In the meantime he will stay at the Raleigh. Captain Raborg also will have his quarters at the Raleigh until the bachelor headquarters at the camp are occupied.

Following the conference with officers, General Parker returned to the city and he will spend today in making preliminary plans for his first week's work in Waco and at Camp MacArthur.

Captain Raborg, the only one of the general's aides in Waco now, has been with his superior officer for many months. He was with him on the border last summer, fall and winter, and went with the commander to San Antonio last February when the then brigadier general took command of the twelfth provisional division stationed at Camp Wilson, adjoining Fort Sam Houston. He followed General Parker to the headquarters office in the quadrangle at Fort Sam Houston when General Parker assumed command of the southern department, following the order that sent Major General John J. Pershing to France.

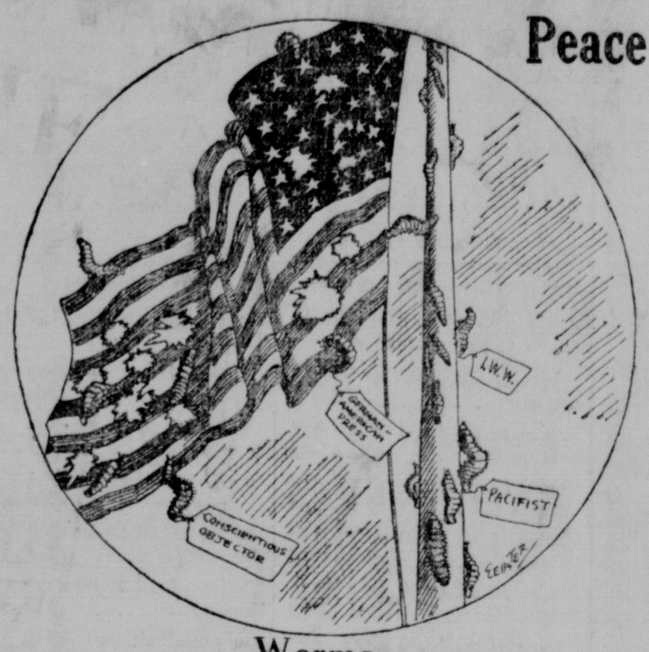
Other Aides Arrive.

Captain Gruenert and Captain Briggs are the other two aides to make their permanent station at Camp MacArthur. General Parker is allowed three aides in addition to his other staff officers.

Mrs. Parker is remaining in San Antonio for the present but will shortly come to Waco. She will have apartments at the Raleigh.

"Camp MacArthur is a fine camp," said General Parker. "It is now ready to receive all of the guard troops ordered here and my instructions are that the war department be informed immediately that I am ready to take care of all the troops that are to come here."

Redfield Denounces American Who Sent Letter Urging Lafollette's Peace Resolution Be Adopted by U. S. Senate



Worms

Special to The News.

Washington, Aug. 25.—The first formal utterances from any member of the president's cabinet or other high officials of the government since the pope's peace proposal was received, came last Wednesday in a scathing denunciation of peace movements launched in this country.

Secretary of Commerce Redfield was the spokesman.

He declared there are two great opposing ideals in the world—the ideals of autocracy and democracy.

Germany, he styled a desperado among nations and declared it was against her militant autocracy that America was fighting.

"In this fearful combat autocracy trembles on the edge of disaster," the secretary wrote to a member of a pacifist organization, "and this is the time you cunningly lift your voice in its behalf."

The letter was addressed to J. E. Van Dyke, East Orange, N. J., who wrote to Redfield, asking support of the La Follette peace resolution now in the senate.

CALLS LETTER "EXTRAORDINARY"

In his reply Redfield declared:

"I had received over your signature under date of the 16th instant, what you are pleased to call 'important request' for my 'favorable consideration on the La Follette peace resolution.'

"Your communication is extraordinary by reason of what it omits. There is, for example, no reference to the rape of Belgium, nor does it show by direct word or by internal evidence that you have read the clear and lucid statement by the president on the causes of the war.

"There is no word in your communication that speaks an American spirit. You seem interested to assert evil intentions on the part of the nations allied with us in the war, and an equally earnest wish to slur over the spirit and act on the part of Germany which brought this war into being.

"STABS COUNTRY IN THE BACK"

"Subtlety and by indiscretion, you take such a course as would stab your country in the back, as would tie the hands of the president and make ineffective for righteousness the sacrifices of our men and our treasure.

"You deal with superficialities and neglect the substance. You chase shadows and ignore realities. You seem not to know that there are two great opposing ideals in the world, one of which must go down before the other. These ideals are autocracy and democracy.

"Autocracy has put its heel on Belgium, on Serbia, on Montenegro, on Poland, on Rumania, on a fair part of France.

"It is a skilled and highly trained autocracy. It knows well how to disguise its purposes and how to conduct through weak and willing hands a secret campaign in many lands, including our own, hiding itself under the guise of fairness, pleading in the fair name of peace, for the purpose of doing its foul deeds.

CALLS GERMANY "DESPERADO'

"Again this militant autocracy, whose lust for power led it to begin this murderous war by deliberate attack on nations who sought only quiet, against this desperado among the nations stand the democracies of the world; the free peoples against the peoples that are bound; the peoples whose ideal is right against the people whose ideal is might.

"In the fearful combat autocracy trembles on the edge of disaster and this is the time you cunningly lift your voice in its behalf.

"Your country stands today with the free peoples of the world in order to make it safe for a free people to be. In this larger cause are bound up many lesser thought still great ones.

"AMERICA ABHORS AUTOCRACY"

"For the American people abhor not only autocracy but that which autocracy has done in this war. They look with horror on what autocracy has done in Belgium. They shrink from what autocracy has done with the daughters of France. They shudder at the continued slaughter of women and children in defenceless towns in the name of autocracy. They deeply resent that men and women are sent to a pitiless death that autocracy may work its will upon the seas. Against these and all things like them, wrought by autocracy for its own end, the American people stand embattled.

"No human note rings in your letter. No pity for slaughtered nations shows in it. But you have an excuse for Germany and the moral forces have none."

ENEMY IS IN FLIGHT AT UDINE

GORIZIA FRONT FOUND ENTIRELY IN ENTENTE ARMY'S HANDS SATURDAY.

FRENCH FIRM AT VERDUN

HOLD TO COUNTER CHARGE OF GERMANS—BRITISH FRONT REPORTS ADVANCE.

Rome, Aug. 25.—The Italian troops on the Isonzo front are marching to complete victory. At Udine, Salvatore Barzilai, the civil governor of the Austrian territory occupied by the Italian army, when informed of the complete victory of the Italians exclaimed:

"At last our soldiers have achieved this magnificent thing; they have freed our soil from the ancient enemy."

The final success of the Italians in winning their greatest battle in this war is thrilling the country as never before. Both army and civilians now see the result of two years of suffering and hardship. The victory came unexpectedly. It was General Cardona's plan never to announce an event until certain that his troops are able to hold new positions.

MRS. LANDRUM IN TENNESSEE

PRESIDENT OF TEXAS HOME ECONOMIC ORGANIZATIONS EN ROUTE TO CAPITAL.

Special to the News.

Bristol, Tenn., Aug. 26.—Mrs. J. L. Landrum, president of the Home Economic organizations for the State of Texas, arrived here today, accompanied by her daughter Mrs. Landrum, who is making the trip from Waco to Washington in an automobile will submit in person the report of her work to Food Commissioner Hoover.

"I shall tell the Commissioner," she said, "that six thousand Texas girls in our clubs have canned this season half a million quarts of corn, beans and tomatoes and are continuing the work. Texas may be depended upon to do its part for the war and the woman true to the Texas spirit, will set an example worthy of Texas traditions."

Mrs. Landrum, who left here this evening, for washington declared that her trip had been of pleasing experfences except for serious damage done the tires on her machine on some of the mountain roads.

She expects to reach Washington Monday, her daughter Miss Lucile Parks drove the car over East Tennessee mountain roads and is proving a heroic youn chaffeur.

AMERICANS "ON WING"

By the Associated Press.

Somewhere on the French Front, Thursday, (Delayed)—All the Americans in the Layfayette flying corps have been on the wing since last Sunday. The weather has been magnificent. They have been engaged in bombing raids and scouting expeditions over the French front, but there have been no air fights and no incidents.

GOLD BRICK SCHEME WORKS IN ST. LOUIS FARMER LOSES $3000

By the Associated Press.

St. Louis, Aug. 25.—F. R. Eason, a farmer of Gates, Tenn., today told the police that he had been swindled out of $3,000 by two men who promised him riches through an investment.

One of the men, he said, met him on the street in Memphis, two weeks ago and called his attention to a bill book lying on the stret. In the bok they found the name of another man and to this man they went to return the book. The second man told of money he had made in cotton and the two strangers then induced him to come to St. Louis with them to get money to redeem two checks. Eason came to St. Louis today and drawing $3,000 from a bank he went to East St. Louis, Ill., where he gave the money to the two men. The two soon afterwards left him and did not return.

EXPLODING SHRAPNEL IS FATAL TO TWO MEN AT CANTONMENT

By the Associated Press.

Fort Sill, Okla., Aug. 25.—Corporal Pretty killed, private Nelson and James Kelley, Battery A, 2nd Missouri field artillery, were killed, and four others seriously injured, when a shrapnel shell exploded on the cantonment range here this afternoon, completely wrecking the mess hall in which they were preparing their first meal after arriving at the Oklahoma post. The injured are: Privates Oakley, Bluma, McGrey, and aRymond Rose. Nelson was killed, McGrew outright, and Keley died on the way to the hospital. The shell exploded after having ben left partially buried on the field by the heat of a fire nearby over which the men were cooking.

JUDGE ADVOCATE FOR WACO CAMP

MAJOR SAMUEL D. PEPPER APPOINTED BY SEC. BAKER FOR MACARTHUR.

Judge Advocate Major Samuel D. Pepper of Lansing, Mich, has been ordered by Secretary Baker to report at Waco as judge advocate of the Michigan-Wisconsin division.

This important post came to Michigan's military legal adviser says officers now in Waco, as a result of his efficient work on the Mexican border a year ago where he presided as judge advocate of the Michigan-Ohio division as a member of the staff of Gen. George Bell, Jr. Major Pepper has been judge advocate of the Michigan national guard for five years. He received this appointment shortly after he entered the state's legal department as assistant attorney general under Franz Kuhn. Major Pepper's home is Port Huron where he was formerly a member of the Port Huron company of the Michigan national guard.

The story is told that in a personal letter to Governor Sleeper, Provost Marshal General E. J. Crowder of Washington, D. C. unconsciously paid a fine compliment to Major Pepper. While the draft machinery has been carried on under the governors name, Major Pepper has done all the work as the governor gave him full authority to use his name in this connection.

Writing to Governor Sleeper, General Crowder says: "May I take this occasion to express my deep appreciation of your efficient co-operation with the federal government in the execution of the selective service law since the beginning. The manner in which the difficult situation arising out of the remarkable growth of Detroit was handled by you has always been a source of admiration to me, and this office has always considered Michigan one of the prize states in the execution of the law. When we find by reference to our files that the correspondence of a state is confined to reports of results achieved, we also take that as an indication of great efficiency. The state of Michigan stands very high in this regard."

With characteristic modesty, Major Pepper declared the local registration and draft boards are entitled to great credit for their splendid co-opeation.

ANTICIPATE HOT FIGHT IN SENATE OVER WAR TAX BILL

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 25.—Preparations made today by senate leaders for next week's discussion of the war tax bill presaged one of the most determined and spectacular struggles of the war session. The bill was not taken up today, the senate recessing after a brief session till Monday for conferences of those prominent in the fight for and against increasing tax levies. Material amendment of the bill was regarded certain.

201 OFFICERS TAKEN

By the Associated Press.

Paris, Aug. 25.—One of the striking phases of the Verdun fighting on Monday was the large proportion of German officers captured, 201 being taken with about 6,700 men. This is in sharp contrast with the number of officers taken in the French attack last December. At that time 208 officers and 11,000 men were captured.

SENATE SUMMONS FERGUSON TO BAR

TRIAL IN UPPER HOUSE WILL BEGIN AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M. ON WEDNESDAY.

By the Associated Press.

Austin, Aug. 25.—Governor James E. Ferguson was this afternoon summoned by John D. McCall, secretary of the senate to appear before the bar of the senate at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning to answer to charges of impeachment prepared against him by the two houses. The senate committee to prepare the rules of precedure in the impeachment trial, partially completed its task this afternoonu. The committee has decided to follow closely the precedure in the case fo Governor Sulzur in New York and the trial on impeachment of Land Commissioner McGaughey in 1893. The record in the procedings of the house bill will not be taken and each item is to be heard by the senate, the same as if it had not been considered in the house.

UTILITIES ORDERED FOR AVIATION CAMP BY WIRE YESTERDAY

A telegram was received Saturday from President J. M. Penland of the Chamber of Commerce, who is on his way from Washington to St. Louis, asking that sewer, water, light, telephone and telegraph facilities be provided at once, entering the aviation field on the east side near the center.

This was necessary, he stated, because the contract had been let for the buildings which are to be erected at the aviation grounds. The understanding was that the Fred A. Jones Construction company had the contract for the erection of the aviation buildings here. This company has erected the buildings at Camp MacArthur, and still is engaged in that task.

Buildings at the aviation grounds are expected to cost about three-quarters of a million dollars and to cover about forty acres of ground. The military committee of the Chamber of Commerce at once met and started things in motion for the putting of the facilities mentioned by President Penland.

ABSINTHE IS ABOLISHED AS DRINK IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 25.—Absinthe addicts in New York will have to find some other beverage after September 1 as on that date the health board will enforce a regulation banishing this drink from all saloons, liquor stores and other places where it has been sold in this city. The board holds that absinthe is a harmful habit forming drug.

WAR SUMMARY SHOWS FRENCH CONSOLIDATING GAINS AT VERDUN.

By the Associated Press.

The battle along the Isonzo has developed further brilliant successes for the Italians who, it is now claimed, are making one of their greatest efforts of the war once more.

The Italians at the beginning effected a few crossings of the river north of Gorizia at a point where the Austrians believed it impossible and won another important victory by scaling Monte Santo, 2245 feet high, and placing their flag there. This mountain top, seven miles north of Gorizia, dominates the plain to the east of the city, and the Austrian forces there have been unable to hold up the Italian advance since Gorizia was taken. The Austrian line of defense was broken at several points and the Italians are pursuing the retiring Austrians.

Further south on the Carso fighting continues violently and incessantly. Austrian efforts to win back lost positions were defeated.

New gains have been made by the French on the Verdun front, rounding out the victory won in the offensive begun Monday. The French advanced last night north of Hill 304, Paris announces, and captured three fortified works near Bethincourt. The official German statement, however, says the French attacks between Malancourt, as well as near Hill 304 east of the Meuse, were repulsed.

On the British front sharp local engagements are in progress. The British captured a trench position west of Lens and another near Lombaertzybe.

Berlin concedes a small British advance, but says that at several points the British were repulsed with heavy losses. The capture of a British position east of St. Julien is reported.

The situation on the northern end of the Russian front remains obscure. Official Russ reports early in the week made it appear a German offensive with the capture of Riga presumably as its object, was under way. The German communications have not borne this out except that an advance on the river Aa at several points was reported on Friday.

On the central Russian front a German battalion penetrated the Russian lines on the Oginsky canal, northwest of Pinsk, but later the Teutons were ejected by a counter attack. On the Rumanian front the battles which raged during the week have died down. In the Caucasus the Russians are showing greater activity at several points. Turkish positions on the heights in this region have been occupied by the Russians, the Turks retiring under pressure.

FERGUSON LOOKS CHEERY ANYWAY

APPEARS TO HAVE NO DOUBT AS TO OUTCOME—HOBBY IN OFFICE.

By the Associated Press.

Austin, Aug. 25.—Affairs of the executive office of the state of Texas were officially transferred a few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning by Governor James E. Ferguson to Acting Governor William Pettus Hobby, of Beaumont. Governor Hobby, accompanied by his brothr, Edwin Hobby of Dalas, and his brother-in-law, Bronson Cooper of Beaumont, entered the executive office at 10:10 o'clock. They were receveid cordially by Governor Ferguson and the latter with Governor Hobby then entered the private office and the official transfer was made.

Rangers Leave Capital

A noticeable change with the entrance of Governor Hobby into the office of chief executive was the absence of state rangers from about the door of the capitol, where they had become familiar figures during the last few months. It was said that all had been sent to Houston to help the police officers there to prevent further trouble with the negroes.

The first officail act of Governor Hobby was to grant a requisition for J. W.Smithers, under arrest in Mount Pleasant, Michigan wanted in Dewitt county to answer to two charges of of forgery.

Prepare for Trial

Preparations are being made in the senate for the impeachment trial Senators Bailey, Lattimore and Dean were named Friday night as a committee to make arrangements. It is expected the house will provide the presenting attorneys. Estimates of the length of the trial vary from two weeks to six weeks. No one knows. The accused is entitled to be confronted with his accusers and all the evidence heretofore submitted at the two investigations that relates to the articles of impeachment may have to be introduced again.

Governor Ferguson would make no statement, but he appeared cheerful and seems to entertain no doubt of his acquittal by the senate.

House Meets Monday

The house will meet again at 10 o'clock Monday morning and the senate will meet at 10 o'clock next Thursday morning. Should the university appropriation bill be passed finally before final adjournment next Thursday it is thought likely the legislature will not be recalled, but members of the house may go home while the senate continues as a high court of inquiry.

AG. COMMISSION COMING TO WACO

HEADED BY SECRETARY DAVIS THEY ATTEND COTTON PALACE IN NOVEMBER.

Special to the News.

Austin, Aug. 25.—The Association of Southern Commissioners of Agriculture will hold its annual meeting for 1917 in Texas November 7-10. The sessions will continue for three days; the first and second days the meeting will occur in Waco, the third day in Austin. A fourth day of sightseeing will be spent in San Antonio. About twenty agricultural commissioners are expected to be present. Fred W. Davis, agricultural commissioner for Texas, is secretary of the association, and at the association meeting in Raleigh, N. C., in 1916 extended the invitation to come to Texas for this meeting of 1917. The members will begin to arrive on November 6 and headquarters will be at the Raleigh hotel, Waco.

Following is the Waco program:

First Day, November 7.

9 a. m.: Meeting at agricultural hall of the Texas Cotton Palace; welcome and general program.
Noon: Visit of exhibit grounds.
1 p. m.: Texas dinner made from Texas products at agricultural hall.
2 p. m.: General meeting.
5 p. m.: Auto ride over the city.
7 p. m.: Informal supper served by the Girls' Canning club of Texas.
8 p. m.: General entertainment at the Cotton Palace.

Second Day, Thursday, Nov. 8.

TO START ON COMFORT STATIONS IN SHORT TIME

Actual construction of comfort stations in the business district for the convenience of the Guardsmen of Camp MacArthur will be undertaken this week. The buildings will be of stucco construction, and will present a sightly appearance.

A number of these comfort stations will be provided, and they will be so grouped as that they will serve the maximum of Guardsmen. Health Commissioner Bryant Allen has been selecting locations and arranging for starting the work at once. He has matters where an early beginning is possible. It is hoped to have the stations built when the Guardsmen arrive.

"PATRIA SUITS"

WE herewith wish to announce that some months ago this store contracted to be the sole agents and representatives for the soon-to-be-celebrated collection of Patria Suits and it is with pleasure we announce that we will exhibit for the first time in our Suit Section these materpieces of the Tailor's art.

IN EXPLANATION

As to what Patria means and the importance of this event, we will says: Patria is a copyrighted name given to a certain collection of fifteen Ladies' and Misses' Suits.

The getting together of this collection, to the best of our knowledge, marks an epoch and will go down in suit history as representing the most lavish expenditure of energy, time, money and display of foresight.

WHY PATRIA SUITS ARE DESTINED TO BECOME FAMOUS.

The answer is because A. E. Leftcourt & Co., the institution in New York that is responsible for the creating of this particular collection, is considered today the most authoritative style creator in this country, and it is the only institution of its kind having the courage of its conviction to stand firm in its resolve to put its entire resources and reputation to the creating and manufacturing of Suits—and exclusive Suits only.

In this Patria collection of fifteen Suits you will find embodied the ground work and very foundation of the coming Fall Suit styles.

We take this means of extending to our patrons a very cordial invitation to attend this event, for it will be both instructive and interesting.

PLAN BANQUET FOR THURSDAY

SERVICE APPRECIATION EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE AT THE RALEIGT AUGUST 30.

The postponment of the great Service Appreciation Banquet until ext Thursday night, August 30, has given more time in which to elaborate the plans.

President J. M. Penland and members of the military affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be the honored guests on this occasion and will receive the expressions of appreciation on the part of residents of Waco who attend the banquet. General Chairman I. L. McGlasson reports that tickets are being sold right along still, and it is expected that 400 will sit down to the banquet table, perhaps more.

The banquet will be held at the Hotel Raleigh, ball room, and the musical program is being arranged. It will be announced in a short time.

Dr. I. L. McGlasson will be toastmaster, and the following program will be observed at the banquet:

Toastmaster Dr. I. L. McGlasson.
Toast to Woodrow Wilson, President of the U. S. and Commander in Chief of the U. S. Army.
Response ,Maj. Gen. James Parker.
"How to Get an Army Camp," President J. M. Penland of Waco Chamber of Commerce.
"Waco and Patriotism,', Dr. S. P. Brooks.
"First Aid, Maj S. W. French.
"An Appreciation,' O. L. Stribling.

LAUGH WINS WAY—HE GOT A ROOM RESERVED

Some wise old own said that a smile would outclass a bluff.

Some other bird said that you could win almost anything with a laugh.

The man who sent the following telegram to the Raleigh hotel is well known in Waco. He was found a room in spite of the fact that the hotel was full up:

Raleigh Hotel, Waco Texas.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 22.—Will arrive Waco Thursday. Reserve me the room with bath. A party froze to death here last week. Rate one-fifty. Temperature here one hundred and ten, good night.

H. M. BLOCH.

MRS. PARKER WILL JOIN HUSBAND IN WACO SOON

Mrs. Parker, wife of Major General Parker who arrived to take command of Camp MacArthur Saturday will come to Waco this wek. Mrs. Parker is arranging to leave her residence at San Antonio and will take apartments at the Raleigh. General Parker will have quarters at the Primm home.

Mrs. Parker visited Waco Monday when the General made his initial visit to this city and became acquainted with a number of Waco women.

The wife of the commanding officer of Camp MacArthur has been very popular at Fort Sam Houston and among the society people of the city and army contingent there is one of the best liked of leaders.

SANGER BROS. BUILDING IS GROWING RAPIDLY

The new building for Sanger Bros. has shown a great improvement during the past week, as finishing touches were being added to the third and last story and trimming was being placed.

The building shows up splendidly, and the trimming designs are of a character which add much to the structure. Work on the interior will be put under way in earnest in a short time.

MRS. MAGGIE MONCRIEF DIED SATURDAY MORNING

Mrs. Maggie Moncrief died Saturday at 7:30 a. m. in a local canitarium, aged 47 years, Mrs. Moncrief had been ill for some time.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Baptist church at Robinson. Interment will be made at the Robinson cemetery, Rev. W. W. Melton officiating, assisted by Rev. C. E. Poe of Robinson. Mrs. Moncrief was born and reared near Robinson. She is survived by her husband W. M. Moncrief, one son, W. M. Moncrief, Jr., four sisters and one brother. The brother, Ed. LeFevers, lives in Waco.

GUARDS JOIN IN PURSUING NEGRO AND SILK SHIRTS

The ettempt of a negro to get away with two shirts at Goldstein-Migel's department store last night on the no-sale-less-profit plan gave national guardsmen in Waco their first opportunity to aid in enforcement of the law. Discovered by M. M. Mertz, salesman, in the act of making away with the clothing, the negro beat a hasty retreat down Austin avenue. J. B. Denman, near the entrance also joined in the chase, called to a group of guards to aid in the pursuit. The shirts were recovered, but the negro managed to break from clerks, guards and all and made his own getaway certain.

MRS. PAUL C. RABORG TO ARRIVE IN WACO SOON

Mrs. Paul C. Raborg, wife of Captain Rabo, aide de camp to Major Major General Parker is planning to come to Waco within the next few days. Mrs. Raborg will have apartments at the Raleigh.

Captain Raborg arrived Saturday with General Parker and is stopping temporarily at the Raleigh.

Mrs. Raborg is an enthusiastic society leader Red Cross worker and amongst the younger army ladies is one of the most popular.

OREGON TROOPS SEARCH FORESTS FOR INCENDIARIES

By the Associated Press.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 25.—Detachments of Oregon troops began taking to the forests of the state today armed and with instructions to kill any persons found in the act of setting forest fires.

Situation Grows Worse.

By the Associated Press.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 25.—The forest-fire situation in western Montana has grown increasingly alarming. Hundreds became exhausted from their labors in attempting to head off the fire.

"SALOONS AND OTHER SLIME PITS" IS SERMON SUBJECT

Evidently a broadside will be poured into the saloon business at Fifteenth and Marrow street tonight. Presiding Elder J. A. Whitehurst of the Waco district Methodist chnurch, will preach at the tabernacle on Fifteenth tonight. His subject will be, "Saloons and Other Slime Pits."

DEUTSCHLAND EXPERT ARRESTED IN BALTIMORE

MAJOR GEORGE HIGGINS TO LITTLE ROCK COMMAND

Major George Higgins, who until three days ago has been with the twenty-fourth U. S. Infantry stationed at Camp MacArthur, left last night for Little Rock.

Major Higgins was just promoted from the office of Captain and will now have command of a unit of the new National Army to be trained at the cantonment at Little Rock.

He left over the Katy line just a few minutes after the arrival of General Parker in Waco. The two officers met for a moment and then Major Higgins left for his new station. He had been with the Twenty-fourth for the last fourteen years and saw service in the Phillippines and other places with the same command.

EMPLOY WAITRESSES.

Sam Freund's cigar store, corner Sixth and Austin streets, has just employed girl waitresses for customers in their soda department. This is one of the innovations introduced with the increase of business with the coming of soldiers to Waco.

FARMERS HURRY COTTON TO SQUARE FEARING STORM

Cotton rolled into Waco rapidly Saturday, and during the day Public Weigher Sem Nix, Hayden Sadler and helpers weighed up a total of 326 bales.

The price ranged from 22 to 23 cents a pound, the decline of the staple having been pronounced all last week. Farmers are rushing the picking, fearing a big gulf storm similar to the one which wrecked the crops of this section two years ago.

Waco Morning News
WACO, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 26, 1917

Society

WITH the arrival of Major General James Parker to take command of Camp MacArthur Saturday night, Waco enters upon an army era as far as society is concerned.

There will be about one thousand officers from the grade of Major General to second lieutenant. Practically all are socially eligible and perhaps three hundred will bring their wives or mothers to Waco.

Of course the Raleigh Hotel as headquarters for Mrs. Parker will be the center of society as far as the army circle proper is concerned. Mrs. Parker has been a leading lady hostess of the army group at San Antonio. From all reports she will rule spiritedly, yet sanely as social arbiter of the military group. Her friends in San Antonio were extremely loath to see her go to Waco.

There is a natural link already binding the army soial life to that of Waco through the months of activity of the military affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce. As far back as two years ago, important army officials were entertained at Waco. The recent trip of General Parker's locating board and informal visit of the general Monday have still further cemented the citizenship with the army.

There will undoubtedly be many mixed functions attended by civilians and army officers. Practically all of Waco's normal social life, which is now due to awake for the fall and winter whirl will be tuned to martial music

HOUSE PARTY FOR LYNVILLE A. WORSHAM.

The climax of a series of good times that a congenial crowd of young people has enjoyed this summer was a house party for Mr. Lynville A. Worsham. Mr. Worsham has answered his country's call and goes to enter the naval branch of the service. His sister, Mrs. J. W. Short, and Mrs. Annie Short invited this crowd of friends to be with him at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Worsham, on the Marlin road. Ten couples motored out Wednesday afternoon to find a nice supper awaiting them followed by music and games. Thursday they enjoyed a picnic and swim at the lock and dam and returned to a good old fashioned feast of turkey, ice cream, etc. Friday morning before the dawn seven cars bore the crowd to the station to wish their comrade good-bye, good luck and a safe and speedy return. Mr. Worsham is a young man of sterling worth, the kind of which Uncle Sam may well be proud. He will be greatly missed during his absence.

Those who enjoyed this true southern hospitality were:

TEXAS DAY CELEBRATED AT COLORADO SPRINGS.

Colorado Springs, August 25.—Texans who are spending their summer and early fall vacations and those who have lived in this region for a number of years got together last Saturday, August 18, to celebrate Texas day. The affair was held at Stratton park and Judge Walter Seay of Dallas was incharge of the ceremonies. There were more than 2,000 people present for the affair and 650 automobiles from 34 cities and towns registered. Special music was given by the Midland band for the occasion and there were speeches by a number of Texans visiting here.

"Texas is doing her bit and a little more in this war," declared Judge Seay. "The State of Texas, as large as the German empire, has sent more proportionately to the army and navy than any other state in the southwest."

Extraordinarily cool weather has greeted tourists here during the last week, but reports from the points where they hailed from in the southwest indicate that the hot weather continues there and probably will for some weeks. While the condition of the roads between Colorado Springs and Texas points is reported not as good as early in the season, the motor tourists continue to come.

ROTARIAN PARTY POSTPONED.

The banquet, Hippodrome party, and dance which was to have been given by the Rotarians and their wives Saturday evening have been postponed until Thursday evening. The military affairs committee and the officers of the army will be the guests of the Rotarians and their wives. While the men are banqueting at the Raleigh, the women will be enjoying a Hippodrome party. At ten o'clock the women will join the men in a grand march in the ball room of the hotel. This ball is to be the most brilliant affair yet planned for the army officers. Mrs. Edgar Witt is in charge of the women's side of the affair. Each Rotarian wife is to be a hostess.

MR. AND MRS SHUMWAY HOSTS AT SPRING LAKE.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shumway were hosts to a party of picnickers at Spring Lake. The party went out in the late afternoon and enjoyed an hour of swimming. Supper was followed by out-door games. Those in the party were:

LITTLE MISSES OF TERRACE ROW HAVE PROGRESSIVE PARTY.

Two whole days brimming with fun were indulged in by a merry company of Terrace Row girls. The party began with a picture show party at the "Rex" and refreshments at the drug store, with Miss Mary V. Lastinger as hostess. The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. W. H. Moore. The evening found them guests of Miss Robbie Mae Nichols for six o'clock dinner and a "spend the night" with a pajama romp. Music and games with a midnight feast closed the days. At five-thirty the next morning cars conveyed the girls to Easley's for a swim and sunrise breakfast. Miss Janette Hancock extended this compliment, Mrs. Hancock acting as chaperone with Mrs. R. M. Nichols. The noon hour found the party the guests of Miss Feroi Hatch for a royal feast. Merry making continued until four o'clock, when Miss Ruthyn Morrison delighted them with a Hippodrome party and refreshments at a drug store. Miss Ruth Lewis of Houston, who is a guest in the home of Miss Robbie Mae Nichols, was the honoree at all these good times. The charming personality of this little lady has endeared her to all. Two other guests outside of Terrace Row were Misses Gladys and Edythe Houser.

WACO GIRLS OFF TO SCHOOL SOON.

With the nearness of September comes planning for school days by those who are still of the school age. Of the big class of high school graduates this year, a large per cent will go to college. Of the girls Misses Felice Gaffney, Olga McClain and Mary Crow will go to St. Mary's at Dallas. Misses Nanny Rose Clisbee, Fay Smith and Camille Searcy will be at Sullins college at Bristol, Virginia. Miss Hester Foster is going to Baldwin in Philadelphia, Miss Catherine Stratton to Ward Belmont, Miss Hazel Davidson to Beechwood in Philadelphia. Miss Eleanor Cameron to Miss Spencer's school in New York. Miss Frances Earle to a physical training school in Battle Creek, Michigan. Miss Jimmie McClain to Kid Key, Miss Helen Miller to Wellesley, in Boston and Misses Alleyne Spencer, Lillybeth Logan and Merle Lucas to Baylor in Waco.

BAYLOR'S FOOTBALL COACH TO MARRY MISS THOMPSON.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of the popular Baylor football coach, Charles P. Mosely, better known as "Bubbs" Mosely, will come as a pleasing surprise to his host of friends in Baylor and Waco. The bride-elect is Miss Mabel Thompson of Rusk, who was affectionately known as "Mab" by Bayloriites a few years ago. Miss Thompson graduated at Baylor in 1912, after four years of popularity, both at Baylor and in the city. She is the daughter of Rev. Charles Thompson formerly president of Rusk Academy and a sister of "Blondie" Thompson, the well known football star.

The date and place of the wedding have not yet been announced.

MISS LOVE NALOR IN PIANO RECITAL.

On Thursday at 5 o'clock, Miss Love Naler of McGregor gave her graduating recital in piano before a large audience in Carroll chapel. A goodly number of friends from McGregor came over in cars for the occasion.

Miss Naler opened her program with a gavotte by Roff which she played beautifully. The next numbers were an etude by Frime and the impromtu op. 90, No. 2 by Schubert. The second group of three numbers opened with the Beethoven Sonata, op. 14, No. 2, followed by the Rachmoninoff prelude in C sharp, minor and Papillon by Lavalle.

Throughout her program Miss Naler displayed a fluent and graceful technique wich enabled her to play difficult passages with abandon and to give proper attention to interpretation.

Miss Naler is a pupil of Professor Rudolf Hoffman.

HANDY-WARREN WEDDING THURSDAY.

The marriage of Miss Edda Handy to Lieutenant Charles Warren took place Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrod Wilson at nine o'clock. The bride, dressed in a contsuit of black, with a smart hat of black to match, was attended by her sister, Miss Nadine Handy, who was dressed in a pale blue silk and georgette. A lace hat with pink rosebuds completed her costume.

The young couple left for Dallas, to remain until Lieutenant Warren left for New York on Saturday. From Hoboken he sails for France, there to go into training. He took his commission at Leon Springs and will now see actual warfare.

The bride has endeared herself to everyone with her qualities of quiet sweetness of disposition. As a teacher she was very popular, and it is probable that she will continue her teaching.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Handy of Whitney, Miss Nadine Handy, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Warren, Miss Myra Warren of Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of Hewitt.

VIOLIN PUPIL IN GRADUATION RECITAL.

The graduating recital of Mr. Paul H. Medsker formerly of Alvin, Texas, but now of Waco was a delightful occasion and enjoyed by a goodly number of friends and musicians. Mr. Medsker who is a pupil of Professor Navratil showed througout the concert skill and sympathetic appreciation and it is not too much to say that with hard work and intelligence guidance he will become an expert handler of the violin. He showed an artistic insight into the hidden meanings of his selections and gave them in a manner that showed devotion to his instrument.

The Indian Lament by Dvorak-Kreisler with its slow, monotonous, mournful tones was so true to Indian music that one could have guessed the title without a program.

Caeser Cui's Oriental offset the sombre effect of the Lament and the clever and tricky slashing of the strings in stoccato fashion was both interesting and musical. DeBeriot's Concerto was considerably the longest piece on the program and showed scope an breadth and passionate feeling. The first of the program closed with the Concerto.

After a short intermission, Mr. Medsker came back and with him came the pieces evidently most appreciated by him. He was certainly happiest in Dedia's Serenade and in Friml's Mazurka. These compositor's allowed Bohemian love for music pierce the dignified exterior and show itself in rythmical vibrations of the body. Throughout these two pieces the bright happy, pleasing movement fairly danced the glee of the interpreter. No small part of the success of the concert was due to the effective accompaniment of Miss Annie Daniels at the piano.

BRIDE WITH MRS SWAN.

Mrs. Irving Swan of North Fifth street was hostess on Friday morning to her bridge club, no extra table being added. Three played substitute hands, Mesdames Gus Pate, Connally Prendergast and Lee Durie. Mrs. Carl Lovelace took the prize, a white wicker jardineir embellished with pink roses. A salad course served after the games brought a very pleasant morning to a conclusion. The Club's next hostess is to be Mrs. Harry Hoke, at 9:30 o'clock Friday. The club has chosen Friday as the day of meeting from now on but the name has not yet been chosen.

PICNIC FRIDAY AT DRIPPING SPRINGS.

Members of the Wilson families and a few friends enjoyed a picnic outing at Dripping Springs Friday evening. Supper was spread and the usual outdoor games enjoyed by the following: The D. M. Wilson family, the J. B. Wilson family, Miss Deolice Hickman of Bryan, Mrs. Gilmore of Thomasville, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Curtis. The children of the party enjoyed the outing as much as the grown-ups.

WACO BOYS OFF TO SCHOOL.

Among the Waco boys who will go away to school this winter is Farrand Wilson valedictorian of the high school class of 1917. He goes to the University of Southern California, at Los Angeles. He leaves Sunday.

Monte Owen and Marion Smythe of the 1917 high school class will enter Baylor. Vandiver Brown, the salutatorian of the 1917 class, enters Rice Institute at Houston, as will Marion Douglas.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES FOR THE WEEK.

The Friday night outing which is the last for this season was held at Spring Lake. About seventy-five people went out to enjoy the swimming and the picnic supper. Mrs. Frank Wells, as chairman of the social committee, was in charge of the affair which was a great success. Two features which added greatly to the pleasure of the evening were the talks given by Miss Mildred Corbett and Miss Marguerite Williamson.

Miss Corbett is city secretary for the Y. W. C. A. work in the southwestern field, with headquarters at Dallas. Just at present she is also supervising war secretary for this field. It was in the interest of that department that she spoke Friday evening. She spoke to the women and girls of their responsibility at this critical time. As members of the Young Women's Christian Association there are many ways to show patriotism and loyalty. All women will have to work together to meet the challenge given by this great war.

Miss Corbett also spoke of her great joy in the growth of the Association here in Waco.

Miss Williamson, who comes from Denver to be our war work secretary for the Waco Association was then introduced. She expressed her pleasure at being sent to Waco, and asked the co-operation of all the girls and women in her work here.

Girls! Use Lemons! Make a Bleaching, Beautifying Cream

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is simply marvelous to smoothen rough red hands.—Adv.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Adv.

WEEK-END AT THE ROTAN COTTAGE.

The Rotan cottage on the Lake has been popular this summer, both with the owners and with week-end guests. A recent week-end party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Nev Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. George V. Rotan. The party remained from Friday through Sunday. Swimming was the principal attraction.

MISS ROBERTA ROGERS MARRIED IN WASHINGTON.

Miss Roberta Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Rogers of South Fifth street, was married yesterday in Washington, D. C., to Dr. Robert Alexander Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hale of this city. Dr. Hale is a lieutenant in the medical reserve corps and his duties were such that he could not leave Washington. Miss Rogers, accompanied by her mother and father, left for Washington this last week. The ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian church. The bride was at her prettiest in a navy blue tailored coatsuit, black hat and grey boots. The wedding was a very quiet one.

It is probable that the groom will see service in France at a not distant date, but the immediate plans of the young couple have not yet been announced.

Touchy Corns and New Shoes

The comfort of old shoes may now be had with new shoes. Blue-jay makes it possible. No need to wince from new shoes nor frown. No need to undergo a period of pain.

Before getting a new pair of shoes be corn-free by using Blue-jay, gentle and certain. Then, should a new corn come later, Blue-jay will bring instant relief.

Most families have a package of Blue-jay Plasters at home, always ready. Relief is always handy, and instant.

Paring never cures. Harsh liquids are harmful. Blue-jay removes the corns permanently, roots and all. The first application removes 91 per cent. More stubborn cases require a second or third treatment.

1845 BAYLOR UNIVERSITY 1917
AT WACO, TEXAS.

Students enter the college department with fourteen units. They are admitted without examination if they are graduates of Affiliated High Schools. The work offered is not shoddy, but meritorious, judged by any standard. Open to men and women. Its work leads to temporary and life certificates to teach in Texas public schools. Its literary and debating societies are fine. Its music organizations win praise. It offers science, classics, painting, drawing, expression, music, medicine and pharmacy.

COLLEGE OF INDUSTRIAL ARTS

THE STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN - - - DENTON, TEXAS

(1) Was established by an act of the Twenty-seventh legislature and first opened its doors for students September 23, 1903. It is frequentiy referred to as the most popular college or university in Texas; and it has enjoyed a most remarkable growth and development. During the regular session of 1916-17 it enrolled one thousand and seventy-five (1075) students and during the summer session five hundred and fifty (550) students, making a total of sixteen hundred and twenty-five (1625) girls of Texas who attended the college in one year; one hundred and eighty (180) counties of Texas were represented in the attendance. The college is rated by the State Board of Examiners of Texas as a college of the first rank.

(2) Offers a broad and thorough instruction and training in the following courses of study, by a faculty of seventy-five (75) members, educated in the best colleges and universities of America and Europe: (1) the household arts course; (2) the literary course; (3) the fine and applied arts course; (4) the rural arts course; (5) the manual arts course; (6) the homemakers course; (7) the commercial arts course; (8) the musical course, including piano, voice, violin and public school music; (9) the expression course; (10) vocational and practical courses in cookery, sewing, millinery and the crafts; (11) a kindergarten training school course. No better facilities and opportunities are provided in Texas for the training of teachers for the public schools, students in the college being able to earn teachers' State certificates without taking the State examinations; while the training in home economics for the home and for the position of teaching is unquestionably the best offered in the Southwest. Particular attention is directed to the fact that the college offers the best of training for supervisors and teachers of public school music, and for kindergarten teachers. The courses of study represent the best educational thought and practice of the country, and have been carefully worked out so as to include that content and method of education which contribute most to culture and efficiency.

The objects of the courses of study are to give an appreciation and training (1) for the duties and responsibilities of homelife in all of its aspects, and (2) for the vocations for which women are especially adapted. In keeping with the recognized standards of modern education, the elective system is recognized in several courses of study and a student may attend the college one year, two years, three or four years, and at the end of the year receive a certificate of proficiency, a teachers' State certificate, a diploma of graduation, or the bachelor's degree.

(3) Has provided wholesome, safe living accommodations in six large modern dormitories, with a trained dietitian and lady members of the faculty in charge; and in refined private homes, near the campus and convenient to the college buildings, where the same safeguards and standards of living obtain as in the dormitories. The college believes that good health and sound bodies are fundamental to the happiness and usefulness of women. The object of the college is to conserve the life forces and the life materials of the home and its environment. The home is the most important institution in our civilization, and that college whose work tends to build up, dignify, protect and preserve the home is rendering service entirely worth while. In order to safeguard the health of the students and to develop in them physical soundness and vigor, a resident woman college physician looks after their health, and systematic, properly organized physical training is given by two instructors in physical education. Girls who attend the college, as a rule improve in physical health while acquiring the culture and the efficiency which enable them to meet the duties and the responsibilities of life in a successful way. The college has sent from its portals more than twelve hundred (1200) young women bearing certificates of proficiency, diplomas of graduation and degrees.

(4) Provides for attractive, durable uniform dress, in good style, for all students under 30 years of age, thereby promoting economy, preventing snobbishness and developing a broadminded, generous democratic spirit. At the graduation exercises this year each one of the two hundred (200) graduates wore a dress made by herself, and which cost only from four dollars and fifty cents ($4.50) to five dollars ($5.00). This was in striking contrast with the practice of some of the other colleges and universities in the State.

(5) Has provided education and training for the girls of Texas at the least possible cost consistent with the high quality of service rendered. The average expense of a girl who attends the college for a session of nine months, including traveling expenses, all college fees, room, board, uniform clothing, books, laundering, supplies and incidentals, varies from two hundred and seventy-five dollars ($275) to three hundred and twenty-five dollars ($325). Many students are able to attend the college for less than the lowest figure mentioned. Eight girls, chosen at random from the different classes this year, submitted itemized statements of their expenses for the session of nine months. The lowest was two hundred and nineteen dollars and forty-five cents ($219.45); the highest was three hundred and nineteen dollars and forty-five cents ($319.45), and the average was two hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seventy-eight cents ($267.78). More than three hundred girls this year earned, in part, their expenses by rendering service of various kinds at the college. Many girls spend more money at home in nine months than it would cost them to attend the College of Industrial Arts for the same length of time.

(6) Has its instructional and residential buildings located well apart and on a high hill near the center of the seventy-five acre campus, the most healthful and beautiful location of any college or university in the State.

The present war crisis has forced the American people to give thoughtful consideration to the importance and necessity of the very kind of education and training offered by this college. The next regular session of the college will open Tuesday, September 18, 1917.

PEARSON-WUSTENBECKER MARRIAGE FRIDAY.

A few intimate friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pearson, 1208 North Fifteenth street on Friday morning at eleven o'clock to witness the marriage of their daughter Frankie to Mr. Gustavus Wustenbecker. The Rev. J. P. Harrington officiated.

Mr. L. C. Harlowe rendered "At Dawning," very beautifully, with Miss Callye Pearson accompanying.

After hearty congratulations, Mr and Mrs. Wustenbecker, left immediately for Houston.

The bride was most charming in her suit of navy blue taffeta with white accessories.

She has a host of friends who wish her much happiness.

Mr. Wustenbecker is a promising young business man being connected with Wilson Bros., cotton exporters.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF D. A. R. KNITTING CLASS TUESDAY.

The Daughters of the American Revolution are busily engaged at present in knitting for the sailors. There is a great demand for mufflers, wristlets, and sweaters. The knitting class will meet Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the residence of Miss Decca Lamar West. The D. A. R.'s have no part in any controversy that may arise. They are pledged to knit for the sailors and will see that their garments reach their destination, through any source designated by the navy.

The Henry Downs chapter, of which Mrs. Quitman Finley is regent, wrote a letter to regents in Michigan and Wisconsin. One letter was to Mrs. John T. Humes, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and the other to Mrs. Clara Hadley Wait, state regent of Michigan's D. A. R.'s. The letter written by the Henry Downs chapter was a sincere welcome to the boys of Michigan and Wisconsin, and a pledge of service. The replies showed a keen appreciation of the spirit which prompted them.

THE CASINO ROOF GARDEN POPULAR.

The Casino roof garden is more popular than ever since the arrival of the soldiers from Michigan and Wisconsin. The boys are naturally lonesome so far away from home and being made welcome at the Casino roof garden dances is an oasis in the social desert for them. They are the National Guard boys, just out of the best homes in Michigan and Wisconsin and as such the girls of Waco need have no fear in being introduced to them at these dances, which are being given every night except Sunday. Nearly one hundred couples attend nightly, but the number of boys far exceeds the number of young women.

MARLIN WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE.

Special to the News.

Marlin, Aug. 25.—A marriage that came as a very pleasant surprise to almost every one in Marlin was solemnized Wednesday morning, August 22, at 11:30 o'clock, when Miss Ida De Bardeleben became the wife of Mr. E. F. Smith at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Linthicum. Rev. Andrews of Hillsboro performed the ceremony which made this couple one for weal or woe.

Mrs. Linthicum's home was most inviting in its holiday dress of cut flowers which were everywhere in evidence through the reception suite and dining room. The bride, who is the only daughter of Mr. J. B. De Bardeleben and niece of Mrs. B. J. Linthicum, has been reared in Marlin and is deservedly very popular with everyone who knows her. She wore a traveling suit of taup liberty satin with a touch of blue, hat and boots en suite. Immediately after the ceremony a salad course was served. It was a very quiet wedding with no one present except the immediate family and Mrs. J. B. Smith of North Eighteenth street in Waco and Miss Fay Eason of Mart.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left at 12:30 for a few days in San Antonio, after which time they will be at home in Marlin, where the groom is the agent for the express company.

COMFORTS FOR THE SAILORS THROUGH THE NAVY LEAGUE.

Washington D. C., August 25.—The Comforts committee of the Navy League of the United States was organized to supplement the standard outfits of the Sailor and Marine with knitted woolen garments.

Primarily, these garments were designed to keep warm the bodies of those exposed to the rigors of even summer nights at sea, but they had a far deeper significance in that they kept warm the recollections of home, of mother and of sister, of sweethearts and wives, for each garment was fashioned by loving hands whose loved ones were braving the dangers of the deep and the chances of battle in sustaining their country's answer to the challenge of savage despotism. With each garment went that beautiful appeal to the God of the boundless wave "For those in peril on the sea."

It is proposed to further supplement the comfort of the sailor and marine by adding to his material as well as bodily comfort, and to this end the assistance of your community is solicited in the gathering of clippings from newspapers, magazines, illustrated periodicals, in fact, anything that will interest and entertain our officers, sailors and marines when not at the gun or torpedo. A few minutes a day with scissors and the morning papers (especially Sunday papers) will make this scheme one of the greatest of the many relief projects that the war has engendered.

The navy league will furnish the envelopes in which to place the clippings and while individual efforts are encouraged, it is recommended that clubs be formed and the daily clippings collected by some one member and forwarded once a week to the Comforts committee of the Nacy League, where they will be properly distributed proportionately to every ship in the navy and company of marines. Especial care will be taken of envelopes addressed to individual officers or men, to see that they are sent to their proper destination. This can only be done by those acquainted with the whereabouts of men and ships—information not given to the public but within the knowledge of the Navy League.

It is recommended that stories from magazines be separated from the main body which contains so much superflous weight in the way of advertising matter, the edges stitched and possibly bound with brown paper to further protect it. A man can easily thrust such a booklet in his jumper, when suddenly called to quarters, when the more bulky magazine would have been thrown aside.

Articles on the current topics of the day, political, religious, scientific, sports, comic, and pictures should make up the contribution. It is presumed that the censorship which editors of papers will have over their columns, will make it unnecessary to hesitate about cutting out anything that may be thought interesting but it is suggested that the "lighter vein" be sought rather than the serious. The magazine articles referred to in the preceding paragraph are most desired. No magazine or periodical is too old from which to tear a story. The stories from Fashion jaurnals and periodicals of that nature, are especially interesting.

Full information will be given should such be desired, and envelopes will ben sent by addressing Comforts Committee of the Navy League, 1414, H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.,

INTERESTING DRAMA AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

"Woman of Her Own, False Gods and the Red Robes," by Eugene Brieux. In the first of these three plays, "Woman of Her Own," the economic independence of woman is the theme. "False Gods" treats of a modern religious problem. And "The Red Robe" is concerned with legal procedure.

"Three Plays," by Padraic Colum. The three plays are "The Fiddler's House," "The Land," and "Thomas Muskerry." In two of them the theme is the land, and the instinctive Irish love for the soil is shown in conflict with other more individualistic desires. The third play, "Thomas Muskerry," is the tragedy of an old man who longed to get away from his nagging family to a place of peace and quiet.

"Michael and His Lost Angel," by Henry Arthur Jones. A play in five acts. A reprint of one of the most popular of the author's plays.

Three Welsh plays, by Jeanette Marks. Contents: "The Merry, Merry Cuckoo," "The Deacon's Hat," and "Welsh Honeymoon." Each of the three plays is tinged with the Welsh humor.

Plays by John Masefield. The three volumes contain "The Locked Chest," "The Sweeps of Ninety-eight," "The Tragedy of Nan," and "The Tragedy of Pompey the Great."

Representative English plays from the Middle Ages to the end of the Nineteenth Century, by J. S. Tatlock. An excellent collection which includes representative plays from The Middle Ages, The Elizabethan Period, The Restoration, The Eighteenth Century and the Nineteenth Century.

Plays and players, by Walter Prichard Eaton. Sub-title, "Leaves From a Critic's Scrapbook." An interesting collection of reviews almost all of which have appeared in newspapers or magazines and are concerned with most of the popular plays that have been staged within the past six years.

The contemporary drama of England, by T. H. Dickinson. Beginning with a chapter on the early Victorian theatre the author covers the field of English drama up to the present time. This book will be useful to study clubs as will the book noted below.

"The Contemporary Drama of Ireland," by Ernest A. Boyd. In this volume the dramatic movement in Ireland is shown to be related not only to the literary revival but also to the general revival of interest in the theatre which has stirred the later Nineteenth Century.

"The Drama Today," by Charlton Andrews. A clear and concise statement of the status and trend of the modern drama in America, England and on the continent, giving information on leading playwrights and the general tendencies of their work.

"The Theatre of Today," by H. K. Moderwell. Extremely interesting book on the theatre of the last ten years, considers both European and American contributions, showing the superiority of the European.

How to Lose Your Tan Freckles or Wrinkles

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a lake trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

Wrinkles, so apt to form at this season, may be easily and quickly removed by bathing the face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 ounce dissolved in witch hazel ½ pint. This is not only a valuable astringent, but has a beneficial tonic effect also.—Adv.

1917 Theatrical Season Makes Its Debut in Waco This Week

At the Auditorium.

Albert Taylor, who will appear at the Auditorium theatre beginning Monday, August 27, in "The Man From Home."

"THE LAW OF COMPENSATION," AT HIPPODROME.

"The Law of Compensation" will be the feature of the Hippodrome today and tomorrow.

"The Law of Compensation" is divided into three intensely interesting phases of the life of an American woman. In the first Miss Talmadge is seen as a happy young girl, first in a boarding school, and then as the only child of a wealthy and devoted father. Her mother she cannot remember. The next phase is the young married woman, in which Miss Talmadge portrays a distinct development of character as a young wife and mother, to whom comes the frequently encountered spirit of restlessness which often brings domestic tragedies to women who feel that their outlook upon life is too cramped.

Then comes the third, and most powerful episode. This is introduced in the form of a story told to the young woman by her father, who fears she is about to take a foolish step. He tells her the story of her mother, and in this Miss Talmadge plays the part of the mature woman, whose unhappy history was in grave danger of repeating in her own life. Thus the popular young star is given an opportunity of depicting carefree youth, and the romance of young womanhood and the tragedy of an unfortunate, older woman.

"BROADWAY JONES" AT HIPPODROME.

Murray's Roman Gardens, New York's Forty-Second street's most popular restaurant, makes its screen debut in the feature film "Broadway Jones," which stars George M. Cohan and shows at the Hippodrome Tuesday only, in which Mr. Cohen starred on the stage a few years ago, called for an important restaurant scene that must be elaborate and the real thing. These scenes were made at Murrays, and several hundred feet of film show the gay place in working order with actors and actresses and some few patrons taking the places of the diners and dancers. The dancers, headed by Miss Peggy Rafferty, go through their usual numbers. It is estimated that within the next few months more than 5,000,000 movie fans will be introduced at Murray's as a result of this publicity. But many more than that will view the famous restaurant in this film, and the man from Jonesville, Ohio, will be as familiar with the inside working order of it as will the man from Manhattan.

Cohan dominates the action of the play throughout, and proves his own happy, energetic, optimistic, likeable self that he is on the stage. Marguerite Snow is the leading lady and Krauffert Kent and Russell Bassett handle important roles in a most excellent manner. Another player whose name is not mentioned in the cast makes a splendid impression. This is the valet, Rakin, and he deserges to be mentioned.

HIPPODROME PROGRAM.

Sunday and Monday—"The Law of Compensation," a Selznick special starring Norma Talmadge. Comedy, "Soul Mates," and Pathe News.

Tuesday—"Broadway Jones," clever 7-reel Artcraft comedy drama introducing George Cohan to the screen. Also War News.

Wednesday and Thursday—"Miss Robinson Crusoe," five-reel Metro comedy drama with Louise Glaum. War News and Bray Pictograph.

Friday—"A Strange Transgressor," five-reel Triangle drama with Louise Glaum. Also Pathe News and good comedy.

Saturday—"The Law of the Land," five-reel Metro drama with Olga Petrova. Also Pathe News.

BESSIE DAINTY COMING TO ORPHEUM.

Miss Besse Dainty will open at the Orpheum Monday night and play for three solid weeks, changing the play twice each week. At the end of the third week Pantages vaudeville will be seen at the Orpheum for three days only and the last three days of the week Miss Dainty and players will hold the boards. This is going to make a fine program this winter, half week of vaudeville and half week of stock.

Miss Dainty will have some of the old people with her but most of them will be new to Waco. All this summer Miss Dainty has been playing Cycle park in Dallas and won a great many friends there who will hate to see her leave as it was hoped she would take a theatre down town for the winter.

Scarcely a child in Waco does not know little Miss Dainty and her little pony "Dandy" who is still with the company and will be seen about Waco streets once again. When asked what she thought of coming back to Waco, Miss aDinty said:

"It will seem like home to go back to Waco."

The plays that are to be presented this season comprise some of the very latest New York successes. Seats for this attraction may be had in advance as the entire house will be reserved.

TAYLOR STOCK CO. AT AUDITORIUM

Albert Taylor stock company in a series of complete scenic productions, will open at the Auditorium tomorrow night. Mr. Taylor has just concluded a phenomenal engagement in El Paso and there is no doubt but what he and his charming little leading lady, Miss Myrtle Hollinsworth will work their way into the hearts of Waco theatre goers.

The opening bill tomorrow evening will be "The Man From Home". Following that the company will put on all first class attractions, such as "Broadway Jones," "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "Stop Thief," "Kick In," etc.

Miss Oscar announces that on account of the enormous crowds last year a new entrance has been arranged in the Auditorium on Sixth Street which will be used for the lower floor.

At the Hippodrome.

DRIED DINNER IS SERVED BY MRS. LANSING

Special to the News.

Washington, Aug. 25.—A dinner of six courses practically every constituent of which—including a roast chicken—had been dried and then "brought back" by the addition of water was the novelty which Mrs. Robert Lansing, wife of the secretary of state, served other women of the cabinet and others high in official and social life at the national capital.

The first course was vegetable bouillon, composed of dried celery, parsley, tomatoes, peppers, onians, sweet potatoes, corn, carrots, bay and cabbage.

How She Did It.

Peppers may be hung up whole or split and then dried. Carrots are scraped or pared and cut into slices lengthwise. Onions are peeled and sliced. The cabbage is shredded or cut into strips except the loose outside leaves and the hard, woody core. Parsley leaves are removed from the roots and laid on trays in the sun or oven, sweet potatoes are boiled until nearly done and then run through a meat chopper. Celery is cut into strips.

The drying trays may be placed in the sun, in the kitchen oven or in the air blast from an electric fan. When it came time to make the soup, a small quantity of each was put in a bag, soaked in water 15 minutes, and flavored for the table. The crackers Mrs. Lansing served with it were wheatless.

Roast Chicken.

The second course was roast chicken with caromel sweet potatoes, corn balls and creamed dried cucumbers on toast.

The chicken was roasted, then dried, and "brought back" by steaming, as were the sweet potatoes and corn. The cucumbers were dried, uncooked, then soaked and cooked and served with lemon sauce and cornmeal and oatmeal muffins.

The third course was a mint ice from lemon and dried mint leaves and served with a spray of candied mint leaves. Mint leaves are spread for drying as parsley or spinach.

The fourth course was Neapolitan salad made from dried peas (run through a meat grinder before drying) dried lima beans (shelled, blanched by plunging into boiling water and then dried) and dried tomatoes with cream cheese filling. Wheatless crackers were served with the course.

Fruit Mousse.

The fifth course was a fruit mousse made of apple sauce and rhubarb, served with pound cake. The apple sauce was first made and then dried, and the rhubarb was cut into pieces and dried fresh. The pound cake was made of corn meal with one-third white flour.

The sixth course was fruit and vegetable candies.

The menu was arranged and the dried chicken prepared by Mrs. Bertha Grimes, cookery expert of the New York University Commons, who is lecturing in Washington.

The guests were Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy; Mrs. Wm. C. Redfield, wife of the secretary of commerce; Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house; Mrs. Atlee Pomerene, wife of the chief of staff of the army; Mrs. David Fairchild, wife of the foreign plant expert of the United States department of agriculture, and herself a daughter of Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone.

PROMPT ACTION NEEDED TO STOP LABOR STRIFE IN ENGLAND AT PRESENT

By the Associated Press.

London, Aug. 25.—Necessity of prompt frank dealing with grievances of working men if widespread unrest is to be allayed is emphasized by commissions appointed to investigate industrial unrest in Great Britain. The northwestern area commissioners declare that the government should undertake the full control of milk and all necessary foodstuffs, and of coal, and provide for delivery of goods.

Liquor restrictions are regarded as a "source of considerable loss of social temper."

The Yorkshire and Midland commissioners give instances of such disparity in wages and report that "unskilled workers in some factories earn $50 to $90 weekly and could earn more but are afraid to do so." The London report says there is a danger that unless the work people can be effectively represented in shop negotiations a large section of shop stewards will make common cause with the revolutionary group.

"The unrest is real, widespread and in some directions extreme," says the London commission. "We are at this moment within sight of a possible social upheaval, or at least extensive and manifold strikes. No tinkering will meet the requirements of the situation. It is necessary to secure the working man a fair share of the product of his labor and a just participation in the establishment of the conditions of the industry. The workmen consider they should be dealt with as men."

C. C. Shumway & Co. announce that during the absence of Mr. Chester Storey, the junior member of the firm, Mr. Buell Benham will have charge of the office and will extend the same courteous treatment to their friends as before.—Adv.

Women May Perform War Service by Knitting Garments for Soldiers

Nearly every woman in Waco who has any leisure time at all at her disposal, is in the throes of "knit one, purl one," in an effort to complete her gayest sport sweater of glaring yellow, green or purple, as the case may me.

Such over industry as is displayed by the giddy, flowered "knitting bags" that accompany we women these days, whether on a shopping tour or an afternoon knitting bee, will necessitate that our whole wardrobe be composed of sweaters, unless some other way is devised to keep our fingers busy.

The means is at hand in the call recently sent out by Red Cross headquarters for wristlets, sweaters, caps, helmets, mufflers, etc., for the use of soldiers and sailors in hard winter service. So many warm garments are needed that the services of every woman who knows how to knit are necessary to outfit them all.

Women who have no opportunity to go to Red Cross headquarters for the specifications of these unfamiliar garments, have kept nearly every chapter in the country busy with requests for information as to just what to do. Women who follow these directions will find their work acceptable to the army and navy.

JACKET

Material—Three hanks knitting worsted, fivefold, gray; one pair amber needles No. 5.

Eleven stitches equal two inches; 11 ridges equal two stitches.

Cast on 80 stitches. Knit two, purl two for four inches. Knit 10 inches plain. Knit 28 stitches. Bind off 24 stitches. Knit 28 stitches. On these knit five ridges or 10 rows. Pick up first 28 stitches and knit shoulder same as first. Cast on 24 stitches. Place all stitches on one needle. Knit. 19 inches even. Knit two, purl two, for four inches. Sew up seams, leaving nine inches for armhole.

WRISTLETS

Material — Half hank knitting worsted, gray one pair No 11 steel needles or No. 3 amber needles.

Nine stitches equal one inch; 10 rows equal one inch.

Cast on 52. Knit two, purl two, for 12 inches. Sew up, leaving slit for thumb two inches long, three inches from one end.

MUFFLER

Cast on 48 stitches. Knit two, purl two for 20 rows; then knit plain for 30 ribs, or 60 rows. Fold and slip stitch together sides and bottom.

Ridding Entire Railroad System of Mosquitoes and Malaria by Systematic Drainage of Pools and Water Courses

Scene along Cotton Belt railway near Waco, where many acres of malaria infested country are being transformed into healthfulness by experts employed exclusively by the railway company. This campaign will soon be extended to Waco and vicinity. As indicated by the illustration, special attention is being given to drainage conditions. Edwin Gould, chairman of the board of the Cotton Belt, has caused to be created a special fund to be used in improving health conditions along the railway.

What is said by the United States Public Health Service men to be the second largest health undertaking, second to that of cleaning up the Panama Canal Zone, is that now underway along nearly 2,000 miles of railroad track in five states, Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois, Louisiana and Texas.

Edwin Gould, chairman of the board of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway (Cotton Belt, displeased with the reports of health conditions on that railroad, caused to be created a special cash fund, involving many thousands of dollars, to be used exclusively for fighting out mosquitos and improving health conditions. Mr. Gould is taking a personal interest in the anti-malaria campaign, as are Dave M. Morris of New York and J. M. Herbert of St. Louis, Vice President of the railroad company.

U. S. Will Co-operate

A few days ago, after the cash appropriation became available for the health work, United States officials at Washington were asked to co-operate in the work. Almost immediately J. A. LePrince, one of the best known Government health experts of the Bureau, whose anti-malaria work in the Panama Canal Zone attracted widespread attention, and D. L. I. Williams, also of the Government Health Service, were on the scene in Arkansas and Texas and began the raid on mosquitos and ill health conditions. The government men have remained on the ground continuously, and have made excellent headway in lining up preliminary and systematic work.

Vice President Herbert has just announced the appointment of W. H. Van Hovenberg, a malaria expert who has had years of training in this work, to take up active work in conjunction with the Government men. Dr. Van Hovenberg will be a permanent working force with the railroad company to continue the health work. It is said that the Cotton Belt Railroad is the first transportation company to engage the services of a trained medical man to specialize on health work.

While the railroad company is engaged in providing better health conditions for the primary purpose of benefitting its employes—making it possible for them to stay out of the hospitals and to be 100 per cent efficient, if possible, the welfare of people residing along the railroad is also an an important factor in the Cotton Belt's health camapign.

Studying Mosquito Life

The study of mosquito life and malaria conditions is a most fascinating one, according to the experts who spend their time in this field. The illustrations stages of the anti-malaria work as it has progressed along the railroad right of way. One of the pictures show a force of men—all section hands, with their straw-boss, making a drain through a low field to permit polluted water to escape. The railroad has withdrawn from its regular forces a corps of men who work under the direction of the health experts.

Malaria, according to the health experts' is transmitted from the sick to the well by the bite of a mosquito, and in no other way. There are two kinds of mosquitos—culex and Anopheles. The first does not convey the disease. The female mosquito lays her eggs on the surface of the water. The eggs can not hatch anywhere else. The so-called "wiggle tail" is the first form of the mosquito, which shed their skin four times, curl up into a little comma shaped animal, then emerge an adult mosquito. This process—from the egg to the mosquito takes from ten days to twenty days, deepnding upon the temperature of the air.

Bite You at Sleep

Mr. LePrince says that mosquito bars over beds are unsafe—more than 95 per cent of people who use them are bitten while asleep. He declares that the cheap nets are generally not mosquito proof, as tests have shown that during the night most people who sleep under the bars touch the netting and are bitten by mosquitos which rest on the textile. Mr. LePrince continues:

"In malaria-ridden districts our farming population frequently buy so-called chill tonics, containing unknown amounts of quinine and as a result get only temporary relief in place of the cure they pay for. What is far worse such improper treatment of the disease aggravates the cause and the patient frequently becomes what doctors call chronic cases.

"You can not get a malaria mosquito to lay eggs unless she is given a drink of blood. She is a night biter, and so conveys malaria at night.

"Most farm houses that are screened are not properly screened—they are not mosquito proof, as there are many places for the dangerous pest to enter. Cracks in the floors, walls and roofs should be closed so as to leave no opening wider than one-sixteenth of an inch.

"Many plantation owners in the South are under the impression that negroes can not be taught to live in screened houses without abusing the screen. Yet in the rice producing regions of Arkansas I have seen many houses owned and used by negroes where the screening was perfect and included the screening of the balcony—all of galvanized iron of 16 mesh screen.

Carelessness a Fault

"Sometimes, due to accidents or carelessness, the malaria-mosquito gets into a screened house, but such may always be found early in the morning or late in the afternoon about get out, and are then easy to see and to destroy by using a fly-swatter. This mosquito is particularly greedy and drinks more blood than it can conveniently carry. In nearly all cases, after it becomes gorged it rests on the wall close to where it fed and remains in that place, preferably in the darker portion of the room until the blood meal is digested, from twelve to twenty-four hours.

Velvet to Be the Most Favored Material for Fall Fashion Wear

Mark! Mark! In war times dark
The fashions are coming to town
None in rags, none in tags,
But all in velvet gowns.

New York, Aug. 25.—In spite of committees and boards and common sense and patriotism and all that, fashions for fall don't seem to show much let up in their orgy of ornaments. Velvet, that fabric of the rich and rare and royal, is the favored material for suits, separate coats and wraps, evening gowns, afternoon toilettes and above everything hats, capping a velvety climax.

Already coming velvets cast their shadows above and many fashionable feather brains are broiling under August suns and hats of velvet. Black velvet tams, draped turbans of vivid cerise, emerald green or royal purple velvet, usually adorned with a silken tassel ,and large broad trimmed velvet shapes in black, wine or purple velvet are the most ubiquitous. Straws no longer show which way the fashionable whims go—it's the velvet lid that's on.

War Economy.

As for the gowns and suits and wraps of velvet the advance models now being shown certainly have much in the way of beauty to offer as an extenuation of their flying in the face of conservation and economy in war times. Dye shortage seems to have no power to dim their gorgeous hues, nor the divergence of facile fingers to knitting, bandage rolling, canning, gardening and munition making to have lessened the hand embroidery with which they are adorned.

Smart and cunning little trotteur suits have short box coats of velvets, preferably black, and short rather tight plain skirts either of the same or of check, striped or plaid serge. White satin waistcoats buttoned up high and mannishly complete a decidedly swagger outfit. Now that all our best boys are in khaki it adds a bit of relief to see our best girls in such erstwhile masculine toggery.

The wonderful and colorful velvet evening wraps of last season will again enswathe your shoulders this year, collared and suffed deep in fur and lined in exotically hued satins. Loose separate street coats with fur collars, cuffs and deep fur bands around their hems in the more sombre tones of gunmetal, black, tete de nigre, Russian green and navy will vie with the garments of all fur.

Even in negligee and tea gowns velvet will play its regal part and loose mantels of pastel tinted velvet over inner robes of flounced lace will brighten many a hearth and home. Long loose Turkish coats of velvets in Oriental colors, caught in with cords and tassels of silver or gold and worn with full Turkish trousers of black satin will keep many a tired business man at home nights.

Metallic Embroidery.

Gleams of metallic embroidery are again lightening up the sartorial outlook and metallic laces and materials of all sorts are to be used in conjunction with the velvets. Velvet suits and wraps are gay with metal embroidery, ornaments and buttons and the afternoon frocks show pockets, yokes and cuffs picked out with silver threads among the gold.

The more formal evening gowns have ankle length skirts of velvet with trains of the same. A small draping of velvet may be allowed up a short way on one side of the bodice but ordinarily the realm of the velvet seems to lie below the waist while the bodice or what is alleged to be a bodice, although there hardly seems enough of it to warrant a regular name, is of gold or silver lace or metallic net. Cascades of the wide metallic lace or flounces of it often form the ankle length skirt entirely so that only an overdrape and the inevitable train is of the lustrous velvet.

Metallurgic Band.

It is said that the manufacturers of metallic fabrics and ornaments have been forced to seek the scrap heaps of the munition plants for the bits of metal scraping and filings of the big shells for the wherewithall to supply the insatiable demands of Fashion. "There's more than one way of going to the front," philosophically cogitates a bit of brass filing that has come off of a shell en route to somewhere in France as it is picked up from the scrap heap and converted into part of a gold lace apron for the front of a debutante's dancing frock. It is hardly a comfortable thought though that sister particles of those gleaming in the meshes of golden lace that cover Beauty's satiny flesh at the ball may be gleaming in fragments of Bravery's tortured, torn and bloody flesh at the battle.

At any rate there is also a comforting thought as well which goes with this close metallurgic bond between munitions and fashions. The same stuff that shells and laces are made of will make both Beauty's and Bravelery's conquest complete and victorious.

BIG DEMAND FOR STUDEBAKER CARS

"The American public is gradually awakening to the fact that practically all materials entering into the construction of a motor car have been rapidly increasing in price,' says the F. L. Shaw company, Studebaker distributors for Waco and vicinity. "This fact has been brought very forcibly to the attention of the motor car buying public by the automobile manufacturers, who, in their newspaper ads for many weeks past, have announced an increase in their prices. Some of these makers have been forced to make a second increase since July 1st.

"A year ago Studebaker made huge purchases and placed long-term contracts for raw materials, making it possible to continue the present low prices while other manufacturers of cars in the Studebaker class advanced their prices. But at the same time we continually warned the public that the increasing cost of labor and materials might force Studebaker to raise their prices at any time without notice. In all sincerity, and without any effort to stampede people into buying our car, we persistently urged intending purchasers to buy their Studebaker at that particular time, and make sure of a substantial saving. Now the wisdom of our reasoning is being demonstrated daily here at our salesroom.

"Because the popular demand for Studebaker cars is rapidly exhausting the materials purchased at old prices, the factory recently made an announcement of an increase in the prices of all models, to take effect September 15. This definite announcement has been the cause of a big rush for Studebaker cars. Seems as though everyone in our territory wants to take advantage of the old prices now.

"Even at increased prices I'm perfectly satisfied that Studebaker cars will continue to be the greatest dollar-for-dollar values on the market. Ath the present prices they re unquestionably the best "buy" in all motordom. I doubt if buyers will ever have another opportunity to get such a powerful, durable, accessible, economical, comfortable car for so little money. And the fact that I am well-nigh swamped with orders from prospective purchasers who wish to take advantage of the present Studebaker prices, seems to prove that the majority are with me in this belief.

"Every one is after the best possible buy for the money and, if there's a chance to save a dollar, you can bank on the American public every time. The increased demand for Studebaker cars at the old price shows the shrewdness of the buying public—the well-to-do man takes advantage of the saving as well as the man of ordinary means.

"A great many purchasers of Studebaker cars now, and perhaps the major portion of them, are leaning toward the De Luxe models. Here the buyer has his choice of four distinctive colors, chrome green, battleship gray, purple lake and autoblue, and finished in any one of these colors a Studebaker takes its place on the road with the most exclusive motor car made. Demand for individuality prompted Studebaker to offer the De Luxe models, and I am told that they are creating no end of favorable comment all over the country."

PRODIGAL CAR IS WELCOMED HOME

Out in the little town of Plainville Kansas, last week there was a "homecoming" that was quite out of the ordinary. Differing from the regulation events of this kind, the main interest centered not in the return of former inhabitants, but in the return of a motor car—a car which had made for itself a world's record and had brought fame to the town.

The car in question was no other than the "Hyatt Roller," the world's long-distance car which left Detroit early in June for a 15,000 mile tour twice across the continent. It first became famous back in 1915 out in its home town of Plainville when it won first prize in the contest conducted by the Hyatt Roller Bearing Company by proving that it had traveled a distance of more than ten times around the world on a single set of Hyatt bearings. It was eminently fitting and proper, therefore, that on its westward tour it should visit the birthplace of its fame.

The reception which Plainville accorded this veteran traveler rivaled even that of the returning prodigal. Escorted for sixty-eight miles by a cordon of seventeen motor cars, it was greeted on its arrival at Plainville by cheering crowds. Practically every inhabitant of the town was out on the main street of the little town to see the big parade and assist in the noise-making. Flags were waving, horns blowing and band playing, much the same as if a circus had some to town.

The car's total mileage as far as Plainville was 265,329 miles. This record is being increased daily as the car continues on its way to the coast. The present transcontinental tour is being conducted by the Hyatt Roller Bearing Company as a test of the wearing qualities of Hyatt bearings in automobiles. The original set of Hyatt bearings, installed at the Buick factory at the time the car was built, eight years ago, is still doing duty in the "Hyatt Roller" as it wends its way westward over rocky roads, desert sands and mountain trails to the Pacific.

TO INCREASE PRICE OF PEERLESS 8 CAR

W. A. Woods, vice president of the Van Cortlanda Vehicle Corporation, metropolitan distributors for Peerless "8" cylinder cars, says:

"Advanced costs of materials and labor dictate a price increase on the Peerless 8-cylinder car, as the current price cannot be maintained in the face of greatly advanced cost of materials and labor. These costs have been steadily and relentlessly advancing. Since July 1, our cost of tire equipment alone has advanced $49.64 per car, and the new price may be subject to a further increase October 1.

"Many material makers are refusing to accept cotracts at fixed prices covering any considerable period. Because of these conditions it will be necessary for the Peerless Motor Car Company to make a very substantial increase in the price of the present Peerless 8-cylinder at an early date.

"This advance has not yet been announced and until it is, we are, of course, taking orders for immediate delivery at the present price of $2,090. The increase may be as much as $300.

DORT EXPECTS GOOD YEAR

The splendid report of the Dort Motor Car Company regarding the condition of the automobile market is strengthened by optimistic forecasts from most of the other manufacturers of popular priced cars.

Despite many predictions to the contrary, the year 1917 will be a highly satisfactory one to the motor car industry and particularly for cars selling at less than $1,000.

SAXON STARTS HARVEST DRIVE

Turning the farmers harvest season into a harvest season for the motor car dealer is the novel idea which the Saxon Motor Car corporation has started and which is now being carried out in all parts of the country by Saxon dealers with splendid results.

Under the title of the Saxon harvest campaign, the parent organization has given its dealers the material with which to conduct a special sales campaign in the season which heretofore has been a quiet time for retail motor car sales. Early reports from the dealers indicate that in previous years the motor car industry generally has ignored a big selling time by taking it for granted that August was a quiet month in all kinds of business.

Practically every Saxon dealer and distributor in the country is a participant in the harvest campaign. There have been sales meetings in several sections of the country at which distributors and dealers have arranged for special sales efforts in their territory. Special newspaper advertising to aid in the campaign is now being used and a large number of dealers have introduced other novelties to carry out the idea of a harvest in automobile sales.

Window displays of various kinds are being used to carry out the spirit of the idea and a surprising number of clever ideas have been carried out by the Saxon dealers. The ripened grain and other farm products have been utilized in making some most attractive windows.

Other dealers have put on contests among their salesmen which are exciting a big local interest in their territories and which have resulted in a number of sales right at the start of the campaign.

The Saxon Motor Car corporation in starting the campaign has issued a special publication, called the "Saxon Harvest Campaign Bulletin" to help the dealers in their sales plans and is sending them out from day to day. The whole spirit of the harvest campaign is based on a belief that the farmers harvest season is naturally the harvest season for every business because of the fundamental connection between the products of the soil and all other lines of business.

Its results already are being shown in the increase in orders which have been received at the factory and which are resulting in a correspondingly increase in shipments.

J. N. WILLYS GETS TITLE.

Upon John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland, Inc., of Toledo, Ohio, has been conferred the unusual distinction of "Purveyor to His Majesty, King of Spain." This is said to be the first time in the history of the automobile industry that an American automobile maker has been made purveyor to a European monarch.

About a year and a half ago King Alfonso III purchased a Willys-Knight touring car. So well pleased was he with this car that later in the year he ordered six Willys-Knight touring and limousine models. The unique title is the result of the satisfactory service these cars have rendered.

OVERLAND CAR IS USED FOR RECRUITING

When it came to the attention of Willys-Overland, Inc., of Denver that recruiting officers of the Colorado National Guard were experiencing great difficulty in getting the cowpunchers in from the outlying districts, where they were watching their stock, that concern decided to make it possible for the recruiting officers to go to see the cowpunchers.

Accordingly, an Overland 85-4 was turned over to John H. Gallup, First Lieutenant and Adjutant Third Squadron Cavalry, Colorado National Guard and he set out to get the men. The result was even better than anticipated. In his report, Lieutenant Gallup stated: "We enlisted thirty-two splendid men, practically all of whom were riding cowpunchers."

In submitting his report, Lieutenant Gallup did not hesitate to pay tribute to the Overland car.

"We had to go places that were all but impossible for an automobile to reach," he wrote, "in order to get in touch with these men. At times we wet through sand that was up to the hubs of the wheels, while at others we went straight across the roughest kind of prarie. At all times we found the goods' and it was chiefly due to this fact that we succeeded as we did."

OVERLAND PLANT IDEAL

In order that employees of the Willys-Overland Company might work under most satisfactory conditions, considerable attention has been devoted to the proper lighting and ventilation. In this big Toledo factory there are fourteen acres of window glass, giving a maximum of daylight for the workman.

At night the illumination is furnished by 54,000 electric lamps. Four hundred and ten thousand cubic feet of fresh air are generated every minute at this big factory by three huge air compressors.

There Are Twenty Obvious Reasons Why Your Automobile Should Be a Buick

These reasons are given below in the list of improvements in the 1918 models. There are many other reasons—just as important—which any owner can tell you about.

The wonderful valve-in-head motor of the Buick gives the Buick driver a reserve of Power and Speed which he can call on in time of need. It adds much to an owner's confidence.

Buick Model E-Six-49

Improvements in Model E 6-44 and 45.

1—Wheel base has been lengthened 3 inches, making 118-inch wheel base instead of 115-inch.
2—An entire new 60-horsepower power plant, identical with that used in Model E 6-49, has been adopted for these models.
3—The above includes the use of dry plate multiple disc clutch.
4—The enclosed universal joint and sperical ball drive has also been adopted with the new power plant.
5—The new power plant will also give a lower gear ratio on second speed to facilitate hill climbing.
6—With the new power plant goes new style control and brake levers, similar to those used on the No. 6-49.
7—The ball bearing distributor has been adopted on the Delco generator.
8—The radiator and hood has been raised, giving a longer, straighter line to the design.
9—Timken roller bearings are used in front wheels instead of balls.
10—The front section has been increased in depth and strength to accommodate new wheel base.
11—A hole has been added in side apron to facilitate removal of bolts.
12—A hole has been added in drip apron to facilitate draining of crank case.
13—Larger, more roomy bodies have been provided for the lengthened wheel base; the model E 6-44 body being 3 1-2 inches wider than last year.
14—Plaited, buttonless upholstery used on all cushions.
15—Sloping windshield has been adopted.
16—New style top with detachable gypsy curtain and improved side curtains have been adopted.
17—Hand pads have been added to all doors.
18—Trim rails have been removed and body panels finished with flush edge.
19—Perlman demountable rims have been adopted as regular equipment.
20—A new style speedometer, similar to the one used on the E-49, has been installed.

Improvements in Model E 4-34-5.

1—Gear type oil circulating pump has been adopted to replace plunging pump used last year.
2—Oil sight feed installed on instrument board
3—Storage battery charge and discharge indicator has been installed on instrument board.
4—Accelerator pedal of improved type added.
5—New valve lifters with dust guards to prevent rapid wear.
6—New style universal joint made of high grade alloy steel and without separate bushings.
7—Hole added in transmission case flange to facilitate removal of starter sliding gear shift.
8—Control lever has been lengthened.
9—Rear springs have been lengthened 4 inches to give easier riding.
10—Instrument board has been narrowed to improve appearance.
11—Trim rails have been added all around body.
12—Seats have been lowered and height of seat backs has been increased to give lower and more comfortable riding positions.
13—Seat cushions and back curtains are of new plaited type; buttonless upholstery.
14—Floor boards have been covered with linoleum instead of rubber mat.
15—Crown fenders have been added all around.
16—New type slanting windsnield has been installed.
17—Mohair top of new design replaces the Raintight fabric.
18—Curtains have been improved and larger lights added.
19—Perlman demountable rims have been adopted as regular equipment.
20—More attention has been paid to detail and finish on the entire job.

The New "490" Chevrolet
Is Cheaper' Per Pound, Than Butter!
SOME OF OUR SLIGHTLY USED CARS COST ONLY ONE TENTH AS MUCH!

—The price of the best grade butter is 45c per pound—in some places more than that—while the cost of the "490" Chevrolet is less than 42c per pound.

—Yet even such a price comparison is far from fair—to the automobile. Neither Chevrolet nor butter is essential to life—yet if either is to be classed as a luxury, butter must be chosen. The ownership of a "490" is beneficial to health, to happiness and to efficiency. It saves time—your most valuable asset—and pays for itself in this saving.

INCREASED CARS BOOSTED TIRES

When motor cars were rare tire mileage costs made little difference. But now, when men are buying cars as they would a suit of clothes or a pair of shoes—when our annual car bill is more than a billion dollars, and for tires about one-third of a billion—tire economy is a matter of great concern.

About 4,000,000 cars are now registered in this country, wearing 16,000,000 tires. Adding only one mile for each tire, to the enormous mileage piled up each day by these cars, would save a handsome fortune for the motorists of the country.

Mr. H. G. Palmer, manager, automobile tire department, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., in commenting on the various kinds of abuse innocently inflicted upon motor tires, preventing them from attaining their allotted three score and ten, declares that much of this mileage is lost through the fabric breaks caused by hitting stones imbedded in the road.

"So many people are now buying cars who know comparatively little about cars or tires, that it is not surprising that merciless abuse is heaped upon them," he says. "Hardly one motorist in a hundred appreciates the terrific strain placed on tires when traveling at high speed over ordinary roads. Your tires may withstand a shock equal to ten tons weight while running at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour over country roads, and a little later you have a blowout while running over a perfectly smooth street. Something had happened. What was it?

"This is what happened. The terrific impact of the tire and the stone imbedded in the road did not visibly affect the exterior of the tire. Had you looked it over you could not have found a mark. But on the inside of the tire a break in the tube fabric was started when the blow strained it beyond its limits of stretching strength. Perhaps only one layer of fabric was injured. The other layers soon followed suit and the blowout resulted.

"It is common practice for car owners to bump front wheels against the curbstone when parking their cars, especially if the breaks do not hold properly. Many drivers make no pretense of slowing up for street car tracks or bridge approaches. There is much fraternizing with ruts and stones in the road. All of these make for fabric breaks which rob the tire of many miles that were built into it at the factory. With these points in mind it should be easier for drivers to obviate the losses that come from breaks in the tire fabric." kort% ob-wIETAOINUNUN UN N NNU

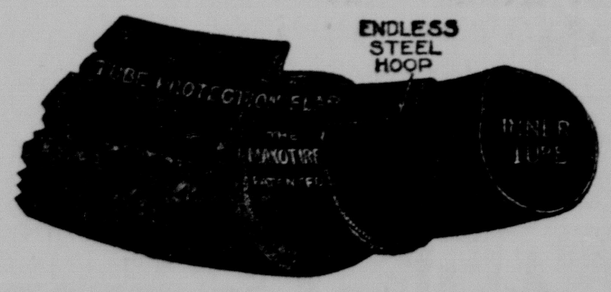
Make Old Tires Wear Like New Maxotires Fit Any Size Tire & Solve Tire Troubles

CUT TIRE EXPENSES IN HALF

With Maxotires Your Worn Tire Will Give You 3,000 or More Extra Miles. It is a Tightly Closed, Endless Tube Protection Cover.

Maxotire Completely Encircles the Tube.



Maxotires Free You From Tire Tube Trouble

No More Blowouts — No More Punctures

Maxotires work the same as a new casing would in the tire, without the defects. The carcass is composed of layers of tire fabric, while the tread is make of very tough wear resisting rubber.

NOT A "RELINER"

The Maxotire overcomes the faults of inner shoes or reliners, which "pull up" at the side. Maxotires are made like straight side tires with a tough steel, endless hoop laid inside of it. This side cannot pull up or blow out under any circumstances.

THE MAXOTIRE

—Completely encircles the tube.
—Prevents blowouts on edges as well as treads.
—Is easily inserted—no splice to adjust.
—Acts as cushion between tube and tread.
—Takes up but little air space.
—Are endless, pliable, have only one tire flap and are especially useful in rim-cut tires.
—Will not creep or slip.
—Do not require smaller inner tube, though one can be used.

MAXWELL WINS RUN STAGED IN SPAIN

Not content with holding all worth while inter city road records in North America a five passenger Maxwell touring car has captured the "Circuit of Cataluna," run in Spain in competition with thirty cars of American and European makes.

The Spanish inter-city race was from Barcelona to aragassa, then to Bilbao, to San Sebastian, Huesca and return to Barelona.

The distance is a little more than 600 miles.

Road conditions in places made it hard for the cars to make good time. So admirable was the Maxwell performance in the grinding road test that it came through without a breakdown of any kind.

Pitted against the sturdy Maxwell were thirty cars. Among the cars in the contest were the Spanish makes Elizalde, Hispano-Suiza, and Espana, the Italian makes Fiat, Lancia, S. P. A. Francesa, and Dion-Bouton, and the American cars were King, Mitchell, Buick, Singer, Stutz, and Scripps-Booth.

True to its traditions the Maxwell got over the course without trouble and won the gold medal. The car was driven by F. de A. Puig, the Maxwell dealer at Barcelona.

The run was conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Cataluna. A regular stock car was used.

Only the one Maxwell car was entered in the race. Many of the other entrants had as many as four.

SOUTHWEST FOR HIGH GRADE CAR

The West and Southwest is evidently eagerly looking for a high grade thousand dollar automobile, which will bear a name plate that is known and believed in. Two weeks ago the Moon Motor Car Co. of St. Louis announced that by September 15 it would be ready to deliver its thousand dollar Moon Lightweight Six cylinder car. Up to Friday more than 200 letters had been received by the company from dealers throughout Missouri Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas, Mississippi and Louisian, asking for fullest possible particulars, and requesting that they be enrolled as agents for the thousand dollar car.

Specifications are being sent to these dealers by the Moon company and it is the belief of Stewart McDonald, vice-president and general manager of the Moon company that the entire out-put for the first year, of 5,000 cars will be contracted for before production is well under way. Large quantities of additional machinery for the manufacture of these cars is now being installed in the Moon plant in St. Louis.

ELIMINATE WASTE IS GOOD WAR CRY FOR NATION'S AUTOISTS

OLDSMOBILE DEALER POINTS WAY FOR MOTOR ECONOMY NOT REDUCING MILEAGE.

"The food experts tell us that America wastes billions of dollars worth of food annually and I reckon they're right about it," said Mr. Ward of the Wards & Phillips & company, local dealers in Oldsmobiles, in an interview yesterday. "I draw this comparison from the totally unnecessary wastes I see among motorists wherever I go.

"By the exercise of ordinary carefulness almost every automobile owner can cut down his bills without reducing mileage. The automobile industry has built up a closely knit organization for service helps. Every crossroads has its service station, where for little or nothing any motorist may obtain inspections that will save him gasoline, tires, repairs, and numerous other expenses. Every motorist should avail himself of this service, and at the same time should thoroughly inform himself about his car and the proper manner in which it should be handled.

"Wherever I go I find motorists who are blissfully getting ten and twelve miles to the gallon where a few simple adjustments will enable them to get fourteen, fifteen, and even more. A properly inflated tire is the exception rather than the rule. A soft tire will soon be damaged by the rim. On every hand I see automobiles that need only slight attention from a competent man to give them a greatly added efficiency.

"Carburetors should be watched carefully and always be kept in adjustment. Brakes should never be permitted to drag. Modern ignition systems give unfaltering service with a little attention from time to time. Water circulating systems are nearly fool-proof, but air locks and other difficulties are bound to arise if the water in the radiator is allowed to get too low. It is much cheaper to keep valves tightly seated than it is to let them go without grinding. Batteries should be tested at least once a month. Air is free, and there is no good reason why tires should not be kept up to the right pressure.

"I do not advise owners to tinker, but I do advise them, most emphatically, to watch out for the little things and to keep up an acquaintance with their dealers, tire men, and battery stations. Millions of dollars of waste would be eliminated every year by the nation's three million car owners if all would take the simple, common-sense precautions; such as Mr. Hoover is preaching at the housewives of the country."

MAXWELL SHATTERS THIRD ROAD RECORD

By breaking the Montreal-Quebec road record a Maxwell car driven by Ray McNamara, road engineer of the Maxwell Motor Company, Inc., of Detroit, has established within two weeks three of the most important road records for the Dominion of Canada.

Making the run between Montreal and Quebec in four hours and one minute the Maxwell shattered all previous automobile records, and also beat the fastest express trains by fifty-nine minutes.

The record breaking records are:

Windsor to Toronto—6 hours and 50 minutes.

Toronto to Montreal—11 hours.

Montreal to Quebec—4 hours and one minute.

The Windsor-Toronto run covered 275 miles. Between Toronto and Montreal the car went 360 miles and the distance from Montreal to Quebec is 180 miles.

The average speed of the Maxwell on the last inter-city run was 45 miles an hour.

The road while winding and dotted with dangerous curves has a magnificent surface that would be perfectly safe for touring in a rain storm," declared McNamara, who stated that the Montreal-Quebec highway was by far the best in the dominion.

Observers in the car during the Montreal-Quebec run were Neil McNeil of the Montreal Gazette, Mr. Chandler of the Montreal Herald, and Mr. Bryan who is connected with an automobile accessories house. The observers made affidavit to the time in which the Maxwell covered the run.

AMERICAN CO. OPTIMISTIC

Manager D. H. Rubsam of the American Motor Co., is in nowise discouraged by reason of the unusually short cotton crop which is promised for this section, though fully realizing that the crop is not coming up to past years. He said:

"Our territory as a whole is furnishing very good reports, though of course not what we would have heard with a good season. Indications are that the territory is bracing up, and will do better than had been expected. We are selling some on retail and the wholesale feature is very satisfactory."

Advises Decrease in Tire Inflation in Hot Weather

H. C. Brokaw Takes Exception to Statements of Manufacturers Who Urge Motorists to Keep Pressure the Same in Summer as in Winter.

Practically all the manufacturers advise the motorist to keep his tires inflated as fully in summer as in winter, but there are some experienced motorists who believe that this practice is not beneficial to tires in all instances. Among those who take exception to this advice is H. Clifford Brokaw, principal of the West Side Y. M. C. A. Automobile school at Chicago, who says:

"Should the pressure of tires be decreased in hot weather? Is it true, as some tire manufacturers assert, that tires heat more on lower inflation than when run at the full pressure given by them? Are tires injured by a slight decrease in the pressure made to take into account the increase due to friction and hot pavements? There have been some criticisms since my recent relation of an experience with tires while on a tour in which it was stated that there was a twelve pound increase in pressure after going forty miles. So I have been checking up and testing conditions in city driving.

"Recently, to determine what effect the hot weather has on tires in the city, I drove at 3,200 pound model L Locomobile, equipped all around with 34x4 1-2 inch tires, through the park and in Riverside Drive for fifteen miles at ordinary city traffic speed, which always is under twenty miles an hour. The thermometer registered 80 degrees and the day was partly overcast, so that the full effect of the sun on the pavements was not obtained. The tires were inflated to full ninety pounds, which is the pressure recommended by many manufacturers.

"At the end of the run one tire registered 101 pounds, two were 100 and one was 99 pounds. The conditions were not excessive in any way and the weather was not abnormal, the road was smooth excet for very short stretches, the speed was low and the tires were of ample size for the weight of car and load.

"After this test a gauge was made to test the flattening effect on the tires from a lowered pressure. With the car loaded it was necessary to decrease the pressure in the tires to sixty-five pounds to have a one-sixteenth inch bulge of the side of the tires. At seventy pounds pressure there was no perceptible flattening.

"I believe that more tires are damaged by underinflation than by overinflation, also that new tires will stand more than 20 per cent overinflation without damage to them. But it is reasonable to believe that if a tire has become weakened from any cause it will blow out quicker under increased pressure. It is also a fact that a tire inflated to the pressure recommended by many manufacturers has very little resiliency and the riding qualities of the car are very greatly impaired, and when the pressure rises slightly higher the tire loses its chief function, that of absorbing road shocks. Any one who has had the experience of riding on hard tires knows the discomfort of it; one might about as well ride on solid tires.

But all of this comes back to the question, What is underinflation? A tire with ten pounds less pressure than recommended possibly will heat more than when carrying a full pressure, but it will very quickly come up to the required pressure when in use.

"As the pressure recommended by many manufacturers is the extreme so far as comfort in riding is concerned, the car owner must take his choice between comfort and tire mileage, assuming that a slightly less pressure does decrease the life of the tire. I presume the average owner would rather have comfortable riding, even at the expense of tire mileage, and I am not prepared to admit that decreased mileage would be an inevitable result with ten pounds less pressure. I do not think the average man would use a substitute for gasoline which gave him all sorts of discomfort because it did not run the engine smoothly, even if it gave a slightly greater mileage to the gallon.

"One manufacturers of fabric tires recommends fifty-six pounds pressure for a 4-inch tire and guarantees 5,000 miles, and makes the assertion that this pressure makes riding much more comfortable. Another well known manufacturer advises inflating the tire only to the point where there is no bulge or flattening, and another type of pneumatic tire has become very popular because it requires still less pressure and makes riding much more comfortable.

"Where tires are hard and roads are rough and machine jumps around so that it is more likely to jump off the road, so that there is an element of safety as well as comfort involved.

"For all around comfort, consistent with good tire mileage, I have decided that a ten pound decrease is desirable. The tire cannot be damaged, because after a very few minutes on relly hot pavements the pressure will equal that recommended by the most exacting manufacturer and any overheating due to this cause would be a matter of very short duration.

"As I said in a previous article, the wise owner will test out his car and tires and find out just the proper amount of decrease the tires will stand."

AUTOMOBILE NOW HELPING RAILROADS

The motor car and the motor truck are important factors in the increased efficiency of the railroads in war time, according to George R. Bury, assistant general sales manager of the Packard Motor Car Company. They are relieving the railroads, Mr. Bury points out, of an appreciable burden of short-haul traffic, both freight and passenger.

"The latest figures authorized by Fairfax Harrison, chairman of the Railroads War Board, indicate an increased railroad efficiency of 16.1 per cent." said Mr. Bury. "Enlarged carrying capacity, more general use of the waterways, and other efforts play their part in this result. And so do the motor cars and trucks.

"Automobiles are carrying thousands of passengers, who would otherwise have to use the railroads, between suburbs and metropolitan centers, between small cities and towns near to each other. The growth of automobile traffic, especially in the rural districts, has lightened the local passenger traffic of the railroads and this relief has enabled the railroads to cut down the number of their trains and devote their motive power to the long freight hauls."

HARD ON THE CARS

The high gear hill climber is first cousin to the scorcher, and both are bound to become wiser, as time goes on, asserts R. O. Allen, writing in the current issue of American Motorist on the folly of driving motor cars up steep hills in high gear solely for boasting purposes.

A NEW TIRE VALUE

Here is a tire value that operates under a different prinoiple from the common type. Air leakage is prevented by the pressure from within the tube forcing a rubber washer up aginst the valve opening rather than by the normal conical friction stop gap. The valve consists simply of the standard exterior with an air vent down the middle into which screws a sleeve which holds the valve plunger in position.

About half way down the valve is a chamber into which is fitted the spring. A rubber washer is at the end of the valve plunger. This washer is larger than the air hole of the valve and has a circumference equal to that of the top of the spring chamber. When pressed down as far as the spring chamber it expands to normal size and complets a reliable inflation test. It is claimed that all these difficulties may be overcome by the use of a unique tire caliper now on the market. If you start out with an extra heavy load you need more air. The caliper is intended to show you just how much you need. A $1 bill buys it.

T. D. HUMPHREYS TELLS OF TRIP TO "LAND OF THE SKY"

T. D. Humphrey, manager of the Herrick & McLarty Auto company, is just back from a trip to the "Land of the Sky," in the mountains around Asheville, N. C., where he went to visit Mrs. Humphrey, who has been there for several weeks.

"It is worth three times the price of the trip," says Mr. Humphrey. "The scenery is most beautiful along the Cotton Belt or Lone Star route, between Dallas and Memphis. Between Memphis and Asheville there is much pretty scenery, also, though of a different type. The Mississippi and Tennessee rivers are very beautiful, and Swan Lake is one of the prettiest bodies of water I ever saw.

"There was a wide divergance in the crops I saw from the train as I went along. I saw plenty of corn ten to twelve feet ihgh, and much pasture land with sheep and cattle grazing on it. The Blue Rdige in North Carolina is a wonderful sight, and the city of Asheville is one of the prettiest cities I ever saw. Biltmore, the Vanderbilt estate, which cost eleven million dollars, is located here. There are many interesting points to visit, such as Mount Mitchell, Mount Pisgah and Sunset Mountain. And none has seen Asheville without a visit to Grove Park Inn, an edifice made of rough stones from the mountains.

"I found Mrs. Humphrey very much improved in health, and she will likely return to Waco in the fall, when the weather is cooler. It is cold enough in Asheville to make overcoats and sweaters very comfortable."

SPLENDID TRIBUTE GIVEN CHAMPION SPARK PLUGS

From Atlanta, Ga., scene of a $10,000,000 holacust a few weeks ago, comes a remarkable tribute to the endurance qualities of the Champion spark plug, manufactured by the Champion Spark Plug company of Toledo, Ohio.

In the newspaper reports from Atlanta, during the fire and after it was under control, it was stated that nothing survived, which was caught in the path of the tremendous blaze. However, D. L. Wiley, owner of a garage at 108 Ivan street, is proudly exhibiting evidence to the contrary.

When Mr. Wiley went to the wreck of what once had been his model garage, he found nothing but ruins. In fact, about the only evidence to indicate that the place had once been a garage was a charred mass of scrap that but slightly resembled an automobile. The body was destroyed, the axles and springs were curled up into an unrecognizable mass and the frame looked as though it had been run over by a British war "tank."

More for the sake of obtaining a souvenir than for any other reason, Mr. Wiley started picking up pieces of the wreckage, when he came across the four Champion spark plugs. Except for melted terminals they showed few signs of the terrible heat and flames. In writing the company in Toledo, Mr. Wiley said:

"I removed all four plugs from the debris, put them into another car and they went to work like new ones. I am convinced that Champions are as nearly indestructible as it is possible to make spark plugs."

BUICK TAKES OVER GARFORD IN HOUSTON

An announcement of more than ordinary interest to the automobile trade has just been made by the Garford Motor Truck Company of Lima to the effect that its Houston, Texas, business will henceforth be in charge of the Houston Buick Sales Company.

In a recent interview B. D. Kent, general manager of the Houston Buick Sales Company, which is one of the best known concerns of its kind in that section of the United States, explained why he had taken over the Garford along with his passenger car business.

"A man with half an eye for the future," he said, "can readily see that the truck trade will increase by leaps and bounds. In other words, the motor truck is coming into its own. It has reached that stage of perfection where the public cannot help but recognize its merits. It is becoming the mose widely sold utility in the vehicle field, and for that reason the Houston Sales Company decided that it was imperative for it to adopt a standard make of truck and share in the business which is coming."

NEW NASH AUTO ANNOUNCED SOON

Even back in the days when the automobile lurched along on one cylinder, C. W. Nash, then in the carriage manufacturing business aspired to build a motor car bearing his own name.

For twenty five years he has been building and selling carriages and automobiles. During that time he has seen the motor car industry outgrow its cradle and watched it rise from a small, discredited beginning to the proud rank of third industry in the United States. In its rise he has played a leading role, having headed some of the largest and most successful automobile companies in the United States.

But his lifelong ambition is soon to be fully realized. For he is just about to formally announce the birth of a car that bears his name and reflects his experience and ideals.

The work which has been accomplished by the Nash Motors Company within the duration of a single year could only be achieved by an organization composed of experts in their line, men who knew their plans were right and went ahead.

A year ago when Mr. Nash entered the field as a manufacturer in his own name he looked about for a factory site. He inspected personally practically every motor car plant of consequence in this country. The result of this sifting down process was the purchase of the 100 acre Jeffrey plant at Kenosha. It was fully equipped with men and machines and building a high grade line of passenger cars and trucks 93 per cent complete.

From the men who have perviously been associated with him, Mr. Nash swiftly assembled a strong organization. They were all men of long experience and proved ability, engineers and merchandizers of highest caliber. As Nash distributors came men of high financial responsibility who had made big profits before under Nash leadership and as proof of their confidence in him and his organization, gave up other lines which they had been handling successfully to take over Nash contracts. Thus in a remarkably short time was perfected one of the most complete manufacturing and selling organizations in the business.

Meantime the engineering department was hard at work on a new Nash car. Into its make-up they have put good materials and excellent workmanship. By applying the most modern principles of motor car practice they greatly simplified its mechanism. Now thououghly tested and bearing the stamp of approval of the Nash organization, this car, a little more than a year after the formation of its parent company, is about to be announced to the buying public.

There has been much speculation as to the number of cylinders, size and price of the car but owing to the fact that Mr. Nash has built cars of various types and prices it is almost impossible for even the trade to guess with any degree of accuracy the type of the new Nash car.

GOODRICH SHOWS THE WAY

The Goodrich national touring bureau announces that more than 1,000 miles of transcontinental highway are now guideposted by it, and that 1500 miles of additional roadway are to be roadmarked at once.

Two transcontinental routes are now marked one from Los Angeles to New York via Santa Fe, Kansas City, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Washington. This southern route is known as the Santa Fe and Ocean-to-Ocean highway. The lincoln highway, the central route from San Francisco to New York, is via Ely, (Neb.) Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Ohama, Chicago, Buffalo and Albany. When completed the route from Seattle to New York via Spokane, Butte, Billings, St. Paul and Milwalkee will be known as the Goodrich Northern trail.

Transcontinental tourists and thousands of automobilists making shorter tours now hail the Goodrich guideposts as they spin along the highways. The motorist and the sturdy armor plate guide posts are fast friends. The "silent sentinels" not only tell the tourist where to go, but how as well.

USED CAR SALE AT HERRICK AND M'LARTY AUTO CO.

Tomorrow morning a big sale of used cars is on the program for the Herrick & McLarty Auto company. T. D. Humphrey, manager, states that this sale will be the greatest in point of value giving his company has ever held.

The enormous business we have been doing in excess of our fondest anticipations," says Mr. Humphrey, "has resulted in our accumulating a large stock of used cars, which we must move to make more room. Every time we have tried to estimate future business we have gone far above our estimate. Many people who have cars in excellent condition, after seeing the new 1918 model on display have not been content until they traded in their old cars for new ones. That is why we have such a splendid stock of second hand cars at the present time."

HEAVIEST TRAFFIC CENTER

Fifty avenue at Forty-second street, New York, long has been known as the heaviest traffic center in the United States, and a traffic census just completed shows that in spite of every effort to divert vehicles to other streets the avenue is maintaining its reputation. The volume of traffic totals 16,960 vehicles in ten hours. Included in the total of 16960, vehicles of all kinds are 1,296 motor buses, 130 an hour in both directions. The total traffic averages twenty-eight vehicles a minute. The count shows passenger motor cars compose about two-thirds ofthe traffic, these include the motor buses.

Henry C. Walker writes: "The other evening, while perusing the Old Testament, I discovered the following, which I think is of interest. This would seem to prove that automobiles are not of recent origin. The quotation is found in the last part of the third chapter of Isaiah:

"'Their round tires . . The chaine and the muffiers; the bonnets; . . . . the changeable suits of apparel; . . . the glasses; . . . .the hoods and the veils . . . and it shall come to pass that instead of sweet smells there shall be stink.'"

HERE'S GOOD BOOK FOR AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Standard Company, Builder of Famous "8" Issues Pamphlet That All Interested Should Procure

The time is now ripe for some bright young author, with a penchant for public service and a knowledge of horsepower, to write the "Black Beauty" of the motor car.

"The economic waste involved in the abuse of motor cars, Mr. Sidney Duffy, located at 1920 Broadway, dealer here for the Standard "8" declares "would make a fine subject for a Congressional investigation. How many million dollars' worth of metal is annually destroyed by the ignorant or abusive handling of automobiles, even the oldest user does no know.

The Standard "8" dealer then called attention to the new instruction book for Standard "8" owners, and emphasized the big cash value to every owner of a thorough knowledge of his car.

"The Standard "8" he adds, "is as nearly fool-prof as the engineering brains of the Standard Steel Car Company can make it. These makers of railroad equipment have applied the whole vast wealth of their knowledge of rolling stock to the 'land locomotive' that bears their company's name. Its tremendous body strength embodies expert knowledge of steel and stress. Wedge-shaped frame, he declares is much stronger than the usual method of off-set construction, and means touring safety over the hardest going.

Red Cross Notes.

The last regular meeting of the Red Cross was important for several reasons. The first course of study in the first aid work was completed, Dr. J. H. Thomas giving the last lecture on this course, and a complete review of this study. Those desiring to take examinations on the work just completed will be prepared at the next meeting Tuesday afternoon. If the study is continued by taking up the second course, Dr. Thomas has consented to render his services as lecturer.

Mayor Ingraham urged that members of the Red Cross aid in any way possible in caring for the drafted men from this district who will be mobilized here September 1. Sleeping accommodations will be provided in the city hall auditorium.

An urgent request is made by the Welfare league of Waco for the donation of all reading literature that can be collected here and called for by the Waco league.

Delightful Outing at Red Bug Inn.

Never have swimming parties from West been so numerous, and never has any one place been so popular as has Red Bug Inn this present summer. Again on Tuesday afternoon a jolly crowd motored out for an hour or two's enjoyment of the water. A delicious lunch was enjoyed afterward. The following participated: Messrs. and Mesdames John Boggess, Will Cobb, Burnice Garrison, Pace Golden, Boone Nerren, Reinhardt Wendorf, Mesdames Colfee Edwards, Walter McClellan and Flora M. West, Misses Imogene Blair and Vinnie Cardwell of Waco, E. T. McClannahan; Masters Bowen McClellan and Donald Nerren, and little Miss Jim Ann Boggess.

On Friday afternoon this same party sought relief from the heat by a cooling plunge in the water at this popular resort before the return trip home.

D. D.s at Mrs. Flora M. West's.

During the summer months the D. D. club has been divided into the Whites and Pinks, representative of the club colors. Every two weeks finds one side hostess to the other, and on Wednesday afternoon the White Side had the pleasure of being at home to members of the Pink Side. Mrs. Flora M. West's beautiful suburban home was chosen for the place of meeting and 4 o'clock found a happy assemblage of club members and guests.

The warm Sunday afternoon was delightfully spent in games, conversation and music. Delicious punch and squares of devil's food and white cake were enjoyed. The following club members were present: Whites—Mesdames A. C. Edwards, Pace Golden, Walter McClellan, B. Nerren and Flora M. West; Pinks—Mesdames Will Cobb, B. Waco Bids the "Sammies" Welcome

Patriotism—Love of Country—is the noblest impulse of the human breast. It is patriotism which sends men to death on the field of battle with smiles on their faces. It is patriotism which draws them from home and family to serve their country in time of need. Yet all men cannot go to war, though all men who stay at home can be patriots. It takes money to wage war—and money to keep business going that armies may be supplied with food, clothing and munitions. Therefore it is not too much to say that in anticipation of the inevitable "rainy day," when it will be sorely needed. Go out on the street and watch the "has beens," the men who have failed. The better you come to know them the more you will realize that the spendthrift habit has been the cause of their downfall.

A bank account is your best personal asset. It is upon the savings of you and your neighbor that your country now depends. Start an account today with this big bank of Service and get launched on the road to Opportunity, Prosperity and Patriotism.

APPLY LA CREOLE IF HAIR IS GRAY

IT DARKENS YOUR GRAY HAIR EVENLY—STOPS DANDRUFF.

The fam us La Creole Hair Dressing has been used for the last 30 years by men and women to really restore their gray, streaked with gray, prematurely gray or faded hair to that even, dark color and luster their hair used to be. Unlike other hair preparations or dirty dyes, La Creole revives the natural color glands to activity, so that after a few applications of La Creole to hair and scalp, you will be delighted to observe all your gray hair gradually turning dark and all your hair taking on that lustre, freshness, fluffiness and thickness and even, dark tone your hair used to have. It is a fact that not even a trace of gray shows after treatment with La Creole Hair Dressing. Any druggist can easily supply you, or sent prepaid for $1 by Van Vleet Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn. La Creole also stops dandruff and falling hair, and causes new hair to sprout all over your head.—Advertisement.

The Drink That "Does" White Ribbon For Men Who "Do"

A MASTERLY DRINK FOR MANLY MEN

White Ribbon has a way of "hitting the spot" that no imitation drink can have. White Ribbon is not a "near beer," nor a substitute for beer. It is made, sold and consumed for its own peculiar, original taste. It satisfies!

White Ribbon is a full-bodied drink for able-bodied men—yet it is equally delicious and as thoroughly enjoyed by women and children. Another thing—White Ribbon is absolutely non-intoxicating. It is the best friend of True Temperance.

FRENCH CREWS CHANGED WITH SWIFT SPEED

One of the most delicate operations of the war will be performed when the American army takes over a sector of the French front.

It will be like changing a train crew when a new engine is attached, air-brakes and couplings tested, and the next "leg" commenced.

While Pershing's men are moving in and the French moving out, the battle will go on uninterruptedly.

The Germans must be kept in ignorance. Therefore the American occupation will be piecemeal and at night. It will take many nights.

The necessary preliminary work is already begun. General Pershing has inspected the future "American front," studying the terrain on what will be his firing line. Before a man, horse, gun, wagon or truck moves toward that line, the separate and distinct place of every man in the American force, down to the last private, will have been arranged.

Staff officers have begun the intensive study of (1) labor and working methods; (2) water supply; (3) feeding arrangements; (4) field kitchens; (5) quartermasters' stores;; 6) artillery positions, as the French have developed these services on the front. General Sibert and his staff have been witnessing technical maneuvering demonstrations by picked French troops to teach the Americans.

In War Schools.

Other officers have entered the French and British military schools for intensive training. The troops in camp are working on intensive bayonet, hand grenade, trench mortar and machine-gun practice.

When this work is done the American will be ready to move forward into the assigned sector. Up to a few hours before the fact will not be known to the men in the ranks. The commanders of the large units will have taken forward into the trenches and will have familiarized themselves with their sectors. The engineer corps will have turned out hundreds of blueprints, showing every square inch of the underground passages and trenches —all the complicated subterranean network that constitutes the "front."

Dig Trenches.

Before a man moves, the staff and commanding officers will have studied actual models, built to scale, of their whole trench system. In addition, the men at their training camp will actually dig replicas of difficult bits of trench front.

Then will come the actual "taking over." Pershing and staff will move into headquarters beside the French commander he is to replace. Next, like the tendrils of a vine rooted at headquarters, the advance base camps and finally the front line trenches, will be successively occupied.

Each night a new olive-drab "feeler" will thrust forward and curl itself around a new vantage point. And the French personnel replaced will be busy teaching the men come to relieve them.

Under French signs such as "Rue de Rivoli," at some plank-bottomed mud hole, American Sammies will put up boards marked, say, "Broadway and 42nd street." Where the Poilu's sign, "Attention!" warns of danger from Boche bullets some former subway guard will tack up a familiar "Watch Your Step."

This relieving operation will be the last step in the process which started when the regiments on the Mexican border were ordered to concentrate for transport abroad.

When an engineer and fireman go aboad a locomotive to relieve the off-coming crew, they know their engine as well as the relieved crew. When the Americans go into the French trenches, every member of the new "crew" will be able to take over the job of some Poilu and know what to do with it. That is the essence of "taking over."

If Too Fat Get Fresh Air

HOW YOU MAY REDUCE A POUND DAILY AND IMPROVE HEALTH AMAZINGLY.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates, the heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and, if nature is not assisted in throwing it off, a serious case of obesity may result.

Don't wait until your health is ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend some time daily in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night, also following the other simple directions that come with the box.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion, and even a few days' treatment is likely to show a noticeable reduction in weight. This system has succeeded when other remedies, etc., have failed. It is the delight of those who wish to improve their figure and acquire younger appearance.

WAR BRIDE IS SLACKER, SAYS SUFFRAGE HEAD

Special to the News.

New York, Aug. 25.—The war slacker's bride! She is a pathetic figure, who makes a treasonable marriage founded on sand.

Therefore her mistake will react upon her, bringing woe. This is the opinion of one of the biggest fighting women in America—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, formerly of Iowa and president of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

Only a transposition of two letters dives marital from martial.

A man who will slack his martial duties will slack his marital duties. A poor citizen makes a poor family man.

This is the philosophy Mrs. Catt and other foremost women leaders and sociologists, would drive home to the American "war brides" of today.

"The man and woman who put marriage forward as a last escape from war have as base a concept of marriage as of patriotism. No good could be expected of the union of any such pair. Aside from the consideration of the military interests of the community, in its social interests they should be prevented from mating!"

This is what Mrs. Catt thinks about the "war-bride-slackers" marrying men of military age by the hundreds at the New York City marriage chapel.

"It is hard to believe that any man or woman in America long enough to become imbued with America's fundamental faith, could be guilty of such conduct," said Mrs. Catt. "This kind of slacker marriage, another name for a peculiarly modern marriage of convenience, is an assault upon American idealism.

"The reckless boy and girl rushing into matrimony, oblivious to all material considerations, plead their own case out of a boundless impulse.

"But the measured calculations of mature people who put marriage in the balance with war and choose it, apparently as the less of two evils, can rouse only condemnation.

Spanish King Popular; No Fear of Revolution

Attempt in Barcelona Failed Because There Was No Organization Behind It—Discontent Is Due to Conditions and Not to the Monarchy—Diverse Elements Make Concerted Disorder Difficult.

By HERBERT COREY

Madrid, July 22.—That attempt at revolution which died a-bornin' at Barcelona last week had three vital weaknesses as revolutionary movements go:

There was no cohesive and determined organization. It was planned as a protest which might develop into a revolution, rather than as a vigorous assault upon established institutions.

The principal reform demanded was local to Catalonia. That Ulster of Spain wants autonomy. The request does not meet with approval from the rest of Spain, for much the same reason that the Nationalists in Ireland object to the exclusion of Ulster. Catalonia is making money and paying big taxes. The less prosperous portions of the kingdom do not see the wisdom of letting go an asset.

The Catalonian deputies, who formed the backbone of the attempts at revolution, counted upon the support of the army. But the army is not and has not been disaffected, so far as one can see and hear. The army demanded certain things for itself and got them. But it is not a part of any revolutionary movement. The army today makes Spain's throne secure.

In spite of the often repeated statement that there are enough disaffected elements in Spain to overturn any government, if they coud but get together, it is obvious that the getting together process will be a matter of infinite difficulty, if it is ever accomplished. Spain is not a political entity.

It is a bundle of political, racial and commercial sticks, into which the wedges of church and party politics and Boche activity and a dozen other elements have been thrust.

Americans think of Spain as populated by Spaniards. But the Basque of the north cannot understand the Andalusian of the south. Castillian is the language of ceremony and the courts. The Langue d'Oc is spoken in some parts along the Mediterranean coasts. There are regions in which the people are almost purely Mor in descent. These diverse elements do not want the same things. They do not think alike any more than they talk alike.

They seem, however, to have one common ground in their loyalty to the throne. So far as I can discover there is no anti-dynastic movement in Spain worth considering. Men of all parties are either loyal to the throne through tradition or feel that Spain has not progressed far enough to be safe under another form of government. King Alfonso XIII. enjoys an extraordinary personal popularity.

"The danger to the throne is not from an anti-dynastic movement," said one skilled and sympathetic observer of political events, "but in the fact that if a revolutionary movement once gains ground the king's head is the easiest one to hit."

As yet the discontent spoken of on every hand is rather with conditions than with the government. The Spanish constitution is modelled on that of England, and the government in power retires on the equivalent of a vote of lack of confidence. It is also retired when it comes into too violent conflict with the will of the king, who is the one man in Spain who is at all times in touch with the diffeing phases of internal and international politics. It was the king, for example, who forced out of office the Maura ministry when Premier Maura too ruthlessly quelled the Barcelona riots at the time of Francisco Ferrer's execution.

One result of the Spanish constitution is that there is a change in party government whenever discontent becomes too grave. But the Spaniard, by comparison to the Briton, is volatile. He does not give the party in power enough time to accomplish a true reform. If the new sun does not dawn promptly another sun is called for. The tenur of office of Spanish ministers has been but a few months for years past. Under such conditions reform by the party in power is hardly to be looked for.

There is a fairly general apprehension that the reform will come, when it does, through the medium of revolution. But it would be futile to attempt a prophecy as to the time of coming. It may be tomorrow or when the next sovereign reigns. Before it comes at all, it would seem that a strong man must be found, to join the different elements of discontent under a single leadership. That man has not yet come, unless Cambo of Catalonia may prove to be the man.

"He is the dangerous man of today," Premier Dato is quoted as saying.

Doctors Amazed at Power of Bon-Opto to Strengthen Eyesight

According to Dr. Lewis—Strengthens Eyesight 50 Per Cent in a Week's Time in Many Instances.

Victims of eyestrain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored to health and comfort and many who wore glasses say they need them no longer. One man says: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using Bon-Opto for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another says: "I was bothered by eye strain caused by overworking tired eyes which induced fierce headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long-distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to discard them, and that other thousands will be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting them. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited in this way. Go to any drug store and ask for Bon-Opto tablets. Dissolve one tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and use two to four times a day. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE—Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, Bon-Opto is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or misfit glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few prescriptions I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold under guarantee by all druggists, including W. B. Morrison.

"I FIRMLY BELIEVE IT SAVED MY LIFE"

MRS. RAMSEY DECLARES ANY MEDICINE THAT WILL DO WHAT TANLAC HAS DONE FOR HER, DESERVES PRAISE.

"By the help of Tanlac I have overcome troubles I had begun to fear would end my life," said Mrs. Aline Ramsey, who resides at 303 South Pearl street, Dallas, Texas, recently.

"My stomach has been troubling me for eight years," she continued, "and I had gotten to where I couldn't even eat raw eggs and drink sweet milk without suffering afterwards. At times my stomach was so gassy and upset For the past two years I have had that I couldn't retain a thing. For the past two years I have had rheumatism in my right shoulder and arm so bad I could hardly use my hand. I was so nervous and miserable I could hardly sleep at all and could do no work without feeling completely exhausted. I was badly constipated, had such a glimmer before my eyes I could hardly see and would often get so dizzy I had to lie down.

"I took nearly every medicine I ever heard of and tried in vain so long without getting anything to help me that I had begun to think I couldn't get well. Then my nephew from Georgia told me about Tanlac and while I never got much relief from my first bottle, the second bottle got me to eating hearty and sleeping fine. I finished my third bottle with such a big appetitie that I could hardly get enough to eat and my stomach trouble and rheumatism are gone. So now I can eat what I want, sleep like a child and am praising Tanlac for my wonderful recovery. I firmly believe it has saved my life and such a medicine is worth praising."

Tanlac is sold in Waco by Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

Do You Pay Your Bills?

Being the Twenty-third and last of a Series of Talks on Bills and the Prompt Payment of Them.

Your Rating

CREDIT IS EXTENDED TO YOU BECAUSE THE MAN YOU BUY FROM THINKS YOU ARE HONEST.

He has faith in you—in your honor.

He believes you will pay when the TIME COMES. He does not think you will abuse the privilege—the convenience—of credit. HE EXTENDS YOU A RARE COMPLIMENT WHEN HE ALLOWS YOU TO TAKE HIS GOODS OUT OF HIS STORE WITHOUT PAYING FOR THEM.

DO YOU MAKE GOOD? Or do you disappoint him?

The answer is shown in your rating.

Are you "PROMPT PAY—GOOD CREDIT" or "REQUIRE CASH?"

Now, classify yourself. You know better to what class you belong than anyone else. And you are alone to blame.

It's up to you whether you have BAD CREDIT—or GOOD CREDIT.

Don't Kick

When you get a statement of your account on the First of the Month—DON'T KICK.

When the collector comes around to see you after your bill has run for sixty or ninety days—DON'T KICK.

After you, figuratively speaking, "cuss out" the collector, ignore statements time after time, then get a letter sort of jerking you up—DON'T KICK.

Remember, it was YOUR DUTY to pay that bill on the first—and every day you let it run after that you were imposing upon the merchant who trusted you to take his goods out of his house.

It was YOUR DUTY TO PAY. It was an honor agreement to which you and the merchant were parties.

He did his part when he let you have the goods. It was up to you to do your part on the first of the month.

BUT YOU FAILED.

Then you got "red under the collar" when he called your attention to YOUR PART OF THE AGREEMENT.

He didn't say you were dishonorable—BUT YOU WERE.

BE HONORABLE—PAY UP—DON'T KICK!

Remember he has to pay his bills—and can't unless you pay yours.

Times Change

It's not like it used to be.

THE DEBT DODGER HAS BEEN NAILED.

A person of "careless credit" can no longer "OWE" EVERY MERCHANT IN THIS CITY.

In unity there is strength—and practically every retail merchant in the city of Waco belongs to the established clearing house that "clears credits."

If you do not pay your bill with one merchant—other merchants know it.

YOU MUST PAY AS YOU GO or quit going.

The day of systematically beating the man who trusts you with his goods is gone.

If you are HONORABLE and pay your bills—your credit grows. If you are DISHONORABLE and don't pay your bills—your credit is nipped in the bud.

TIMES CHANGE—and invariably for the better.

PAY UP! Credit is too valuable an asset to lose.

MARY WEST CHAPTER IN OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting of the Mary West chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will be with Mrs. Araminta Branson, 525 North Twelfth street, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The following program will be given, centering around the "Events of 1865":

Music, "America."

Hampton Roads Conference, Feb. 3, Mrs. Summer Oakes.

Fall of Fort Fisher, N. C., and Its Effect; Burning of Columbia, S. C., Feb. 17; Battle of Bentonville, N. C., March 19—Mrs. Saunders.

Battle of Five Forks, April 1; Evacuation of Richmond, Va., April 2; and Lee Begins His Last Retreat—Mrs. H. J. Ellis.

Appomatox, April 9, 1865, Gen. Robt. E. Lee Surrenders the Army of Northern Virginia to Gen. U. S. Grant; Surrender of Gen. Joseph E. Johnson, April 26; Surender of Gen. Kirby Smith, April 26—Miss Minnie Watson.

Round-table discussion.

Tell of the "Shenandoah," the last Confederate ship to furl the Confederate flag November 6, 1865, and her brave commander, Capt. James I. Waddell. Where and when was the last battle of the river fought? What was the spirit of the Confederate army? What were the general results of the four years of the war?

"No nation rose so white and fair,
None feel so free from crime."

Mrs. Susan Thornton Price will conduct the round-table discusion. It is hoped all the Daughters will take part in this discussion.

Music, "The New Dixie."

The chapter will meet at the residence of Mrs. A. Branson, North 12th street, at 3 o'clock.

MRS. BEVILE TO HAVE YOUNG MARRIED LADIES BRIDGE

Mrs. A. J. Bevile will be next Tuesday's hostess to the Young Married Ladies' Bridge club at 3 o'clock, 1712 Austin.

MRS. NEALE'S CIRCLE AT THE FISH POND

Mrs. W. J. Neale's war relief circle enjoyed Thursday in an all-day picnic at the Fish Pond. The ladies went out early in the morning carrying their knitting and bandage work for the Red Cross. The beautiful Indian summer weather was made the most of. Noon found a delicious meal of barbecued chicken, prepared in the club kitchens by the experienced chef, and of dainties brought from the home larders. About twenty-two members were present, and Mrs. Hart Willis and Mrs. Rhodes enjoyed the day as guests of the circle.

The circle will have the regular weekly meeting next Tuesday at 9:30.

PLANS PROGRESSING FOR HOSTESS HOUSE

Plans for the hostess house to be erected by the Young Women's Christian association are rapidly being perfected. Miss Hayes, of the national ward board, has been in Waco this week-end for the purpose of letting the contract. The site chosen is a beautiful one, near the headquarters and in a grove of trees. The place will be beautiful as well as comfortable and one of the main features will be the cafeteria for the acommodation of visiting mothers and other relatives. The cafeteria cannot be used by Waco people.

It is good news that the Y. W. C. A. is expecting to install a downtown cafeteria. They hope to have it in by Christmas.

CORDIAL WELCOME FROM Y. W. C. A.

The following greeting from the official Y. W. C. A. reporter is intended for the visiting relatives of soldiers, and graciously offers the Y. W. C. A. rooms as headquarters for their downtown shopping and resting:

"Our attention is called to the fact that a few prominently placed advertisements in our morning papers have produced highly gratifying results. Still, we would remind the newcomers to our city, and especially the visiting relatives of soldiers, that the Young Women's Christian association extends to them a cordial invitation to register at the association rooms, 605½ Franklin street. Our secretaries will be glad to advise them as to desirable locations for rooms and, if wished, to the use of the employment bureau.

"Long hours of waiting may be made happier and better by taking up some branch of work in the new environment. The Y. W. C. A. has classes in domestic science, in stenography and physical culture, and clubs of Red Cross workers and knitters. Also here are many needs and opportunities for workers along social and patriotic lines.

"Y. W. C. A. REPORTER."

AMATEUR CONTEST TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

The amateur prize contest will be held at the public library Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. All desiring to enter pictures must have them in the library by that hour. The judges will pass on the pictures that same afternoon. This contest is in charge of the fine arts committee of the Cotton Palace.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE OPENS TOMORROW

The Woman's Exchange of the Cotton Palace opens tomorrow for the reception of articles and all those having entries will please attend to the matter on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, after which date no articles will be received. Mrs. Ed Laughlin is the chairman of the department and all inquiries may be addressed to her. Other committee members are Mesdames R. S. Hyde, C. C. Terry and Will Carroll.

LAKEVIEW SCHOOL TO HAVE PARTY

The Lakeview parents and teachers are planning a big halloween party for Wednesday evening at the school. A committee has been perfecting arrangements and a good time is assured.

Y. W. H. A. TO HAVE DANCE TODAY

The Young Women's Hebrew association is to give a dance this evening at the Young Men's Hebrew association headuqarters on Austin avenue, for the Jewish soldiery of Camp MacArthur and for the entire Jewish community.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES FOR THE WEEK.

Five delegates have been chosen by the local board of directors and the war work council to represent this association at the national war conference to be held in Kansas City Tuesday, October 30. The following delegates were appointed: Mrs. R. B. Spencer, Mrs. W. J. Wigley, Mrs. J. R. Milam, Miss Marguerite Williamson and Miss Edith Burhans.

This conference will include workers from the southwestern, south central and west central fields. Among the speakers at the conference will be Mrs. James Cushman of New York city, president of the national war work council; Miss Mabel Cratty, general secretary national board of the Y. W. C. A., and Mrs. Sherwood Eddy, who has just returned from Europe.

Wednesday afternoon a group of high school girls met at the Y. W. C. A. and discussed plans for their clubs this year. The members of the Polly Anna club, organized last year, decided to call a special meeting of all members to discuss ways and means. This meeting is called for Friday afternoon, November 2.

A second group of girls formed themselves into a new club, called the "E. B.s." This club will meet every Wednesday afternoon. They will wear certain emblems which will be for members of the club only. They are working out a program of parliamentary drill, discussional subjects and fun for each meeting. More definite programs will be planned after a second meeting of the club. This new club will be more especially for the younger high school girls.

MORE CONCERNING THE STATE FEDERATION.

The coming convention of women's clubs promises a brilliant gathering of the most prominent women of the state—women who have been instrumental in carrying out the wonderful work accomplished by the federated clubs.

The state chairman will make reports of the work of their committees, ranging from art and history, through civics, good roads, home economics, food sanitatoion and all the vital concerns of our committees. Each report will be followed by a talk from a specialist in that particular line.

A new impetus will be given club life by this gathering, which will bring so many earnest workers into sympathetic contact. The pioneer dinner tendered by the City Federation of Waco to the delegates from the original clubs, who organized the State Federation in Waco twenty years ago, will be a unique and interesting feature of the convention, and one that it is hoped may be perpetuated. Mrs. Edward Rotan of Waco was the first state president, and it was through her club that the plan was carried out, so it is fitting that Waco should be the hostess at this birthday party.

Attending the dinner will be a number of the original delegates, including Mrs. John C. Coit from the Ariel club, Denton; Mrs. Rufus Hardy, Nineteenth Century club, Corsicana; F. B. King, Woman's club, Houston, and others whose names will appear later. The other original clubs to be represented at the dinner are: The Owl club, McKinney, represented by Mrs. Frank Wilcox; Social Science club, Terrell, represented by Mrs. R. L. Browning; the '93 club, Fort Worth, Mrs. Sam H. Taylor; the Forty-One club, Denison, Mrs. R. W. Levin; the Literary club, Waco, Mrs. W. M. Foster; the Woman's club, Waco, Mrs. J. W. The City Federation will have charge of Woman's day at the Cotton Palace. In the afternoon from 3 to 5 a military tea will be given on the green in front of the main building, complimentary to the visiting clubwomen, and including the corps of officers from Camp MacArthur and their wives, also the Cotton Palace directors and their wives. At night a birthday cake will be cut in the Coliseum, and a panorama of interesting and brilliant features will emerge.

Fine Arts night will present to a Cotton Palace audience a program from foremost Texas artisans. The society ball will find the most distinguished women of the state a feature of the evening. The Raleigh hotel will be headquarters for all club meetings. The Progress club, Knights of Pythias and Carrol chapel, Bayler, have generously proffered the use of their halls for special features. Past afternoon at the Progress club an informal tea will be held. The Past presidents association will be tendered a luncheon by their first president, Mrs. Edward Rotan, which will be one of the charming private courtesies extended. A full list of delegates will appear next Sunday, together with the program.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR ELIZABETH BURROWS

Little Miss Elizabeth Burrows was hostess, together with her mother, Mrs. Sid Burrows, on Saturday evening, the occasion being a Hallowe'en dance.

Decorations in keeping with the jolly spirit of All Saints' day made the dance room a gay place. Jack'o'lanterns, pumpkins, witches and black cats were pinned on the walls and on the electroliers. The girls all wore comic Hallowe'en hats, and the boys were presented with "noise-makers" for souvenirs. The dance programs were a riot of Hallowe'en suggestions. The grand march was led by the little hostess and Master Tom Padgitt, and as the couples passed Mrs. Burrows, she gave the girls their hats and the boys their souvenirs. After a few dances Miss Dorothy Renick interrupted to tell the children a ghost story, the kind that makes the friendly lights more welcome than ever. Mrs. Donald Hodge, a sister of Mrs. Burrows, told fortunes in the most convincing manner. Bobbing for apples was another of the Hallowe'en delights, but the real treat came with the serving of chocolate and vanilla brick ice cream and cakes. Those present were Mary Lyle Staton, Elizabeth Miller, Alice Dewey, Jeanette Adams, Nell Colgin, Elizabeth Colgin, Wilma Adams, Ruth Hill, Jane Dodd Moore, Evelyn Bondurant, Caroline Pryor, Sallie Shonk, Dorothy McCutchan, Marie Brazelton, Alice Baker, Kyle McKinney, Elizabeth Henshaw, Frances Dossett, Sara Dossett, Edith Seley, Louise Seley, Ruth McLendon, Marie Flewellyn, Dorothy Bell, Eloise Tweedy, Lelia Park, Louise Weatherby, Eugenia Nash, Martha Lou Stratton, Margaret Jordon, Dorothy and Elizabeth Connally, Frances Abernathy, Margaret Hoskins, Genevieve Renick, Mary Stone, Evelyn Gay, Kate Padgitt, Elizabeth Clark, Frances Kelly, Naomi McCauley, Charlotte Cammack, Sallie Geer, Alma Geer, Ellen Cross, Tom Padgitt, John Gray Kendall, Edwin Bolton, Jack Davis, Forest Fort, Fantam Dossett, Prentiss Rice, Bill Foster, Jack Foster, Bob Park, Edward Allison, Albert Clifton, James Ross, James Sturgis, Boone McReynolds, Frederick Hoskins.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright lustre and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy—Adv.

MAGNIFICENT PAGEANT FOR OPENING DAY.

At 2 o'clock on next Saturday afternoon in the Texas Cotton Palace Coliseum the Children's Eentertainment, "The Song of the Year," will be presented. The list of names that follows is that of the children who will participate. Months of preparation and training have marked the efforts of those in charge of this affair. It will be the first entertainment of the 1917 Cotton Palace and will christen the new Coliseum. No charge is made for any of the entertainments taking place in the Coliseum and it is believed that it will be packed with children and grown folks to its capacity on next Saturday afternoon for the "Song of the Year."

See Difference In Wrinkles Overnight

How to Transform Faces Involves Secrets Few People Know About." Says Valeska Suratt, the Movie Favorite.

BY VALESKA SURATT.

With a few cents in money, and a few minutes of trouble, any woman may bring about a very remarkable change in her personal appearance. I know of many cases where a remarkable transformation occurred literally over night. Any woman can try this simple wrinkle formula, making it up at home herself. Besides, it is more economical than any of the creams you can buy at the stores. Get from your druggist two ounces of eptol for about fifty cents, and mix it with two tablespoonfuls of glycerine in half a pint of water. This cream should be used liberally. Much depends on that, and it should be used every day. It is exceedingly effective on crow's feet, sagging flesh and deep lines in the face.

* * *

DESIROUS—Inside of a week you should notice a decided difference in the length of your hair, and an unusual glossiness and vigor by using my formula, as follows: Mix one ounce of beta-quinol with one pint of bay rum, or else a half pint of each of water and alcohol if preferred. It is not oily. Rub into the hair every day with the fingers. I can assure you of splendid results. Yes, it is true—I am known as the only woman on the American stage who does not need to use hair makeshifts of any kind. I am particularly proud of the wealth and condition of my hair, and I know any woman can obtain the same result if she will merely make up her mind to do it. You will have no occasion for complaining about the masses of hair coming out on your comb, of poor, sick hair and thin spots. Use this formula and you will very quickly see the enormous difference.

* * *

MRS. R. B. T.—A face powder more "flighty" than a puff ball and invisible, this is the extraordinary face powder that has been produced after my own formula to do away with all chalkiness. It excells any imported powder, yet it is sold for only fifty cents, in flesh, white or brunette, at any drug store and is called "Valeska Suratt Face Powder." Try it.

* * *

MRS. M. M.—A teaspoonful of eggol in half a cup of water makes the most unusual, delightful and thorough shampoo and head-wash you can get. All fatty accumulations on the scalp dissolve away immediately, and it helps hair to grow.

ELIZABETH B.—Be sure to try this for bust development. It is very effective in many cases, though results in every instance cannot be insured. Take 2 teaspoonfuls after meals and at bedtime of a mixture of two ounces of ruetone and half a cup of sugar in a pint of water. The ruetone can be obtained at any drug store.

* * *

BADLY—You will never realize how marvelously easy it is to remove superfluous hair until you moisten the hairs with a little sulfo solution, and see how they just crinkle up and dissolve away almost to the roots. It is just as though you were to apply a delightful face cream to the skin and then wipe it off—no danger, no spotting, with skin left clear and smooth. It is really the only way. The sulfo solution at any drug store will cost one dollar, and it is certainly worth a great deal more.

* * *

MRS. B. F. S.—It is rarely you find a drug store that hasn't the zintone for the complexion or the beta-quinol for the hair, but if it should happen again that you can't get it, send the price, which is fifty cents for either of them, to my secretary, "Secretary to Valeska Suratt, Thompson Building, Chicago," and it will be sent to you by mail at once.

* * *

PEPPERY—I told one of my friends the other day she could get rid of those blackheads in five minutes. She could hardly believe it. But at my suggestion she obtained some powdered neroxin from her druggist for fifty cents, sprinkled some on a wet cloth and rubbed the blackheads with it. They all vanished. You can do the same.

* * *

TRYING—To see how this formula drives away all skin spots is certainly wonderful. You will be able to make your complexion remarkably clear in a very, very short while by using it freely every day without fail. It is delightful, too. Get from your druggist one ounce of zintone, and simply mix with two tablespoonfuls of glycerine and a pint of water. You can get the zintone at any drug store.—Advertisement

MRS. JOHN CLARK FOR MISS ROBERTS

Mrs. John Clark was hostess Wednesday from 3 until 5 in honor of Miss Mildred Roberts, who is to become the bride of Mr. Hoytt Short on October 31. On entering the reception room, each guest was given a needle, thread and thimble, and was put to work hemming dish cloths for the bride. Mrs. Frank Roberts of China Springs received the honor for doing her task the best. Then all were asked to make a needle and thread sketch of the bride-elect, the efforts provoking much amusement. Miss Stewart of Bosqueville proved quite an artist, and was given the prize. Miss Roberts was then taken fishing, being provided with line and hook, her efforts securing a good catch of kitchen utensils in aluminum. Toasts around the punch bowl from which delicious punch was served by Mesdames Lawson and Ledbetter and Miss Short. Mrs. Kendrick tosated the bride, Mrs. Helton the bridegroom, and Miss Lovelace the girls left behind. Those present were Mesdames E. C. Clark, Sanderson, McFall, Ledbetter, Rhodes, Dunn, W. W. Clark, Grantham, Bowles, McNamara, J. F. Roberts, N. P. Roberts, A. W. Short, John Morgan, Kendrick, J. E. Helton, Draughn, Armstrong, Weaver, McGlaughlin, Lawson, Alford, Harvey, Short, Youngblood, Thomas, Misses Lovelace, Chaffin, Carrie and Nettie Short, Alma and Hallie Stewart, Armstrong and Richards.

THE YANTIS-STRIBLING WEDDING AT BROWNWOOD

The wedding of Miss Manon Yantis and Mr. Davis Gurley Stribling of Waco was celebrated at the beautiful Yantis home in Brownwood on Tuesday evening.

A violin solo, "Serenade," preluded the service, played by W. K. Hawkinson, accompanied by Miss Aylett Freeman Johnson on the piano. "O, Perfect Love," was sung by Mrs. John T. Yantis and announced the approach of the bridal party.

Miss Athalie Stribling, sister of the groom, released the rope of smilax from the entrance to the nuptial room, and caught it at the stairway, forming a path along which first appeared Mrs. William B. Cross, sister of the bride, who led the stately procession to the altar. She was gowned in a handsome dress of satin embroidered in rhinestones and trimmed with silver lace, and carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with silver ribbon.

Master Nunnally Smith of Bonham wore a colonial suit of white satin and carried the ring nestled in the curling petals of a large white chrysanthemum tied with silver streamers.

Miss Enrique Smith of Waco was maid of honor, her gown being a creation of white maline and silver cloth. Her hat was of white maline and silver lace, becomingly shading her pretty face. Her bouquet was also of white chrysanthemums.

Little Anna Belle Harrison, as flower girl, was dressed in white tulle, a wreath of orange blossoms entwining her hair. She carried a French basket filled with white chrysanthemums and tied with silver ribbons.

The bride appeared leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Thomas Caldwell Yantis. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, F. E. Holland of Waco. The Rev. L. J. Mims, pastor of the First Baptist church of Brownwood, officiated. The bride wore white duchess satin embroidered in pearls in grape design, embellished with touches of silver lace with an undress of real lace. Her veil was caught by a wreath of real orange blossoms and reached the length of her court train. She carried an exquisite bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

The rooms of the home were decorated with smilax, ferns and white chrysanthemums. Roses and ferns were used in the gift and register rooms. A design of bride's roses and valley lilies intermingled with ferns centered the dining table, which also held the wedding cake and small bowls of confections. The bridal bouquet was caught by Miss Enrique Smith, the maid of honor.

The bride and groom are enjoying a honeymoon in San Antonio. Upon their return to Waco they will be at home at the Raleigh a short time before occupying their apartments.

The groom is a member of the E. W. Marshall firm of Waco, is prominent in social and business circles and is very popular. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Yantis, a pioneer family of Brownwood, which has long been prominent in church, social and business circles in Brownwood. She is a graduate of Howard Payne college, Baylor university, and Columbia university of New York.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Stribling of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Marshall of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Gurley of Waco, Mrs. Bland Smith and son Nunnally of Bonham, Mrs. J. F. Aldredge of Bonham, Mrs. J. Tom Padgitt of Coleman, Miss Athalie Stribling of Waco, Mrs. Sam J. Chandler of San Antonio, Miss Loulie Gurley of Waco, Miss Enrique Smith of Waco, Mr. F. E. Holland of Waco, Mr. Kraig of Dallas, Mr. Palmer of Comanche, Yantis Robnett, attending Baylor university, and Jimmie Robnett, who is attending Terrell school in Dallas.

NEW BOOKS ON THE WAR.

The following list of new books on the war was furnished the News by Miss Pauline McCauley, public librarian:

"Towards the Goal," by Mrs. Humphrey Ward. Sequel to "England's Effort," which has proved to be one of the most popular of the books on the war. The author gives a brief outline of how England worked out her unpreparedness and describes her second visit to the front.

"An Uncensored Diary," by Mrs. Ernesta Drinker Bullitt. Mrs. Bullitt accompanied her husband, a newspaper corre-pondent, through Germany, Belgium and Austria in the summer of 1916. She gives an entertaining account of many of her experiences and also describes both the war-time conditions and the remarkable relief work done in the three countries.

"A World in Ferment," by Nicholas Murray Butler. Sub-title: Interpretations of the War for a New World. He says: "The time may not be so far distant when to be the first moral power in the world will be a considerably greater distinction than to be the first military power or the first naval power."

"The Foes of Our Own Household," by Theodore Roosevelt. A stirring appeal for world democracy and for every American to do his part in bringing this condition about.

"Carry On," by Lieutenant Coningsby Dawson. Letters written by the author while in service. In addition to their interest as giving a vivid insight into life in the trenches, the letters are valuable from a literary point of view.

"General Joffre and His Battles," by Raymond Recouply. Less a sketch of General Joffre's life than a narrative of the events of the campaign which culminated in the battle of the Marne.

"Grapes of Wrath," by Boyd Cable. Describes what a "big push" is like from the point of view of an ordinary average infantry private;" "How much he sees and knows and suffers in a great battle."

"With the French Flying Corps," by C. D. Winslow. The author, a young American, enlisted in the French flying corps shortly after the beginning of the war. His book is a graphic account of his experiences and adventures.

GRAY HAIR? WHITE, FADED?

If Anxious to Have Beautiful, Dark Hair Again and Look Young, Read This.

There is no occasion for you to look prematurely old with gray or faded hair. Before going to bed rub into your scalp and wet all your hair with La Creole Hair Dressing. This is not a dye, but a harmless preparation that revives the color glands of nature. Soon you will be delighted to observe all your gray hair turn to an even, beautiful dark shade, without even a trace of gray showing, but La Creole makes all your hair healthy, fluffy, soft, evenly dark and lustrous. This makes you look younger. Don't be fooled by cheap preparation. Get a big bottle of the old reliable La Creole. Sold by drug stores, or sent, express prepaid, for $1.20, by Van Vleet Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn.—Adv.

CHICKEN GUMBO RECIPE FURNISHED BY THE DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLUB

Prepare and boil until tender one medium sized hen.

Peel and chop one medium sized onion. Cook with four tablespoons full of butter for five minutes. Put in kettle; add one quart of water in which chicken has been boiled; one-half can of okra, two teaspoons of salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-half green pepper, from which seeds have been removed. Add chopped chicken meat to the liquor. Let simmer forty minutes.

FINE ARTS COMMITTEE TO PRESENT GOOD EXHIBIT.

The Fine Arts committee of the Cotton Palace has been especially fortunate this season in securing an extraordinarily versatile and high-grade art exhibit for the Cotton Palace. The loan collection has always had a very prominent place on the second floor of the Palace and a still better display will be given this year. The loan collection will include the following paintings, most of them by American artists of international reputation. The special pride of the exhibit is the offering from Whistler's brush, his "St. James Street" and "Soupe a Trois Sous," two of his best studies.

MISS HATTIE PRICE HOSTESS LAST SUNDAY.

Miss Hattie Price was hostess last Sunday for dinner to a number of young people, honoring two young lieutenants from Camp MacArthur. A musical program was enjoyed, dinner proving a delightful finale to a good time for Misses Hattie, Alma and Eula Lee Price, Lieutenants Sweeney, Snider and Applegate, and Messrs. Sid Trice and B. M. Bright.

Renders to the skin a delicately clear, pearly white complexion. Brings back the soft smooth appearance of youth. Results are instant and improvement constant.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR ROBBIE MAE NICHOLS

Little Miss Robbie Mae Nichols celebrated her fourteenth birthday party on Thursday by inviting a few of her intimate friends for a full afternoon of games. The party was small, but the appointments were in keeping with a much larger party. The beautiful cake, with its fourteen rose-colored tapers held place of honor on the pretty dining table, which was touched up with bows of rose-colored maline and rose carnations.

The cutting of the cake resulted in Ferol Hatch finding the dime, Mary Lou Lastinger a tiny silver bell which was made to "ring" and an allied flags button was secured by Janet Hancock. Bobbie Mae herself found the button, and accepted her fate cheerfully. In a guessing contest, little Miss Ruth Tower, daughter of Captain Tower of Lansing, Mich., won the prize, a beautiful crepe de chine handkerchief. Several spirited games of "42" occupied the children after the contest.

Those enjoying Robbie Mae's delightful hospitality were Misses Mary Lou Lastinger, Kathleen Clinton, Ferol Hatch, Ruthyn Morrison, Janet Hancock, Ruth and Margaret Powers and Ruth Lewis.

OFFICERS TO GIVE DANCE

The officers of the One Hundred and Twenty-first Wisconsin infantry are issuing invitations for a dance to be given at the Raleigh Thursday evening. The affair is to be a brilliant one. It is rumored that it will be a dinner dance, with all the attending joys of pleasant companionship and good music.

BOBBIE COVELLE'S PICTURE FEATURED

A large photograph of little Bobbie Covelle, two-year-old son of General and Mrs. Louis Covelle, now of Camp MacArthur, was featured in the Sunday section of a Grand Rapids daily. He is one of the most attractive youngsters imaginable, with his thick crop of bobbed hair, his big brown-black eyes and his cunning smile. He looks every inch a soldier, his wonderfully shaped little head set on splendid shoulders.

General and Mrs. Covelle are among the most popular of the Camp MacArthur family of officers. Society has been delighted with Mrs. Covelle's gracious personality and her rare cordiality.

BRIDGE JUNIORS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Bridge Juniors will meet Wednesday with the president pro tem, Miss Ethel Foster, at ten o'clock. Miss Enrique Smith, who has been the chairman for so long, is moving to San Antonio for the winter and it has become necessary to choose a new chairman. The meeting Wednesday will be a business meeting.

SOUTH WACO SCHOOL TO HAVE PARTY

The South Waco school, through the efforts of the parent-teachers' association, will give a Hallowe'en party at the school Friday evening, November 2. The school is located at the corner of James and Fifteenth streets.

A program consisting of stories, instrumental and vocal music will begin at eight o'clock and after the program a social hour will be given the young people. A gypsy will reveal the future to all comers. No charge will be made and everyone is invited.

CERAMIC DEPARTMENT AT THE COTTON PALACE

The committee on ceramics will be at the Cotton Palace on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week to receive entries for this department, from 10 o'clock to 4 o'clock. There will be a fine collection of rare chinas brought from New York and the Misses Novich will assemble one of their beautiful collections also. All women having rare or exquisite pieces of china or glass are requested to exhibit. The committee is composed of the following women: Mrs. L. Aubrey, Mrs. Baylis Earle, Mrs. Quitman Finlay, Mrs. J. Lee Davis and Mrs. Walter Lacy. A phone message to any of the committee will get all information desired.

DESIRES ENTRIES FOR CURIO AND HISTORICAL

Mrs. Frank Wheeler, chairman of the committee on curios and historical relics, and her assistants will be at the Cotton Palace Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to receive entries for this department.

BRIDE AND GROMM IN SAN ANTONIO

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Gurley Stribling are spending their honeymoon in San Antonio. They were entertained at dinner the latter part of the week by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Marshall of San Antonio, formerly of Dallas. Another member of the party was Miss Mildred Fort, who is visiting this week in San Antonio.

FIFTH STREET SOCIAL FOR SOLDIERS FRIDAY

The Fifth Street Methodist church contributed another evening of entertainment to the boys from Camp MacArthur on Friday when the soldiers took on the pleasant burden of the entertainment. The Triangue Quartet from Detroit, of the Michigan infantry, sang a score of songs, each more heartily encored than the last. An informal mingling of boys and girls followed the program. Coffee and pie made unusual but none the less enjoyable refreshments. The young people are hoping that these entertainments will be continued.

MUSIC DIRECTORS MEET AT DALLAS

The board of directors of the State Federation of Music clubs met in Dallas the twenty-third, Mrs. Eugene McNutt of Waco attending. The women met for the purpose of considering plans for community music, and it was decided to have one day set apart as music day for each of the camps in Texas.

Mrs. McNutt is working out this plan. There are five Y. M. C. A. buildings in Camp MacArthur and on a certain day, yet to be named, there will be a concert simultaneously in each of the five buildings. Talent will be brought from other Texas cities and the concerts will be of wonderful variety and excellence. The zeal with which the State Federation is working for the cause of music for soldiers is worthy of the greatest commendation.

Mrs. McNutt has already been responsible for three concerts at the Y. M. C. A., each of which was attended by from two to four thousand soldiers. There still remain two Y. M. C. A.'s and concerts are being planned for these.

BASKETRY AT THE COTTON PALACE

Miss Gertrude Bush, superintendent of the basketry department of the Cotton Palace, wishes all those who will exhibit baskets at the Cotton Palace to bring their baskets in on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 30 and 31, between the hours of 11 and 4. No baskets will be received after Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

PICNIC SUPPER WITH CAPTAIN AND MRS. ANDRES

Capt. and Mrs. E. H. Andres entertained a number of friends on Friday evening at their home on Morrow. A delightful picnic supper was spread and an evening of impromptu music and entertainment was enjoyed.

TEA AND DANCE FOR DEBUTANTES

Two charming debutantes will be presented on Tuesday, October 30, when Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dossett will be at home at 5 o'clock in honor of Miss Elizabeth Dossett and Miss Margaret Herren, house guest for the winter. Again at 8:30 for a dance, Mr. and Mrs. Dossett have issued cards.

IDLEASE BRIDGE TO MEET TUESDAY

The Idlease Bridge will meet the coming Tuesday with Mrs. Nat Tanenbaum, Fourteenth and Austin street, at 3 o'clock.

FORT WORTH WEDDING OF INTEREST HERE

A wedding of interest to Wacoans took place at the Y. M. C. A. building of Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Monday evening when Miss Lucile Taylor and Mr. James Homer Gillespie were united in marriage. Mr. Gillespie, a young man well known in Waco, was assistant city electrician before leaving with the Waco boys for Camp Bowie. Miss Taylor was quite a favorite here and the announcement of the nuptials has occasioned surprise as well as a shower of good wishes. The wedding was quite military, the parties being attended by Miss Lillian Walker and Lieut. Hall, Miss Ann Cunningham and Sergt. Hugo Martin, all of Waco.

HIPPODROME THEATRE PROGRAM

Sunday, Monday—"The Adventurer," two-reel Mutual Chaplin, with Charlie Chaplin. Also "Fighting Odds," six-reel Goldwyn with Maxine Elliott.

Tuesday and Wednesday—"Barbary Sheep," five-reel Paramount-Artcraft, with Elsie Ferguson. Also "His Wedding Night," two-reel comedy with Fatty Arbuckle.

Thursday—"Life's Whirlpool," five-reel Metro, with Ethel Barrymore.

Friday and Saturday—"Son of His Father," five-reel Paramount, with Charles Ray. Also "Rubbing it In," Metro comedy with Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Drew. Also Pathe News.

Coming next Sunday: William S. Hart, in "The Narrow Trail."

"THE SON OF HIS FATHER" AT THE HIPPODROME

The sort of stuff that makes America respected in every clime and which is asserting itself today in the remarkable preparation for war, is featured in the new Charles Ray picture made by Thomas H. Ince for Paramount and showing at the Hippodrome Friday and Saturday. This is "The Son of His Father," the famous novel of Ridgewell Cullum in which is told the story of the splendid American youth, Gordon Carbhoy, son of a rich father, who is thrown on his own resources and makes good to an extent that carries everything before him, amazes his grouchy old father and his associates and wins the prettiest girl in the west for his bride. Ray is well known for his depictions of weak characters boys who yet win the wholehearted sympathy of the audience; he is also noted for his portrayal of the gawky farmer boy who makes good in various ways; and in his last picture before this he was seen as "Sudden Jim," an American youth of the type that never sees defeat but goes in with the determination to win and wins gloriously. Just such a youth is he in "The Son of His Father," and no man on the screen could portray this youth with the splendid naturalness and sincerity with which Ray does. Realism to the nth degree is secured for the picture in the big fight scene. Little Vola Vale, many times seen in Lasky pictures, is the leading woman for Ray and is more charming than ever before because so ideally cast. Charles K. French is the stern father who puts the boy on his mettle, and Robert McKim is the "villain," as usual, "than which there is no other such."

SCREEN PLAY ASKS A VITAL QUESTION

Harold Lockwood's forthcoming seven-act Metro wonderful, "Paradise Garden," a screen version of the popular novel by George Gibbs, which will be seen at the Hippodrome theatre on Thursday only, arouses the question of whether it is wise to keep people in ignorance of the pitfalls that may beset them, or to warn and instruct them so that they may avoid dangers.

In this fascinating photodrama, directed by Fred J. Balshofer for the Yorke Film Corporation, the hero, Jerry Benham, is, by the terms of his father's will, brought up in entire ignorance of evil. He is carefully educated, with the exception that all mention of women is left out of his school books. When he emerges into the world that other people know, his innocence has a rude awakening. He learns of women, and cannot distinguish between good and evil ones. He meets sorrow and disillusionment in some intensely dramatic scenes, and his soul touches the depths before he is able to readjust his ideas of living. But the wholesomeness of his early training again asserts itself, and the question that each individual spectator of "Paradise Garden" must settle for himself is whether pitfalls should be pointed out or disregarded.

"BARBARY SHEEP" AT HIPPODROME

When the famous stage star, Elsie Ferguson, finally agreed to sign her name to a picture contract, she asked to be allowed to chose her own vehicle. This was granted and the result is the unusual production, "Barbary Sheep," which will show at the Hippodrome Tuesday and Wednesday. This is the famous novel by Robert Hichens, his most popular since "The Garden of Allah," laid in Algeria, and dealing with the spell of the country and a native cavalry officer on a beautiful English woman with a vivid imagination and too much idle time on her hands. The settings and atmosphere faithfully reproduce this strange country and its people and ideals, complete villages having been built for it under the direction of Maurice Tourneur who has spent many years in northern Africa and is familiar with Algeria. Mr. Tourneur is an artist of splendid talent, and it was in the pursuance of this art that he went to this country of wonderful colors and strange and artistic peoples and natural beauties. The story tells of Kathryn, Lady Wyverne, the wife of a huntsman who is too engrossed with his sports to realize that his beautiful young wife is dissatisfied. She begs him to go to Algeria, there to hunt the famous wild Barbary sheep, and to take her along. He agrees and the adventures and strange event that transpire when Kathryn meets the fascinating native cavalry officer is the theme of the unusual story. Lumsden Hare and Pedro de Cordova are the leading men for the beautiful Miss Ferguson.

ELEPHANTS DRINK BEER WITH MIDGET CO.

Following instructions from the manager of Singer's Midgets, who are to appear at the Orpheum next week, has placed an order for a half-keg of beer for each day of the week.

No, gentle reader, the beer is not for the little men and women, but for "Nemo" and "Toto," the young elephants with the midget organization. The former is eight and the latter four years old, but despite their tender ages, they can absorb an unusual quantity of the amber fluid, without becoming intoxicated.

Leo Singer has engaged the most competent animal attendants obtainable for the two pets, who show their affection for the midgets and employes by fondly caressing them with their trunks.

"Nemo" and "Toto" can readily understand four different languages, and obey orders equally well, whether given in English or French.

"TWIN BEDS" HERE AT THE AUDITORIUM

Direct from its one year's solid run in New York, Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's sparkling comedy, "Twin Beds," which is now keeping our London cousins in convulsions of laughter, comes to the Auditorium theatre Saturday matinee and night, and will spread its gospel of mirth. A. S. Stern and company, under whose management the attraction will play here, have surely a gold mine, for the impression made by this comedy everywhere is such as to warrant the belief in its lasting qualities beyond the limit heretofore reached in the realm of laugh plays. "Twin Beds" really belongs under the head of roaring comedy, by which is meant a comedy that brings continuous peals of laughter from the audience. The skill with which the complications are said to be handled and the humor and rapidity of the development are all features which form the success of this excruciatingly funny play. "Twin Beds" is played with great spirit and snap by an excellent company of stage favorites under the direction of A. S. Stern and company.

AL H. WILSON IN "IRISH 15TH"

Al H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian and a capable company, will present the new stirring song play, "The Irish 15th," at the Auditorium theatre on Friday evening.

This latest offering of Mr. Wilson's was written by Theodore Burt Sayre who has an enviable reputation as a writer of successful plays. The atmosphere of "The Irish 15th" is military in character and is enhanced by appropriate stage settings and a number of electrical effects new to stagecraft.

Around the plot of the play, which is said to be ingenious, the author has supplied an interesting story through which is drawn well defined threads of pathos and comedy. This new departure from the former offerings of this favorite comedian bids fair to outrival in success anything he has heretofore produced, since it offers a new field for his versatility.

A number of new songs will be introduced during the action the titles being "I Want You Then Machree," "Ireland is Your Home, Sweet Home," "My Mother's Wedding Ring," "A Lily from Heaven," "The Irish Will Be There."

NEW BILL WILL OPEN AT AUDITORIUM TODAY

An entirely new program begins today at the Auditorium with two performances.

Charles Withers, not only an actor of recognized ability, but a writer and business man as well, offers what will be one of the season's pronounced comedy hits. It's title is "For Pity's Sake," but its purpose is for humor's sake and that only. It is a most enjoyable travesty on the old-time "meller dramer" days when theatres in the rural sections were mere remodeled barns. Mr. Withers assumes the role of manager, orchestra, director and stage hand, who is a typical "hayseed" in every respect. He carries with him a company of ten artists and a carload of "sensational" stage effects for the enactment of the "thriller" which is in four scenes.

Maria Lo & Co. give a splendid reproduction of the world's masterpieces in china. The offering is given the title "Porcelain."

The Four Swors, all well known to Wacoans theatregoers, who have established reputations as blackface character funsters, will offer a skit of laughable patter, song and music, and is said to be one of the program's biggest hits.

Other numbers of the new bill will be Hudler Stein and Phillips in a snappy offering of song, "Steps of Harmony," Holt and Rosedale in songs and stories set to music; Fern, Richelieu and Fern in an athletic comedy, and Fred Kornau who whistles himself into favor with popular and classic melodies.

"FIGHTING ODDS" AT HIPPODROME

The producers of "Fighting Odds," the Goldwyn picture in which Maxine Elliott is starred and which shows at the Hippodrome today and tomorrow, have overlooked no opportunity for realism. There are two scenes in this picture made at places that are known far and wide, and which are not easy to duplicate. One of these is Sherry's on Fifth avenue, and the other is Sing Sing. Director Allan Dwan decided that nothing but the real thing would do for these backgrounds, and at Sherry's and at Sing Sing the scenes were made. Any one who has ever seen Sherry's will recognize the great dining room. It is not supposed that so many have seen the inside of Sing Sing, but the gates of the famous prison will be recognized easily. Miss Elliott comes back to dramatic work after a rest of several seasons, and brings to the role of the loyal and clever wife all the grace and beauty and ability for which she is famous on two continents. She is a queenly woman and her role in this story is eminently fitting. It is a story of big business and of automobile manufacturing. Henry Clive is the husband and Charles Dalton, a fine actor of quiet power, is the unscrupulous financier. Irving Cobb, the famous story writer, and Roi Cooper Megrue, the playwright, wrote the story of "Fighting Odds."

MISS BESSE DAINTY AT AUDITORIUM TWO DAYS

Starting Tuesday night, Besse Dainty plays another comedy drama, "Oh, What a Night," and said to be one of the best plays of its kind ever written. In this play Miss Dainty will wear several stunning gowns. The entire company will be seen in parts best suited to their abilities. Special scenery will be used to give the play the proper atmosphere. A big benefit will be played Wednesday matinee and night for the base hospital. This will be one of the finest programs ever arranged in Waco and no doubt it will be capacity at both performances. Miss Dainty will be seen on that day with her company with added talent from Camp MacArthur.

Star Diving Girls

RUTH WELLS.

Ruth Wells, they call her "Tiny-Bit" on the show, was born where the waters of the Pacific roll near to Frisco. Getting into the water at an early age was natural and before long, while other "kids" were wading near the shore, Ruth was able to battle her way against the breakers where the grown-ups sported. Her daredevil diving and long distance swimming attracted attention and she was soon in the limelight with older and more experienced swimmers, taking part in aquatic sports and contests. At the Panama-Pacific exposition she was one of the big features. She is moulded like a Venus, her hair is a beautiful shade of auburn, she is all action and don't care how high the ladders are built, she will mount to the top and dive into a shallow pool.

"Tiny-Bit" is one of the featured diving beauties with the big aquatic spectacle, the Water Circus, with the C. A. Wortham shows which will furnish tented attractions for the Cotton Palace exposition.

LIONS IN REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING AT RALEIGH MONDAY

Because members had been so busy with the Liberty Loan subscription campaign during the past week, no regular program has been made out for the luncheon Monday of the Rotarians at the Hotel Releigh at 12:15. It was stated Saturday by Secretary C. E. Harman, however, that an interesting occasion will be provided for, and one feature will be a talk by one of the officers from Camp MacArthur.

CARD OF THANKS.

Words cannot express our appreciation of those friends who have been kind to us during our deep sorrow over the loss of our darling baby boy, who has just passed into eternal rest.

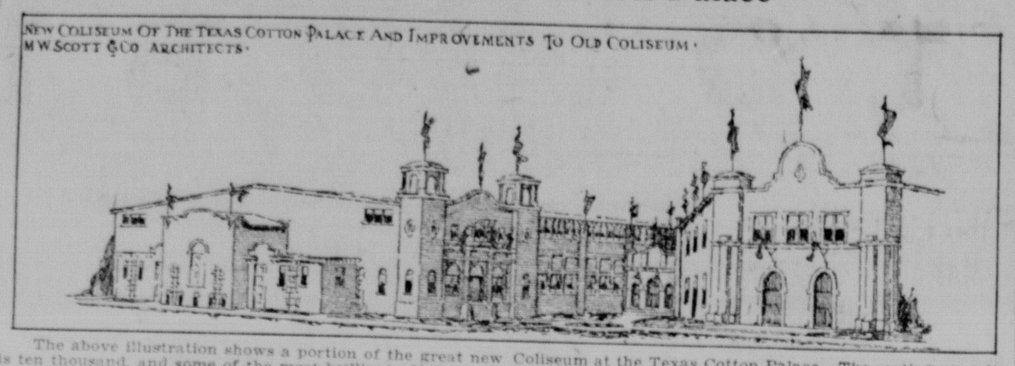
No sweeter memory can live in any heart than the memory of your untiring kindness.

The waves of sorrow must break upon every shore, but we hope that friends as true may gather 'round each of you when sorrow invades your home.

We wish to thank eatch and every one for this kindness; also for the beautiful floral offerings. We especially thank Bro. Groner for his inspiring words of hope and comfort. May God richly bless each of you.

MR. AND MRS. JNO. CUMMING.

New Coliseum at Cotton Palace



The above illustration shows a portion of the great new Coliseum at the Texas Cotton Palace. The seating capacity is ten thousand, and some of the most brilliant affairs in the history of Texas are scheduled to take place in this building during the coming exposition. No extra admittance fee is charged for any Coliseum attraction and there are feature entertainments planned for every afternoon and night.

PRAYER SERVICES TODAY FOR NATIONAL GUIDANCE

There will be held at the First Baptist church today prayer services which will last practically all day long, the prayers being petitions for special guidance at this time of national need.

The first prayer service will be held before Sunday school, and from that time on the petitions will ascend, asking for divine guidance, continuing until after nightfall. The preaching services will partake of this character at that church. Some of the other churches of Waco also will offer special prayers in this connection, but the First Baptist church has prepared to make it a day of real prayer for national guidance. The suggestion was made by Judge W. H. Jenkins, the matter having first come up in the form of a request from congress that churches all over the country observe Sunday, October 28.

The applicant for the post of servant was very "popular with herself" and seemed possessed of every virtue.

"What about setting up in the morning?" asked the prospective mistress. "Are you an early riser?"

"Oh, yes, ma'am," said the girl eagerly. "Why, at my last place I always cleaned the step, had breakfast ready and—er—made up the beds before the family were up!"

R. P. BISHOP JOINS THE NASH MOTORS

Anouncement has been made by C. B. Voorhis, general sales manager of the Nash Motors company, Kenosha, Wis., of the appointment of R. P. Bishop to the post of assistant sales manager. Mr. Bishop has just resigned the position of general sales manager of the King Motor Car company, Detroit, to join the Nash organization.

"An unusually wide and varied experience in the motor car industry fits Mr. Bishop particularly well for his new work," says Mr. Voorhis. "There are few executives in the automobile world who enjoy a wider acquaintance among dealers and distributors."

What the Theatre Admission Tax Means

An Interpretation of the Law of October 3, 1917, Compiled by Exhibitor's Trade Journal in Collaboration With the Internal Revenue Office and by it Approved Published by Waco Theatre Operators for the Benefit of the Public and as an Explanation of Why

PRICES OF ADMISSION WILL BE RAISED TO MEET THE TAX

THE LAW

Section 700. That from and after the first day of November, nineteen hundred and seventeen, there will be levied, assessed, collected and paid (a) a tax of 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the amount paid for admission to any place, including admission by season ticket or subscription, to be paid by the person paying for such admission.

Provided, that the tax on admission of children under twelve years of age where an admission charge for such children is made shall in every case be 1 cent.

(b) In the case of persons (except bona fide employes, municipal officers on official business, and children under twelve years of age) admitted free to any place at a time when and under circumstances under which an admission charge is made to other persons of the same class, a tax of 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the price so charged to such other persons for the same or similar accommodations, to be paid by the person so admitted.

The above provisions need no explanatory comment. The purport of the provision is to compel holders of passes or complimentary tickets to pay the tax under this act.

These taxes shall not be imposed in the case of a place the maximum charge for admission to which is 5 cents, or in the case of shows, rides, and other amusements (the maximum charge for admission to which is 10 cents), within outdoor amusement parks, or in the case of admission to such parks.

We Will Do Our Part

Read This Explanation So That You May Understand and Help Us

The war tax goes into effect on November 1st, 1917. This means that the exhibitor's duty to levy the tax and to keep a proper record of it begins on November 1st, 1917. The exhibitor is expected to have his report to the Internal Revenue Office by December 1st, 1917. Blanks for preparing such reports may be obtained at the Internal Revenue branches any time after November 1st.

OUR TAX

Let us itemize these additional burdens in order to make clear the universal increase of costs. Besides the admission tax, the exhibitor faces a new tax in addition to higher film rental charges. The film distributors have taken advantage of clause 1007 of the new law which permits the adding of the war income tax to any existing contracts. Fifteen cents per reel per day will be added to their bills for every reel leaving their shelves, and in spite of this they will suffer a slight loss because the price of raw stock has been advanced one-fourth of a cent per foot by the Eastman Kodak Company.

Three other taxes confropt the exhibitor. The first of these is the old tax of 1915 on seating capacity. The second is the new income tax. The third is the super-tax on all excess profits. It goes without saying that each and all of these make serious inroads into our income.

As if this were not enough, the exhibitor must cope with the rising cost of labor, and the difficulty of procuring good labor at any cost, the higher prices of coal and other supplies, the increase in the cost of accessories and the indirect, but still significant increase of all living expenses.

In the face of all this the exhibitor must charge a higher admission price or go out of business. I am sure that when the patrons of a theatre are made to realize such a state of affairs they will see the necessity for an increase in the cost of their recreation, and will be glad to pay it.

To this end, a campaign of education by means of slides and program articles will be published at once by every exhibitor. The public should and can be made to understand that in a season of higher prices for everything the exhibitor cannot remain where he is and exist. If such a campaign is carried on properly and promptly, I am certain that the exhibitor will have his public with him.

All persons admitted to your theatre free (either on litho passes or for any other consideration) will have to pay the tax except bona-fide employes and municipal officers. Children under twelve admitted free are exempt from paying the tax.

DON'T OVERSLEEP AND THEN TAKE IT OUT ON YOUR AUTO MOTOR

"It's great a lie a-bed these cool, brisk mornings," said John W. Bate, vice-president of the Mitchell Motors Company, Inc., "wink at the clock and turn over for just fifteen minutes more sleep.

"Even the busiest and most active of us must admit that; but—the great trouble with the average automobile driver is, that he stretches fifteen minutes itno thirty, hustles through a once-over shave, grabs a hasty breakfast, jumps into his car which has stood all night in a cold garage and races his engine for all it's worth, thinking that he'll get it warmed up quickly and be on his way to the office.

"That's all right as far as it goes; but, this same 'average man' never stops to think of the damage that can be done by racing his engine in an attempt to heat it quickly.

"Every car owner wants to make his car go farther and last longer at the minimum upkeep expense. Here are a couple of facts that he ought to keep before him every morning when he steps on the starter button:

"1. When a motor stands all night, the oil of course runs off the cylinder walls and bearings, down into the crank case. Consequently it's going to take a few minutes to properly lubricate these parts.

"2. The best way to warm a motor is to let it run slowly for three or four minutes. By doing that you give the oil a chance to work up onto the cylinder walls, pistons and bearings.

"If every motorist will only be careful about this one thing," said Mr. Bate, "we will find there will be a considerable saving in gasoline and oil, and a reduction in repair bills. Racing a motor causes excessive waste of gasoline and oil; and, in time, might cause irreparable damage.

"The patriotic thing to do, of course, is to be as economical of gasoline and oil as you are of meat and potatoes. It's the easiest thing to do, the best thing to do, and the cheapest thing to do."

NEW ADVERTISING MANAGER FOR MITCHELL

The Mitchell Motors Company, Inc., of Racine, Wis., announces the appointment of Frank A. Kapp as their advertising manager.

Before taking up his new duties on September 15, Mr. Kapp was associated with Willys-Overland, Inc. He had been in their advertising department three years, during which time he held various positions, each of which enabled him to add to his retail experience such information as now makes him well fitted to take charge of the Mitchell million-dollar advertising investment.

In speaking of Kapp's appointment, Otis C. Friend, president of the Mitchell company, said, "We feel that Frank Kapp is just the man we need to push our broad advertising plans for 1918 through to a successful completion. Although he has been with us but a few weeks we are already started on ad advertising and merchandising plan for 1918 that, we are sure, will meet with dealer and consumer approval everywhere. I might add that this is just the first step of the Mitchell company to bring with us a group of young men particularly well qualified to give special thought and attention to the problems of our rapidly growing dealer organization."

DORT CREDITED WITH NEW ECONOMY WORK

A final checking of the records of the observers and the final report of G. F. Stephenson, technical representative on the contest board of the American Automobile association, has been made by the association officials in New York, and the Dort is credited with the American economy mark, not only for gasolene, but for lubricating oil as well.

In covering 4,658.4 miles the Dort averaged 23.93 miles to a gallon of gasolene and the remarkable average of 1,774.6 miles to a gallon of lubricating oil. Never before in history has such economy ever been demonstrated. Cars on unofficial runs have made greater mileage on a single gallon of gasolene than the Dort averaged, but never in a run which included a regular touring route has any car averaged officially the economy mark of the Dort.

BANQUET IS HELD AT THE RALEIGH IN HONOR C. W. NASH

A great deal has been heard in automobile circles for many months about the new Nash automobile, heralded as the master product of a master builder, C. W. Nash, former president of the General Motors company, and at present head of the organization which bears his name.

Consequently it was an event of unusual interest when Mr. and Mrs. Nash were entertained in Waco on Thursday by the Herrick McKarty Automobile Co.

Mr. Nash is on a tour of inspection over Texas. He expressed his gratification over the conditions existing in this territory which point to great business for this fall and winter. He says that Waco is much talked about as a live and hustling city and that his expectations were more than fulfilled by what he saw while here.

A banquet was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nash Thursday night in the gold room of the Raleigh. An eight-course dinner was served, and an orchestra furnished music during the banquet. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Herrick, Mr. James Herrick, Miss Sue Herrick, Mr. Miller, southwestern distributor of the Nash; Mr. T. D. Humphreys, manager Herrick & McLarty-Auto Co., local Nash distributors; Mr. W. G. Broiles, Mr. and Mrs. McClinton, and Messrs. Pratt, nephews of Mrs. Nash.

The Nash party left for San Antonio after the banquet in company with Mr. Miller.

SHE CHOOSES A MAXWELL

Possessed of a regular fleet of high-powered motor cars, Miss Charlotte Walker, a society belle of San Francisco, whose fame as a motoring tourist extends to all parts of the United States, chooses a Maxwell touring car for mountain work in preference to the much higher priced motors.

"The ease of control and sturdy power of the Maxwell are ideal for the difficult trails in the hills," Miss Walker says.

She asserts the Maxwell takes the steep inclines in the mountains much better than any of her other possessions. She has toured over the Rockies, the Selkirks, Grand Canyon, White Mountains and visited nearly all the beauty spots in the United States and Canada. Motoring to inaccesible places is a much stronger hobby with Miss Walker than the usual society diversions to most young women.

She is now planning several very difficult trips for the early fall season.

The enormous demand for KISSEL-KARS is the best evidence that the car-wise class knows the proof of KISSEL-KAR merit.

WACO RUBBER CO. MAKES EXCELLENT RECORD IN WACO

The Waco Rubber company, of which George McGhee is manager, is one of the jobbing concerns of Waco of which the city may well be exceptionally proud for the record of growth it is making. Not many months ago Mr. McGhee took up headquarters at 516 Washington street, and it was thought then that no enlargement of space would be necessary for a long time. The rapid growth of business, however, had necessitated more room, and the first of last week Mr. McGhee moved to 905 Austin street, which will be the home of the Waco Rubber company in the future.

Mr. McGhee is distributor for Central Texas for the Diamond tire, and has just taken on the state distributing rights for the Delion tire—a tire which has shown a remarkable sale during the three years it has been on the market. The Delion is guaranteed for 6,000 miles.

Monday, Mr. Ira A. Worthington, president of the Delion Tire company, will visit Waco to look over the field and visit Mr. McGhee. This indicates the importance which is being attached to Waco as a distributing center.

Mr. O. C. Reabill of Chicago, district manager of the Diamond Tire company, was here visiting Mr. McGhee recently and expressed his pleasure at the wonderful business being done in this territory. In recent months the sales of Diamond tires in Central Texas have multiplited twentyfold and this is now the largest account they have in the state.

AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS PART IN THE GREAT WAR

Predicting that the standardization of all kinds of self-propelled vehicles on land, sea or in the air, will be one of the chief factors in determining the outcome of the great war, George W. Dunham, president of the Society of Automotive Engineers and civilian member of the board of motoring field artillery of the U. S. A., spoke on "Automotive Engineering and the Great War" at a meeting last week of the Engineering Society of Buffalo.

Mr. Dunham empasized the large number of war emergency machines now being manufactured after designs submitted by automotive engineers working in co-operation with army officers. The term automotive includes the automobile, aeronautic, tractor, motorcycle, marine and stationary gas engine fields—in fact, every type of self-propelled vehicle.

The design, production, operation and upkeep of these classes are of the utmost importance in time of peace. During a period of war however, the problems are multiplied many times because of their magnitude and the pressing importance of speed in their solution. Continuing, Mr. Dunham said:

"In the last analysis was as fought today is substantially the matching of great engineering enterprises. In the long run the side with the best engineering genius (including in that term productive and organizing ability) will win the contest. The ramifications of engineering acomplishments are infinite. They include the automotive, mechanical, civil, mining, electrical, chemical, sanitary, marine and railway fields, not to mention others of scarcely less importance. All these are interrelated and interdependent, so that to say which is of the greatest value would be to work an injustice to all. The automotive field is second to none, however, as will be found on analyzing the situation.

Goodness Is a BUICK Quality

GOODNESS

Goodness is everything.
Nothing else is worth a flake of fool's gold.
Applied to a man, or the thing he makes, the law is the same.
Applied, in particular, to the thing he makes, it is an iron law.
Goodness builds a business base of solid stone.
Goodness re-sells and perpetuates itself.
Goodness breaks down resistance.
Goodness does not need to argue. It is accepted.
Goodness does not need to answer slander. It is the answer.
Goodness makes even mediocre salesmanship effective.
It renders skilled salesmanship invincible.
Goodness does not wait in the ante-room. It opens doors, and walks straight into the inner sanctum.
Goodness adds weight to every advertising word that is printed about it.
It makes more effective every effort expended in its behalf.
Goodness dignifies all who play a part in it.
It makes good mechanics, better mechanics.
It makes good manufacturers, better manufacturers.
And it makes better men of both of them
Should they cease to be worthy, they will pay the penalty.
A business not built on goodness must be periodically built over.
Goodness renews itself—the other has to be renewed.
When goodness is lacking, a business must enlist new expedients and new explanations—it must exert excess energy to overcome its own inertia.
Goodness conserves energy—lack of goodness wastes it.
Goodness is economic—the lack of it extravagant.
Profits may result either way.
But the profits made by good business endure. They are coined out of the pleasant and approving thoughts of the consumer.
They replenish themselves, and stay sweet.
The other profits are filched from the unwary and the unwatchful.
They carry bitterness in their train.
Profits made out of goodness are the reward of duty well done.
The others are an advantage taken of the public.
Goodness is true gold.
The other is fool's gold.

WINTER SEASON IN SAXON TRADE

"Brisk as ever" is the way in which Saxon dealers are characterizing the retail motor car business for October. After two and a half months of the busiest times, the retailers still see no let-up in the harvest selling season and as a result the factory has been treated to the sight of a throng of dealers at its gates in the fall, all seeking cars for November and December deliveries, to say nothing of those who want cars immediately.

C. M. Payne of Des Moines, Iowa, came on to Detroit last week to fight for more cars for his territory. He says that he has never seen autumn motor car sales as heavy as in the last two months and that he surely will have to have a large number of cars right through the winter to supply the orders that his salesmen are getting every day.

A. E. Stitt of Hastings, Nebr., was another contender for cars. He came with the cash to purchase forty Saxons—five railroad carloads, and after much persuasion the sales department agreed to let him have immediate shipment. Stitt said he wouldn't wait to pay for the Saxons on delivery but would settle then and there if the cars were loaded at once and he did, after spending the greater part of a day on the shipping dock to see that the cars were safely put to bed for their journey westward.

From Rock Island, Ill., where Uncle Sam has a big arsenal and training camp, came John Dee to get seventeen cars, which he wanted shipped at once. He says business there is very good and that the war activities are making all other lines of work very prosperous.

A good many of the dealers are so busy they can't come to the factory in person but that does not stop them from ordering, pleading and sending out calls for help by telegraph and letter. All of them want more cars. The Stoutz Motor company of New Orleans is doing an excellent trade and the J. G. Lewis company of Atlanta has 140 orders on file at the factory. Both report that this year's cotton crop has been a big thing for the south and that more motor cars will be sold south of the Mason and Dixon line than ever before.

At Dallas the Ray-Rose company has been working at capacity while drive-aways to Indiana from the factory are almost daily occurrences. The Barkley-Wonser company of Indianapolis has been doing a splendid business and their sub-dealers at Terre Haute and Muncie especially have been taking large numbers of cars.

JOHN WILLYS HEADS WAR RECREATION FUND

The executive and organizing ability of John N. Willys, head of the Willys-Overland (Inc.) of Toledo, has been called into full play in connection with the raising, under his supervision, of a war camp community recreation fund of $3 for every soldier and sailor in the service of Uncle Sam. He will have associated with him in the big task men of national importance in nearly every city in the country.

President Wilson in a recent letter expressed appreciation of Mr. Willys' willingness to serve the country in this respect and wished the work every success. The letter was made public by the commission on training camp activities of the war and navy when the appointment of Mr. Willys to direct the campaign was announced.

The huge fund is to be used in providing hospitality and wholesome recreation for the enlisted men in communities adjacent to the training camps. Six or eight weeks will be devoted to the campaign and the leaders in the movement hope to have the fund oversubscribed before the expiration of that period. National campaign headquarters has been established in Washington, D. C.

Secretary of War Baker, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Raymond B. Fosdick, chairman of the joint departmental commission, joined in the appointment of committeemen who will assist Mr. Willys.

CHILE FINDS MOTOR CAR USEFUL IN WAR

Chile, where automobiles were comparatively few until recent years, and which is still entirely without them in many sections, is nevertheless none behind in advanced ideas of their use. "Success," a Valparaiso publication, not only is an enlightening commentary on the Chileans' zealous interest in war preparation, but also emphasizes previous indications that it is a country in which the motor car has an unusually good future in prospect:

"It is the very just and patriotic desire of those who are at the head of our military school, to extend at all times the instruction given to the cadets, and they therefore conceived the idea of mobilizing a company, with automobiles, on a war footing. Mr. Jorge Besa, representative of Dodge Brothers motor car, consented to furnish the number of cars necessary for the transportation of the cadets.

"When it became known among some of the private owners of motor cars that the military school would undertake the manoeuvre on Saturday, the 28th of April last, they very patriotically offered their co-operation, placing their machines at the disposition of the military command of the school. The principal object of the manoeuvre was to try out the embarkation, disembarkation and transport of troops in automobiles, and the result was amply satisfactory to the management of the school, as well as to those of us who had occasion to witness the manoeuvre, which was carried out in the most perfect order and very rapidly (50 seconds in each of the operations of embarking and disembarking). As soon as the destination had been reached, the cadets performed some military evolutions under Captain del Pozo, who was in command of the company.

"It may be mentioned that neither going nor coming did the cars suffer any accidents or get out of order. Upon the return to the school, Colonel Quiroga, in charge of the establishment, invited all of the chauffeurs to the sub-officers' casino where drinks were served, and in brief and patriotic sentences, he thanked them for their enthusiastic assistance. Before closing, it is our duty to call attention to the very noble service performed by Mr. Jorge Besa, which is an honor to him as a citizen and as a patriot, he having undertaken the arduous task of getting the motor cars needed by the school."

KISSEL ALL-YEAR CAR SAVES LOSSES

"That motor truck owners realize the decreased results they get from the necessity of laying up their trucks on account of storms or severe weather," says J. I. Rouse of the Kissel Kar, "is being shown every day by the increasing number of requests for information regarding Kissel trucks equipped with the new Kissel all-year cab.

"This latest Kissel innovation gives a weather-proof cab in winter and an open, cool housing in summer by removing the winter attachments which, through the exclusive Kissel construction, are leak, draft and rattle-proof when in use.

"The present continuous uses to which motor trucks are being put to, created by the necessity for unusual efficiency in handling goods and economy in time and labor, will increase during the coming months. Most truck owners appreciate this fact and is one of the main reasons why they are investigating those trucks that provide the greatest means of protection for drivers which in the long run means increased results for owners."

ROYAL CORD TIRES IN GREAT EXHIBIT

A Royal Cord equipped Chalmers car driven by Joe Dawson has just broken the road record from San Antonio to Dallas, a distance of 303 miles, by two hours and thirty minutes. Time, six hours and fifty-six minutes, or an average of forty-three miles per hour. This new record, which is regarded as unbeatable, was made without any tire trouble whatsoever. Dawson says great credit is due to the wonderful resiliency, speed and strength of United States Royal Cord tires used.

ONE AUTOMOBILE TO EVERY 29 PEOPLE

"From the fact that there are over four million automobiles in the United States—which means one automobile for every twenty-nine persons—shows how the public realizes the benefits of the automobile," says J. I. Rouse of the Kissel Kar.

"The all-year car enables owners to participate in these benefits through the winter months, where otherwise they would either have to motor in the discomfort of an open car or store it until spring. Thus the all-year car has changed the motoring habits of a nation by adding six months to the motorist's calendar.

"This fall and winter, on account of the increased patriotic efforts on the part of owners, particularly women, the object of which is to make our boys in France comfortable and well taken care of, the automobile will be continuously used in all weathers. It is such anticipations that cause visitors to examine the all-year car with an eye to its winter utility and efficiency.

"That is why prospects are particular as to knowing that the all-year car is adaptible to such activities. They want to know how quickly the all-year top can be attached or detached, the roominess of the salon body, giving plenty of space for friends, as well as shopping and knitting bags—how easy it is for a woman to handle."

STUDEBAKER CORP TAKES MILLION OF NEW LIBERTY LOAN

For the second time Studebaker has subscribed a million dollars to the government to help win the fight for democracy. President A. R. Erskine, of the Studebaker Corporation, has announced that his company has purchased $1,000,000 of the second Liberty Loan.

"We have made this second purchase because we feel it our duty," says Mr. Erskine. "It takes billions to feed, clothe and munition our soldiers; to build guns, ships, airplanes; and to transport and protect our men. Those of us who stay at home must furnish the money."

TWO-POWER RANGE PEERLESS FEATURE

The widely-known two-power-range feature of the Peerless Eight continues to be a chief selling point for that popular car, in the opinion of Robert J. Schmunk, sales manager for the Peerless Motor Car company of Cleveland.

The novel construction which gives this car all the advantages of the so-called loafing range and, at the same time, all the thrills and surge of emotion experienced in driving a car of tremendous speed and brute power, has gradually led to its being known as the "car with second wind."

FIRST MOTORIZED BATTERY FORMED

Doubtless there will be many completely motorized batteries before the present war is ended, but the honor of being first goes to Battery C, Fifth F. A., commandered by Capt. W. H. Cauron, and formed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

A battery consists of four guns with their limbers and six caissons with their limbers, six ammunition trucks, a store truck and a machine shop or repair truck. In the case of guns of smaller calibre a tractor will haul a section of artillery which consists of a caisson and its limber and a gun and its limber. Much shorter piles are used than with horses, the end of the pole being provided with a lunet or eye, making the coupling for the tractor. Each tractor pulls a load of about nine tons.

The vehicles used are the six trucks, the Holt 45 h. p. caterpillar tractor and a Dodge Brothers touring car.

The entire brigade as proposed by the war department will be composed of three regiments having a maximum strength of 3685 officers and men. It will have 72 guns and 108 caissons. To keep this equipment working will require 108 ammunition trucks, 27 store trucks, 90 tractor, 9 repair trucks, 21 repair cars, 9 passenger trucks, all motor driven. In addition to these vehicles the brigade has 297 motorcycles with side cars and 30 reel carts.

The adoption of universal motorized equipment is the acknowledged desire of military authorities. The fixed railroad tracks offers to the enemy an opportunity of delaying operations, since it is necessary to drop only a few bombs to put transportation facilities out of commission. Roads are easier to repair and the use of motor trucks and touring cars of sturdy construction allows detours when necessary.

A careful record was kept of the performance of motor vehicles in the service of the government on the Mexican border, and much valuable information was gained. It was chiefly because of its splendid record in this service that Dodge Brothers motor car was chosen for the first motorized battery.

"The work of motorizing field artillery is being pushed ahead in an aggressive manner by the ordnance department at Washington," says the Timken Magazine.

"The knowledge of the best trained regular army officers is being combined with that of automobile engineers of generally recognized standards. The engineering staff of the ordnance department is being supplemented, and for the time being at least the services of the men of first class engineering ability and proper experience are being enlisted. Good men are needed in this highly attractive form of government service, and those desiring to enlist should get in touch with Coker F. Clarkson, secretary of the advisory commission of the Council of the National Defense, Washington, D. C. If you have the desire and the ability, here is a chance to serve your country."

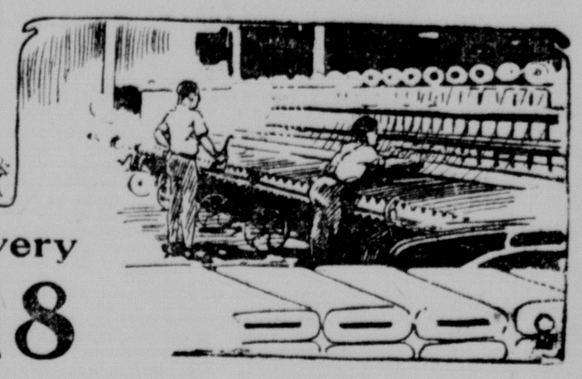
NASH—OAKLAND—CHEVROLET

Choose One of These Three Cars and You Will Make No Mistake

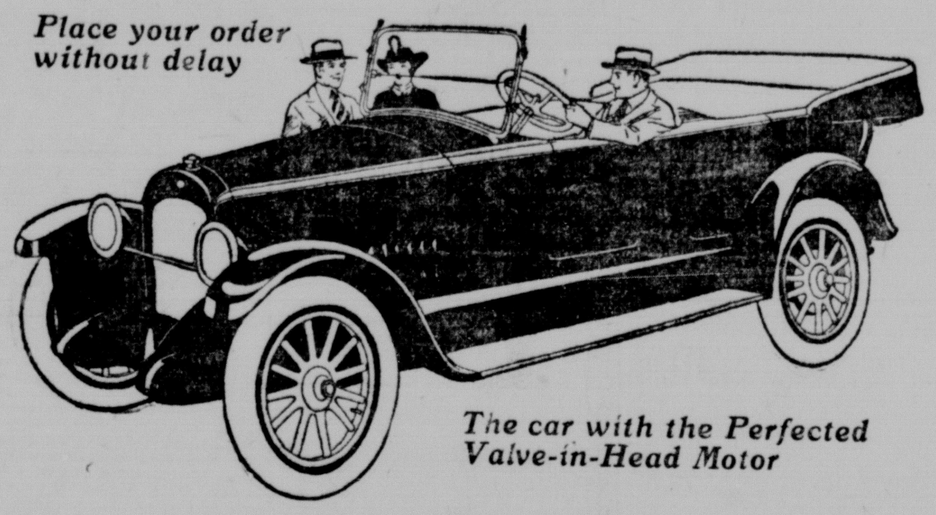


Ordering Your Car Now Will Insure More Prompt Delivery

The Nash Six for 1918

THAT the many thousands of automobile buyers who awaited the NASH SIX have found that it fully measures up to their expectations has been made evident by the marked favor accorded this car wherever it has been shown.

Place your order without delay



The car with the Perfected Valve-in-Head Motor

THE advance statement from the factory that the perfected valve-in-head motor "embodies certain definite developments that mark a far step forward in motor construction" seems more conservative than ever in the light of the reception that motor has received.

The unusual pressure brought to bear upon the manufacturing facilities of this company by our Government for Nash Quad Trucks, the unusual labor conditions and delay in securing some of the special machinery for the manufacture of the Nash Six, ordered many months ago, have handicapped our production.

Probably no car has ever received a more enthusiastic reception than this valve-in-head Nash Six.

Everywhere the same record of unusual interest among motorwise enthusiasts has been registered.

The remarkable enthusiasm aroused by this car would have produced an oversold condition even under normal circumstances. Now this is particularly true in view of the extremely abnormal conditions which have arisen since the original production plans on this model were made.

The New Nash Six is being built as rapidly as possible under existing conditions. But we now find it impossible to get up to our original daily volume schedule of production until 60 or 90 days later than originally planned.

Considering the unusual demand for this car, we deem it but fair to be absolutely frank and say that it is advisable for you who wish to receive one of the early allotments of these cars to call and inspect it as soon as possible—making reservation for delivery as soon as it can be made to you. Orders naturally will be filled strictly in the order received.

Nash Model 671 is a big roomy 7-passenger car. It has been refined and improved by Nash Motors and is now giving excellent service in the hands of thousands of owners. We are now in regular production on this car, and delivery can be made with reasonable promptness.

Oakland

The New Oakland "Sensible 6" Well Merits Its Name

IT IS DAY-AFTER-TOMORROW'S CAR READY FOR YOU TODAY. It is a continuation of the remarkably successful car of the past three seasons; the car which has been annually refined, improved and strengthened—the forerunner of the type of automobile that shall soon command America.

Scientific development of the engine now makes it more powerful, more speedy at the get-away, more active in traffic and more economical in use of fuel.

Improvements in the design of intake and exhaust manifolds secure the utmost power value from today's gasoline.

The overhead valve high-speed, six cylinder engine now delivers 44-horsepower at 2,600 r. p. m. or one full working horsepower for every 48 pounds of car weight.

The new force feed oiling system gives thorough lubrication to the vital moving parts of the engine.

Higher cooling efficiency has been obtained through the use of a larger pump and new type biplane fan of powerful suction.

Proper design has contrived a full 106 inches of body room on the 112-inch wheelbase—affording seating capacity and leg room equal to that of many cars of much longer wheelbase.

Long, specially graded, semi-elliptic underslung springs and extra large tires give ideal riding comfort—accentuated by the deep genuine leather upholstery.

The fine appearance of the new Oakland Sensible Six is enhanced by a sloping windshield of new design; an oil gauge of pressure feed type on the dash; a deeper radiator; a higher body wall and the tire carrier at the rear of the car.

These are just a few of the features that contribute to the complete excellence of the new Oakland Sensible Six.

Chevrolet Comfort Marks New Era in Motor Car Construction

To DO things a car must HAVE things. To have the POWER, SPEED, ECONOMY, BEAUTY and COMFORT which the Chevrolet offers you, a car must either be priced high, or made in a factory where efficiency predominates and skilled workmen are employed.

The specifications of the 1918 Chevrolet tell the story to the technical expert—but the most satisfactory way for the average person to find out about this car is by riding in one.

One hour spent in driving the new Chevrolet, in noting its ease of operation, its ready response to the throttle, its easy "pick-up," its comfort, will make you forever a booster for the "biggest little car on the market."

SILVER CHASSIS OF MAXWELL CAR TO BE AT COTTON PALACE

Announcement was made Saturday by D. H. Rubsam, vice-president and manager of the American Motors company, distributors of Maxwell automobiles, that a silver chassis of the new 1918 model Maxwell, specially built for the Cotton Palace, will arrive in the next few days for installation in the exhibit space of the American Motors company at Waco's big exposition.

This chassis is finished in white enamel, and will be mounted on standards, with electric lights suspended in the cylinders and all over the motor, so that the public may easily see the working of every part. The motor will be kept running constantly.

A lecturer from the factory, Mr. D. S. Hastereiter, will be on hand to explain every detail of construction, and his lecture is said to be intensely interesting to every motorist whether he drives a Maxwell or not.

Mr. Rubsam states that his company has gone to a great deal of expense and trouble in arranging for this silver chassis to be on exhibition at the Cotton Palace, and he anticipates that it will be one of the interesting features of the Cotton Palace.

RUBBER COMPANY AND EMPLOYES TAKE $4,000,000

New York, Oct. 27.—The United States Rubber company has made subscription to the second Liberty Loan for itself and subsidiary companies of $1,750,000 and for its selling branches in various sections of the country of $750,000, a total subscription on the part of the United States Rubber company of $2,500,000. In addition to this the employes of the company have subscribed for over $1,500,000, making a total of $4,000,000. These United States Rubber company subscriptions exceeded the amount subscribed for the first Liberty Loan by $1,600,000.

The United States Rubber company is the parent company of the United States Tire company, of which the Quick Tire Service, Inc., Praetorian building, is local agents.

MAXWELL NON-STOP CAR SHOWS ECONOMY

From Daniel H. Rubsam, vice-president and manager of the American Motors company, Maxwell distributors, comes the report that the non-stop Maxwell, which has been driven 138,000 miles, 22,000 of which was the non-stop test, has established another performance. On September 14th on the fair grounds track at Springfield, Ill., the car made 27.3 miles on a gallon of gasoline, and disinterested observers conducted the test. Persons were allowed to guess the mileage this car would make and these average from six and a half to twenty-eight miles, the majority guessing below twenty.

Prices and Terms Tell the Story!
We could tell you each week in words so plain and simple that a child would understand the meaning thereof, the extremely LOW PRICES and EASY TERMS prevailing throughout ROWELL'S big store, but "seeing is believing;" therefore don't merely take our messages as advertising talk to attract your attention—come and request us to prove the correctness of our statement above that ROWELL'S PRICES AND TERMS TELL THE STORY. Every salesman is a competent and truthful, painstaking employe, who will gladly assist you in your selection of articles for home comfort.
ROWELL'S STORE is a mammoth exposition of Furniture that's GOOD. Good enough to grace the homes of the most refined and exacting tastes. Good enough to last for an ordinary lifetime and then hand down to posterity. Good enough to withstand the severest tests in the homes where a dozen bright-eyed, merry-making children romp and play, yet so LOW IN PRICE and sold on such EASY TERMS that the most humble laborer can have some of ROWELL'S dependable Furniture to sweeten up the dingy rooms in the little cottage where honest effort and frugality make home life worth while.

NEW ADVERTISING MANAGER MITCHELL

The Mitchell Motors company (Inc.) of Racine, Wis., announces the appointment of Frank A. Kapp as their advertising manager.

Before taking up his new studies on September 15th, Mr. Kapp was associated with Willys-Overland (Inc.) He has been in their advertising department three years, during which time he held various positions, each of which enabled him to add to his retail experience such information as now makes him well fitted to take charge of the Mitchell million dollar advertising investment.

In speaking of Kapp's appointment, Otis C. Friend, president of the Mitchell company, said: "We feel that Frank Kapp is just the man we need to push our broad advertising plans for 1918 through to a successful completion. Although he has been with us but a few weeks, we are already started on an advertising and merchandising plan for 1918 that we are sure will meet wear dealer and consumer approval everywhere. I might add that this is just the first step of the Mitchell company to bring with us a group of young men particularly well qualified to give special thought and attention to the problems of our rapidly growing dealer organization."

"LIBERTY ROADS" NEW SLOGAN FOR MOTORMEN

"We have Liberty Bonds to help win the war," says C. H. Larson, president of the Oldsmobile company and the Motor clubs. "Why not 'liberty roads'?"

"The statement made by William F. McCombs, chairman of the New York good roads committee, that national war time efficiency demands 2,000,000 more miles of roads is no exaggeration," Mr. Larson continued. "If we call them 'liberty roads' and demonstrate to the public the very direct bearing they will have on the outcome of the war we shall stimulate popular interest and make unusually good progress I am sure."

Mr. Hoover rightly declares that food is going to win the war. Granting the truth of this promise, the day of victory then will be brought nearer by every step we take to have food in the right place at the right time. As arteries of transportation and communication, as a permanent means of binding together a land 3,000 miles across, there are few more effective mediums than good roads. In war time, as Mr. McCombs points out, they are an absolute requisite. Guns and cannon and ammunition are not the only weapons with which to fight. A sturdy struggle can be carried on by a nation well equipped with good roads.

FRACTORS AUTO LIGHT TESTS SATISFACTORY

The Automobile Club of America, in its last issue of Motor Travel, published the report of a test on tractors conducted by the technical committee. This is a type of non-glaring headlight device manufactured by the Crew Levick Company, Philadelphia, Pa. The results of the test show that the fractors produce a beam semi-cylindrical in section having a flat top at or near the "42-inch line." The photographs also show that with the fractors fitted in the head-lamps the major portion of the light is kept below the "42-inch line," as prescribed by many of the state laws; also that it gives the automobile driver ample illumination on the roadway and at the roadside for all practical purposes.

The pedestrian standing in front of the lamps or drivers of approaching cars will receive little of the reflected light from the lamps and should not be dazzled by the glare, although the words "glaze" and "dazzle" never have been positively defined as applied to automobile head-lamps.

INTENSIVE LOADING IS OVERLAND POLICY

Realizing that the heavy movement of government material, crops and countless other commodities will tax the freight carriers to the fullest extent, Willys-Overland, Inc., of Toledo, is exerting every effort to make one freight car do the work of two. "Intensive Loading" is the slogan in the traffic department and it is directly in line with recommendations of the National Council of Defense.

"Beginning immediately, we must load practically all cars to capacity. This will mean that to 'double deck' points, where from four to five automobiles have previously constituted the load, we expect to load not less than six. To points in the east and nearby states we will eliminate the loading of three automobiles to a car and will instead 'double deck' to the car's full capacity.

NEWSPAPER "ADS" TO TAKE THE PLACE OF MANY CATALOGUES

"Newspaper advertising has brought us so much business that we have decided to abandon our catalogues, amounting to over three million copies yearly, and spend the money with newspapers," declared Jesse Froehlich, vice president of the Times Square Auto Supply company of New York and Chicago, known the world over as a pioneer in exploiting automobile advertising.

"As a result of our present vigorous, widespread advertising campaign in the newspapers of the twenty leading cities, where we have branch stores, never in over fifteen years of our business career has our company enjoyed greater business return than during the past ten days."

AUTO BUSINESS IS GOOD, SAYS POERTNER

"With good crops and with more wealth in the country than ever before, the automobile business is in a splendid condition right now," says William C. Poertner, president of the Poertner Motor Car company, Inc., metropolitan distributors for National cars.

"On New York automobile row sales have been many during the month. So far as the National is concerned last month was a particularly good one, due probably to the fact that we had on view a big line of this season's models.

"We are receiving new Nationals each week and our line is now representative in every respect. The new National sedan, which is now being featured, is meeting with popular approval."

MAGNETIC CARS VERY POPULAR

"The guy who invented money was a clever young man, but I think the bird that doped out the first automobile had it on him for brains. If you got a bus yourself, for instance, you know that you can get a lot more pleasure outa six cylinders than you can outa six dollars."

The above is taken from a story by H. C. Winter, recently published in a well known magazine, under the title, "Other Men's Shoes." Those automobile agents who have read it think he is right, but the local agent of the Owen Magnetic does not think he put it strong enough. He wonders whether Mr. Winters has ever seen the "car of a thousand speeds," with no clanking gears, no tiresome shifting, no jerks, less wear on tires and less gas.

"We can tell him," says the local dealer, "that the sensation to be derived from riding in this car is as different from ordinary motoring as the comparison between a wagon and an airplane. For instance, take the simplicity of the thing. The wheels never feel the separate power impulses of the engine as transmitted in ordinary cars. Tires never shafe, nor skid, because your finger controls their pull. An electric brake cushions their stop, saving tires. The fullest measure of economy is automatic. With this transmission the engine is idling much of the time as one rolls along. As high as eighteen miles per gallon is recorded, which is pretty high for a car of the luxury class."

LIGHTING TROUBLES.

Owners of cars wired by the single-wire method should examine the ground connection at frequent intervals. A loose or corroded ground will often cause dim burning and sometimes it may even eliminate all flow of current.

The French War Exhibit Will Be Shown For The First Time In Texas At The Texas Cotton Palace Exposition

THE FAMOUS FRENCH WAR EXHIBIT, showing Cannons, Shells, Swords, Airplanes, Zeppelins, etc., etc. This Exhibit fills one entire building on the left hand side of the exposition grounds as you approach the main building.

In addition to the many articles of warfare, big and little that are displayed there is also a French Trench equipped with the same fittings as those now being used in the great world war on the French Battle Front.

There are also thousands of feet of Moving pictures that go with this exhibit. These pictures were taken under the direction of the French government and are actual scenes of the War and men in actual fighting.

This is without a question of doubt the greatest War Exhibit that has ever been shown in the United States. It comes to Waco under the direction of the French Government. You can't afford to miss it and every school child as well as grown person in Waco should visit the French War Exhibit.

24TH INFANTRY ENROUTE AT 5 P M

NEGRO SOLDIERS LEAVE WACO YESTERDAY FOR COLUMBUS, N. M.

The batallion of the twenty-fourth United States infantry which has been stationed in Waco to furnish the guard at Camp MacArthur for the last four weeks is now enroute to Columbus, New Mexico.

These negro troops will there join the batallion of the same regiment that has been stationed at Houston and will again take up the border service from which they were relieved at the time they were sent north in Texas to guard the new army camps.

Capt. C. F. Andrews, in command of the batallion of negro troops stationed here, was highly complimented on his manner of handling the situation in Waco. A letter from Chief of Police Guy McNamara praised this officer for his manner of handling the negro troops and for his ability in guarding his camp and government property.

Strike Tents Saturday.

The negro troops struck their tents early yesterday morning. Their luggage was packed in a few hours time and before noon the camp had been dismantled. The Cotton Belt line sent special baggage cars to the siding at Camp MacArthur and the troops entrained there in sleepers furnished by this line. There were twenty-eight cars in the train that left Waco, the entire batallion being sent on one train. All of the officers of the batallion accompanied this train.

Friday night Captain Andrews threw out a doubly strong guard and no man of the command was allowed to leave his camp. The captain himself remained in headquarters all night and the guard was especially strict. In spite of the fact that hundreds of negroes went to the grounds to say farewell to the soldiers they were not allowed in the company streets and no soldiers were allowed to leave the camp boundaries.

Negroes Visit Camp.

From an early hour yesterday morning until the time of the departure of the train, hundreds of negro people visited the camp and during the entire day scores of women and children lined the boundaries of the camp to see the packing and departure of the troops.

Friday night the officers of the company collected all the ammunition in the company and none but guards on duty had any cartridges for their rifles. The bolts had been removed from the army guns of the privates.

When the train left representatives of the city organizations were present to wish Captain Andrews good luck and to compliment him upon the sane manner in which he had managed his men while in Waco.

Camp MacArthur now is in the hands of the guardsmen and in command of Maj. Gen. James Parker. All guardsmen are of the Michigan and Wisconsin units.

FLETCHER LANE HAS GONE TO LEON SPRINGS CAMP

Fletcher Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lane, has gone to Leon Springs to enter the officers' training camp. Mr. Lane is a well known Waco boy, but who for the past two years has been out of the city. One year was spent in Louisiana, and one at Cambridge, Mass., where he was a student in Harvard. He applied for enlistment in New Orleans and received notice of his acceptance while visiting his parents in Waco, where he has been for the past seven weeks.

CAMP MOVEMENTS SEE PARKER IN COMMAND; SATURDAY IS EVENTFUL

Major General James Parker is now in command of Camp MacArthur.

The commander arrived with his staff at 2:20 p. m. Saturday over the Katy.

Capt. C. F. Andrews of the twenty-fourth infantry, who has been commander of the reservation here, turned over the command at noon when he received his transportation.

Following that Lieut. Col. H. Erickson was the commander and he met General Parker at the train and welcomed him to his new command.

The negro troops are on their way to Columbus, N. M.

General Parker is making his headquarters at the Raleigh hotel until Monday.

He will then move to the division headquarters at the Primm home on the Bosqueville road.

MICHIGAN BRIGADE COMMANDER IS ON HIS WAY TO WACO

Gen. L. C. Covell, commander of the Michigan brigade, is on his way with Lieut. Allen Walliwer, of Grand Rapids, his aide de camp, to Waco. Command of the camp at Grayling has been turned over to Col. J. B. Westnedge.

Orders as yet have not been received, say Michigan advices, for the movement of the rest of the brigade, but it is believed the thirty-second regiment will be the first to go.

Brigade headquarters and the headquarters detachment probably will precede the thirty-second. Auxiliary units such as the cavalry, artillery and ambulance and field hospital corps probably will follow the thirty-first.

The thirty-third will come south, it is expected, but the opinion at Grayling is that this regiment which now is on duty, will not go until the men of the new national army are competent to take its place.

PARKER TELLS HANSEN TO INFORM CAPITAL CAMP IS NOW READY

National Guard troops from Michigan and Wisconsin who are to be stationed at Camp MacArthur will be ordered to this camp in the very near future.

Last night Major Hansen, construction quartermaster of the camp was ordered by Major General James Parker to inform the War Department that the local camp is in condition to receive all of the troops.

"This camp can now handle as many as have been ordered here," said General Parker.

Major Hansen in sending his daily report to Washington, made known the wishes of General Parker.

"The troops from the North will undoubtedly be sent at once," said Major Hansen last night.

It is estimated by the army officers that the remaining 27,000 guardsmen ordered here will be in Waco within the next ten days.

LIKE WATER, BUT ICE WOULD MAKE IT PERFECT

The Guardsmen are getting accustomed to their surroundings here, and seem well pleased with practically everything. They like the fine water here, but a few of them have wished for ice in the water at Camp MacArthur. With the addition of ice to the water, they say, it would be ideal water. During the hot summer days all water lacks some of the refreshing qualities unless it is cool, and none of it remains cool long after it is exposed to the air.

WILL TRY AND ARRANGE TIME AND PLACE TO MEET

So many inquiries have been received by County Demonstration Agent J. A. Pipkin, Jr., as to where to bring horses and mules which may be wanted by the government, that he has decided to take more definite action in this matter.

He will soon announce a time and place for receiving farmers who have horses and mules for sale, and parties representing the government will deal directly with owners of the animals when they wish to do so.

BADGER STAFF ON WAY SOUTH

GEN. CHARLES BOARDMAN AND AIDES WILL ARRIVE ON ARMY TRAIN.

Gen. Charles R. Boardman, commander of the first brigade of Wisconsin infantry; Gen. A. R. Richards, commander of the second brigade; Col. Gilbert E. Seaman and Lieut. A. J. Lytle, aide to General Boardman, are enroute to Camp MacArthur, says word to local officers. Departure of the "big guns" in camp bears out the report that Badger state troops will soon be on the move south.

These commanders from Michigan will assist General Parker in setting the cantonment in order for the training period mapped out by the war department in Washington. The order to General Boardman, General Richards and Colonel Seaman to report in Waco indicates the very early departure of the guardsmen and it appears that the last regiment will be out of there about September 15.

LOYALTY LEGION IS NAME CHOSEN; PLAN FIGHT ON DISLOYAL

MILWAUKEE ORGANIZATION TO PUT WISCONSIN HISTORY STRAIGHT, IT SAYS.

Special to the News.

Milwaukee, Aug. 25.—The organization, which was formed this week to combat disloyalty in Wisconsin, will be known as the Wisconsin Loyalty Legion. This name was adopted at a meeting of the general committee in the Hotel Plankinton Wednesday afternoon and night.

The general committee appointed an executive committee, organized according to congressional districts, as follows:

First district, Z. C. Simmons, Kenosha; second, E. R. Bowler, Sheboygan; third, Richard Lloyd Jones, Madison; fourth, Winfield R. Gaylord, Milwaukee; fifth, William A. Hayes, Milwaukee; sixth, Thomas Higgins, Manitowoc; seventh, J. E. McConnell, La Crosse; eighth, A. P. Woodson, Wausau; ninth, Thomas B. Reid, Appleton; tenth, Ben Carter, Menomonie, and eleventh, A. W. Sanborn, Ashland.

The executive committee will meet in Wilwaukee in a few days to set the time and place of the state meeting, which will probably be held in September. At that meeting the permanent officers will be elected. Morris F. Fox, Wilwaukee, was appointed chairman of a finance committee, the rest of whose members are still to be selected.

ROTARIANS IN BIG TOUR GET GREAT RECEPTION

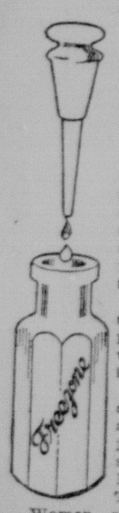
Special to the News.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Aug. 25.—The Union Jack shared honors with the Stars and Stripes on American cars and Old Glory fluttered from many Canadian standards when Rotarians from two countries gathered at Grand Marais to take part in one of the biggest international celebrations ever attempted by Rotary. The event was in celebration of the completion of a new highway from the head of the lakes to Port Arthur, helping to cement the bond of friendship which has become so close during the last few months.

More than sixty auto loads of Rotarians, their families and friends arrived from Fort William and Port Arthur while another twenty cars filled with Americans made the trip from Superior and Duluth to take part in the picnic.

Not a Corn or Callus on Feet

Apply few drops, then lift them off without pain.



A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it freezone and it now can be had in little bottles for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it off with fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freezone or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm. Try it!

Special to the News.

Washburn, Wis., Aug. 25.—There are fifty names on Bayfield county's "Roll of Honor," the men who have passed all tests for membership in the national army and have made no claims of exemption from service. They come from all over the county with men of this city in the majority. In addition to this half-hundred there are about twenty-five who have passed the tests but are claiming exemption on occupational grounds.

GRAYLING MEN ARE WRATHY NOW OVER POOR ARMY OUTFITS

THIRTY-FIRST SAID TO HAVE RECEIVED SHODDY SHIRTS, TWO KINDS OF PANTS.

Special to the News.

Grayling, Mich., Aug. 25.—Either the profiteers are conducting a raid on the war appropriations or the war department in an effort to speed up, is accepting goods that are far below the ordinary army standard.

Approximately $500,000 worth of clothing, underwear, shoes and hats have been issued to the thirty-first regiment in the last week. In this issue, the quality and make of the clothing varied to such an extent that breeches, made of one material in front and another behind, were found. Yet these breeches were in boxes which bore the names of government inspectors.

The cotton breeches used by the army, and issued on the border last year, were of good, heavy cloth. In some cases the dyes were inferior, but this did not interfere with the wear. In this issue the breeches ran from the old serviceable material to breeches of cloth lighter than that used in boy scout uniforms and therefore practically useless in the field. There were many shades.

Shoes Are Good.

Defective workmanship was not confined to the breeches. The woolen shirts must stand hard wear. In this issue there were shirts rotten with shoddy. The packing cases showed that these had been inspected, yet there were shirts on which the elbow protection was in front.

Light wool socks are another necessity for infantry. A soldier cannot wear a sock in which there is a hole or a sock that has been darned. This rule is imperative because of the value of the men's feet. In this issue there were some excellent socks, made by a nationally known firm. But the socks were not all of this same make, so while some of the men drew socks that wear twice as long as ordinary stockings, others got some of poor material. On the whole, however, the socks were far ahead of the shirts or breeches.

The regiment fared exceedingly well on shoes. These were of fine quality, equal to those selling in Detroit at from $7 to $8 a pair. They were charged to the men at $2.81 a pair.

Underwear ran about the same as the socks. Some was extra good and some was not.

Get Wireless Messages.

What was apparently a message between two German raiders operating near the Atlantic coast was intercepted by Company A, Signal corps, Tuesday night. The company, by making new tentennae and adding coils, increased the wave length of its apparatus sufficiently to hear ocean vessels. Just as the men listening were becoming excited, the static cleared up somewhat and what was thought to be an enemy message turned out to be only commercial business from some boat. The time is obtained at 9 a. m. and 11 p. m. daily from the Arlington station.

The health of the thirty-first is above par, according to Major Murdock M. Kerr, senior medical officer, who has been with the guard twenty-two years. A sanitary camp, good food, careful supervision and enough hard work to keep the system in good trim are the contributing factors, said the major.

"Judging by the cases that have come into the infirmary and the inspections, the men of the regiment are in better shape than last year," said the major. "We are having the customary number of patients at sick call, but so far, nothing serious has developed."

There are still sixteen patients in the field hospital.

TIGER JOINT IS IN RAID AT SUPERIOR

Special to the News.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 25.—With apartments fitted out with several tables, easy chairs, green shades, cards, poker chips and all the paraphernalia that goes with a "first-class card room" in a gambling "joint" and a kindly "solicitor" on the street who unlocked the outer door to the entrance when the "fish" applied for entrance, Charles (Shorty) Shea rubbed his hands and contemplated a big week-end "rush" last night.

The "rush" came but it was not the "rush" that Shea anticipated. A squad of police headed by Detective Wm. Mead, including Inspector Martin Widness and two patrolmen, "busted" in on him at 309 Tower avenue and arrested him with twenty-five frequenters.

SUFFOCATION OF CHILD CAUSES DEATH MYSTERY

Special to the News.

Beloit, Wis., Aug. 25—That the death of Willie Yandry, 5 years old, of Clinton, who was found suffocated in an old cupboard in a deserted farmhouse last week where he is supposed to have been playing with his 3 year old sister, the latter rescued just in time by a party of searchers, may may have been the result of foul play is the opinion of neighbors of the Yandry family, who now insist on a rigid investigation.

Although relatives of the victim and the little girl who narrowly escaped death, believe that the tragedy resulted from the accidental snapping of an automatic lock on the old cuboard, the supposition is not given full official credence.

The coroner is arranging for a thorough probe of the case.

Draft Results — Petticoat Slackers Watched at Madison

GOVERNOR FREES BOY THAT HE MAY SUPPORT MOTHER

Special to the News.

Madison, Aug. 25.—Gov. E. L. Philipp today gave Anton Schmiegel of South Madison another opportunity to make good.

The boy was serving a term in the industrial school at Waukesha. His sister was married yesterday and went to Racine to live, leaving no one to support the mother.

An idea struck Judge A. C. Hoppman. He asked Governor Philipp to give the boy a chance.

The parole was granted on condition that the boy report regularly to Parole Officer Purcell.

Schmiegel was sent to Waukesha because he was incorrigible. He was released but violated his parole.

GOVERNOR PHILIPP VISITS CAMP DOUGLAS RECENTLY

Special to the News.

Camp Douglas, Aug. 25.—Gov. E. L. Philipp reviewed the troops at Camp Douglas this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Accompanied by Sec. L. C. Whittet, the governor left for Camp Douglas at 1 o'clock.

At the present time there are about 14,000 troops at Camp Douglas. The sixth infantry will go into camp there Thursday.

It is expected that most of the Wisconsin troops will be transported south between September 1 and 15.

DRAFT BOARD TO SEND PETTICOAT SLACKER TO WAR

MEN MARRIED AFTER WAR FACE NEW DIFFICULTY BEFORE MADISON BOARD.

Special to the News.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 25.—"Petticoat" slackers will receive no consideration from the Madison exemption board.

Men who married immediately after the declaration of war and the passage of the draft law, will find no little trouble explaining in case they make claims for exemption on the ground of a dependent wife.

Chairman William Dowling announced today that every man who married recently is summoned to appear before the board in person.

Complete Physical Tests.

Only in the event he is able to satisfy that body that plans for the marriage were made long before the declaration of war will a man be granted exemption.

Physical examination of the 450 men in the second call was completed by the board yesterday afternoon.

A Good Suggestion.

MORE THAN QUOTA SECURED BY SUPERIOR DRAFT BOARD

Special to the News.

Superior, Wis., Aug. 25.—With more than the quota already certified and over a half hundred cases still to be disposed of the members of the exemption board in the first district laid aside executive labors today to attend to clerical work in getting out reports for the district board and discharge papers for those exempted or discharged.

Approximately 300 discharge papers for those rejected for physical defects or discharged because of dependents are being made out and will be mailed to those who will remain at home. Notices of acceptances are also to be sent to those who will join the new national army.

WAR IN BAY CITY, MICH., MILK DEALERS-RETAILERS

Special to the News.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 25.—Another war has broken out between the milk producers of this county and the retail dealers. These two elements have been see-sawing all summer—agreeing in price-fixing at one time and disagreeing at another. Now it is a disagreement and the producers declared that it is very apt to result in a benefit to the consumers—so far as quality, at least, is concerned.

HOLD FOND DU LAC MAN FOR MURDER OF WIFE; CITY EMPLOYE

HEINRICH SEIBEL MUST ANSWER FOR DEATH OF WIFE IN WISCONSIN.

Special to the News.

Fond Du Lac, Wis., Aug. 23.—"First degree murder is the charge on which Heinrich Seibel, who shot and fatally wounded his wife, is now being held. Seibel was brought into Justice court late Tuesday afternoon and after the first charge of assult with intent to murder, which had been preferred against him at the time of his arrest, was dismissed, the new one was entered against him. His preliminary hearing will take place on Aug. 30.

An autopsy performed on Mrs. Seibel's body shortly after her death at the hospital showed that the bullet after entering the woman's body passthrough.

Why.

A Boston woman applied for a pension the other day.

"And pray, madam," asked the pension examiner, "why do you think yourself entitled to a pension?"

"My husband and I fought all through the war," was the reply.—The Labor Clarion

Year after year for many years the thirty-five horsepower Overland has outsold, by a wide margin, all cars of such comfortable size.

An unequalled combination of power, comfort and economy, it has naturally been an unmatched success.

The thirty-five horsepower motor is not only unusually powerful—it is unusually economical.

The wheelbase is 112 inches—unusually long—permitting unusual roominess.

Thirty five horsepower!—112 inch wheelbase!!—$895!!!

Also unusual at the price—cantilever rear springs that ease the car over the rough spots—permit speed with comfort on poor roads.

No car of such comfortable size has ever approached its success, because none has ever combined such power, comfort and economy.

RELEASE ON INDUSTRIAL GROUNDS TO AFFECT MANY

Special to the News.

Lansing, Aug. 25.—Should President Wilson grant the appeal of Harold F. Wood, chief metallurgist of the Mason Motor company, of Flint whose claim for discharge on industrial grounds was denied by the district appeal board it may act for the release of other men of the Third district who have filed similiar industrial claims. Homer D. Luce, secretary of the district board, said that decisions in certain cases were being held pending the decision of the president upon Wood's appeal.

Despite the announcement that President Wilson will not personally review the claims of any appellant, Wood has gone to Washington for the purpose of laying his claim before the president.

WISCONSIN GOVERNOR TELLS OFFICERS HIS ATTITUDE ON PEACE

By the Associated Press.

Camp Douglas, Wis., Aug. 25.—E. L. Philipp, speaking to an audience composed of the officers of Gen. Boardman's headquarters the Wisconsin National guard, who gathered on the lawn in front of outlined America's aims in the war and said peace will be impossible until the central powers are subdued.

"There is much ill timed discussion of peace," said he. "It seems to me that there is a situation in Europe which makes peace impossible until the central powers are subdued. The sacrifice already made in blood and treasure makes a settlement of the war on any other basis out of the question."

GETS 2300 VOLTS FROM LIVE WIRE AND HE LIVES

Special to the News.

Marinette, Wis., Aug. 25.—After receiving 2,300 volts of electricity thirty feet in the air while repairing wires on a telephone pole, Walter Cleary, a prominent young man of Marinette, hung by his safety belt until recued by the fire department late Wednesday afternoon. Cleary's back laid lengthwise on a live wire and his coat was nearly burned off. After being removed from his perilous position by firemen Cleary was taken to the hospital. It is believed he will recover.

GENERAL POLICE STRIKE THREATENED IN ASHLAND

Special to the News.

Ashland, Wis., Aug. 25.—With three police on strike here and virtually all members of the police department threatening to do likewise, city commissioners on Wednesday began making preparations to give the city proper police protection in the event of a general walkout. WASHBURN COUNTY SENDS LOYAL COMPANY TO CAMP

Special to the News.

Spooner, Wis., Aug. 25.—When E. company, the Washburn county unit of the new Sixth Wisconsin infantry, go to camp this week it goes 127 strong, taking three officers and 124 men from all over the county, patriotic young men who rushed to the colors when their country called. Under the leadership of Capt. J. H. Holtz they have put in many hours drilling on the fair grounds here and there will be few new companies in the army which can come up to Washburn county's organization in grasp of tactics and military usages.

HILL 304 STORMED.

Grand Headquarters of the French Army, Augv. 24.—Hill 304, the last remaining important stronghold of the Germans fronting Verdun, fell into French hands at dawn today. The French infantry, who had almost encircled the hill in previous attacks, charged the German positions in a brilliant dash and carried them by storm. Not content with this splendid achievement, the French advanced a further $2000 yards and made possession of the hill doubly secure. The loss of these positions deprives the Germans of all observatories from which they could watch the French movements.

FIND SHOTGUN SHELLS UNDER RACINE CHURCH, MYSTERY IN THE FIND

Special to the News.

Racine, Wis., Aug 25.—That an attempt was to be made to blow up Plymouth Congregational church one of the costliest places of worship in Racine, the police say is possible, following the finding of thirty heavily loaded shotgun shells, knowns as Nitro Club No. 12, one of the highest explosive shells. Not far from these shells was found an electric battery fully charged. The plant was found by two boys underneath the main entrance of the church, and they reported to the police. While the group of shells and battery were not connected there were wires between the two. Experts declared that it would be an easy matter to cause an explosion of the shells by using the electric battery and that the building would have been wrecked.

Waco Daily Tribune

Touching the early appearance of the daily edition of The Waco Tribune, the management of that paper begs to announce that it has engaged the services of Mr. Henry Lueders to handle the city circulation of the daily. Mr. Lueders will at once map the city into disrtibution and delivery districts and otherwise provide for effective circulation and delivery. He can be found during the day at his desk in The Tribune office or called there by phone No. 795, and will be glad to receive any order for delivery of the paper.

The Tribune is also in position to announce that it has secured the services of Mr. J. D. Stewart, an artist of skill and experience, whose capacity in that line should, and we are confident will, be found of marked value to advertisers and readers of the paper. Mr. Stewart can also be reached in the Tribune office or by call over the above named phone.

The Tribune is advised that early during the coming week installation of the leased wire in the Tribune office will be completed. This leased wire is for transmission of the complete telegraphic service that will bring to the readers of the Tribune the news of the day from all parts of the world and presented in reliable and attractive form. The Tribune believes that this telegraphic news service will be, as a feature of the daily edition, of nature to deserve the cordial appreciation of all readers.

Finally, the initial number of the Waco Daily Tribune will appear on Sunday morning, September 2. Readers in McLennan and adjacent counties are advised that they will receive the Daily Tribune by rural route or rail almost as early in the day as readers in the city.

Very respectfully,

THE TRIBUNE CO.

THE NEXT STEP.

ACTING as a grand jury, the House has voted a bill of impeachment against Governor Ferguson.

The various counts of the bill charging misappropriations of funds and the abuse of the governor's authority will be aired before the State Senate sitting as a high court of justice. For the benefit of those readers who have not carefully read the impeachment procedure the following is printed:

Governor Ferguson is debarred from exercising the functions of a governor until the Senate finally votes as to whether he shall be impeached.

Lieutenant Governor Hobby has all of the functions of a governor pending the senate vote.

The House, sitting as a grand jury, has voted an indictment against Governor Ferguson, stating that in the judgment of the House the Senate should try the governor on the charges listed.

The House then appoints prosecuting attorneys from its membership to prosecute the charges before the Senate sitting as judges.

It required but a majority of the House to order the impeachment.

It wil require a two-thirds vote of the senators to oust the governor from his office.

If there is not a two-thirds vote against the governor he is automatically reinstated as governor.

If a two-thirds vote of the Senate impeaches the governor he is barred from ever again holding office in Texas and Lieutenant Governor Hobby becomes governor for the balance of the term for which Governor Ferguson was elected.

The News editorially will discuss the various charges against Governor Ferguson as the trial proceeds. It is important to remember however that the State Senate of Texas during its impeachment trial consists no longer of senators representing constitutioncies. These senators have stepped into the position of judges and jurors, sworn to decide the case according to the law and evidence.

WHEN NEWS IS NEWS.

THE Houston Chronicle is to be congratulated on the completeness of its report regarding the rioting of Thursday night at Houston.

The Chronicle devoted about six pages to the various phases of the tragedy, assembling its report in about fifty news items.

The people of Houston undoubtedly appreciated the completeness of the Chronicle's report. Such a news collection service substitutes facts for the wild rumors which would have been spread through the community had the actual news not been adequately reported.

For instance, to the Waco News today came a telephone rumor that eighty-five negroes had been shot at sunrise at Houston. Of course the report is absurd and probably took its form from the fact that negro participants in the rioting are to be tried by army courtmartial and upon conviction to a sentence "to be shot at sunrise."

Since the Waco rioting of a few weeks ago, repeated rumors came to the News of negro soldiers having been shot for insubordination at Camp MacArthur and of drunken negro soldiers having run amuck in various parts of the city. The citizens of Waco calmly voted such reports false for the reason that the actual facts of rioting had been adequately printed in the News when they occured. But had the facts been suppressed rumors would have gained credence.

Incidentally, the News wishes to take this opportunity to compliment Captain Andrews on his efficient handling of the negro troopers under his command. Captain Andrews ranks high in the records of the war department as a disciplinarian. His record of service is such that Waco may expect to read of his rapid promotion as the present army training develops active fighting forces for France.

GERMANY WANTS PEACE ONLY IN ORDER THAT IN THE FUTURE SHE MAY WAGE WAR MORE EFFECTIVELY.

BEWARE of the Greeks bearing gifts, was a saying in the ancient world.

Beware of the Germans bearing olive branches may well be a proverb in our own time.

If under Teutonic auspices and inspiration various peace-kites are being flown, it is merely because the kaisers of Germany and Austria know that the longer the war lasts the less chance they have of winning it.

A peace made now would be a German peace. It would be a peace made when German troops held parts of Belgium, Serbia, Russia, France and Rumania. It would give the kaisers something with which to trade. It would give them the whip hand in asserting that the murderous submarine must not be curbed by any new international law. It would give them the opportunity to demand back their lost colonies and to talk with an air of magnanimity of not exacting indemnities from the rest of the world.

But it would also leave them unpunished for their shocking crimes and unwhipped of justice. They would be in a position of breaking all the laws of God and man and doing it with impunity.

More than that, they would secure a peace made now so that in the future they might make war more effectively and with better chances of winning, no matter how great the coalition of free peoples against them.

Germany indulges in no dream of universal peoce. She indulges in no dream of a lasting peace, or even of a peace to endure for a long period. The kind of peace she thinks about is a peace that will allow her a breathing time.

It has been said again and again by German apologists that the Prussian military writers were not representative of Germany. It has been said time and again that their fiery pronunciamentoes about world-might and world-conquest were mere opinions of the individuals who wrote them, without a responsive echo in Germany. But that is merely another Prussian lie.

Prince Bernard-von Buelow, rewriting his book on Germany after the war started, pens this significant, menacing and sinister paragraph:

"Even if we had not been threatened with war during the last decades we must realize that there is no such thing as a permanent peace, and must remember Moltke's words, 'Permanent peace is a dream, and not even a beautiful one. But war is an essential element of God's scheme of the world.'"

Consider the import of this. Here is a former chancellor of the German empire, a staunch defender of Prussian militarism, endorsing the sentiment that peace is not even beautiful and that war is pleasing to God.

War as the Germans wage it means innocent people assassinated at night on the free ocean highways, means noncombattant Belgians deported into slavery, means little children murdered by bombs dropped from airplanes upon quiet English schoolhouses, means soldiers strangled by all kinds of hideous poisonous gases.

And at this late day, at the very time when German agents all over the world are shoutaing peace, one of the most prominent Germans in the world finds it in his heart to cry up war as a glorious thing, a necessary thing and to decry peace as an idle dream.

He spoke truer than he knew. War is a glorious thing, waged as it is by the free peoples of the world to free themselves forever from the Prusssian menace. Peace is indeed an idle dream so long as the Hohenzollerns and Buelow tribe rule the destinies of the German people.

It is part of our job to make peace something more than an idle dream. It is part of our task to make of peace an enduring and permanent and solid thing—not a dream but a reality resplendent in its meaning for a world finally freed from the menace of the wholesale murder that is war.

AS TO GOVERNMENT PRICES FOR ALL.

ONE of the nice questions is as to whether Big Business will be content with "business as usual."

Finally the government has got to control prices on army food stuffs, coal, oil, meals, wool, cotton and other material, and to fix prices, in most instances, below the general market figures. Will Big Business recoup by soaking higher prices on the ordinary consumer?

Such "passing of the buck" is the usual proceeding but the government can expect an awful roar if it doesn't devise some way to block it.

Right now, one of the toughest, most vital war problems is reduction of the high cost of living.

Will the ordinary consumer be permitted to purchase at the prices made for the government and the allies?

The question is certainly a corker.

Don't Wait Too Long, Uncle!

THAT KIND OF A PET NEVER RESPONDS TO KIND TREATMENT.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 25.—Languorous ladies who ioll about in their limousines, have been all aflutter over the news that the "oil famine" is imminent. To them and to their male prototypes it presents the greatest horror of the conflict abroad.

The first scare came when A. C. Bedford, president of the Standard Oil of New Jersey, declared in a statement to all the papers that a gasoline shortage was threatened with increased production of crude oil, the quantity of gasoline used by aeroplanes and other war equipment.

Mr. Bedford urged that owners of automobiles discontinue so called "joy" or pleasure riding. It was like a slap in the face for those who never walk. It was something like taking away the crutches of a hopeless cripple.

But there was great joy a few days later when Henry L. Doherty, who next to the Standard Oil group is the largest producer of refinable oil, declared that he could not concur in the theory that a restriction in the use of gasoline for motor cars would help solve the problem.

"In fact," said Mr. Doherty, "I believe it will precipitate it. The threat of curtailing the liberal use of gasoline at high prices will still further intimidate oil producers and curtail drilling. If the situation is handled with reasonable wisdom and dispatch there need be no fear of an oil famine, and the danger of a gasoline famine would be still more remote."

Considering the important source from which this statement came, those who owned automobiles began to breath easy again.

Very few realize the growth of the automobile habit in New York. Not many years ago there were only 3,500 cars. Now they run up into the hundreds of thousands and it has presented a traffic problem that is one of the biggest that the city has to meet.

From 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock Fifth avenue is a solid mass of cars. No one can move faster than about five miles an hour. They just merely crawl along. The side streets from Twenty-third up to Fifty-ninth are just as bad and Broadway, Park and Madison avenues are becoming congested.

There is talk now of tunnelling under for the north and south streets at the street intersections, but this is an engineering problem that would take years and tie up all traffic, and in the meantime the automobile habit is growing apace.

An investigator visited one apartment house on Riversade Drive. There were 800 leaseholders in the building and probably 2,500 occupants in all. There were 921 automobiles owned by the occupants—more cars in fact than there were leaseholders. This was caused by many of the leaseholders owning more than one car.

There are any number of clerks who drive to work in the morning. They live out of town where rents are much cheaper and on account of this they can afford a car.

Several reporters own cars and almost every executive editor. I stood at Broadway and Seventy-second street one evening not long ago and counted 316 cars while waiting for a surface car.

And so it is that the talk of an oil famine is received in New York with great alarm. It would, in case it became a reality, deprive people of their greatest pleasure apparently.

Along Automobile Row there are fifteen schools to teach beginners how to drive. I was told that each one of these schools has a waiting list. Women are especially anxious to learn driving. It has become a fad. Young girls with clothes to match the color of their car consider it smart to drive about with a dog beside them.

A dozen newspaper reporters gathered the other day at the Pennsylvania station to wait for a Chilian official who was to be questioned regarding a current feature of news.

It had been announced that the official to be seen had left Atlantic City, and when the train arrived, none of the reporters having seen the man, the quest was a difficult one.

He was not found. One of the newspaper men summed it up briefly. "Of all the difficult tasks I know," he said, "I can think of none more complex than to meet a South American official, unknown to you, as he leaves a train from Atlantic City. Every one on the train is sunburned, and you have nothing at all to work on."

Earl Carroll, the song writer, never wears a hat. Some time ago he found that his locks were thinning out a bit on top. Then he went out to Los Angeles, where hatless men are the rule instead of the exception, and the found that his hair did not drop out so rapidly.

When he returned to New York he continued the custom. Nobody pays any attention to those things in New York. In fact the most prominent man in the city could walk down Broadway during the busiest hour clothed in nothing but a barrel and he would fail to excite comment. So Carroll has nevtr felt that he was conspicuous.

However, there has been a fly in the ointment. Carroll had a birthday party on his bungalow atop a skyscraper—forty second from Broadway—the other night. Among the other presents he received twelve hats. And now he is wondering if they were sent by accident or design.

Subway nerves. It is an affliction of rapid metropolitan life. There are many men and women who cannot ride in the tubes. Fredrico Schang, now an impressario, used to be known as Freddy Schang, journalist. He gave up journalism because he disliked going to the office via the subway. Alexandre Woolcott, who used to be the Time's critic, declares that he would rather work for $50 a week less on an uptown paper than work on Park Row and ride on the subway. The only solution seems to be for each journalist to have a limousine and lead the limousine life. The subway has a peculiar affect on those who are neurasthenic. They realize they are locked in and they become panicky. Guards recognize it instantly and always try to soothe the sufferer.

According to latest accounts, Mr. Douglas I-Am-Ready-to-Serve-My-Country Fairbanks is still doing quite well in the motion picture business. A good advertisement is the hardest thing in the world to live down.

THE GAMBLING IMPULSE.

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE.

The gambling impulse seems to be universal in the human race. Gambling is prevalent among savage tribes, and its prevalence among semi-civilized and wholly civilized peoples is common knowledge.

This fact has led to a widespread belief that the evils of gambling must always be with us. As a professional gambler once said to me at the time of a crusade against race-track betting in New York:

"They may make all the laws they like against gamblin, but they can't stop it.

"If they prevent men from betting on horses they will bet on goats or grasshoppers or something else. They are certain to bet."

But there are more ways than one of curbing the propensity to gamble. If anti-gambling legislation is inadequate, anti-gambling education may prove a success.

In particular, I have been greatly impressed by a suggestion that the tendency to gamble might be effectively checked if people were familiarized in childhood with the laws of chance.

When a man bets he seldom has any clear idea of the probabilities against his winning his bet. His mind is hazy with regard to this phase of mathematics.

He thinks solely, or chiefly, of the reward of a successful wager. He does not stop to consider that the odds offered him represent degrees of unlikelihood that his wager will be successful—and that the betting odds are usually far below the actual degrees of unlikelihood.

Early education in the laws of chance would at least tend to make him more prudent. In many cases, I am inclined to believe, it would act as an effectual preventive of the gambling fever.

The experiment is at least worth trying, and I commend it to the consideration of school authorities.

Education always modifies human behavior. If education along this special line would reduce gambling and its frequently tragic consequences, surely such education should be adopted as part of the regular school work.

It is no real objection that not a few men, though familiar with the laws of chance, indulge habitually in gambling from a sheer perverse desire to defy these laws. These men are exceptional persons, and may not unjustly be called psychopathic.

The average man, the comfortably normal man, would act wisely and deliberate, where today he rashly ventures through ignorance.

"Beg Pardon,
I didn't recognize you."

I can't see at a distance with these glasses

People who cannot see clearly at a distance, through their reading glasses, are at a disadvantage.

Frequently they are embarrassed. And constantly they are annoyed by the necessity of removing—or awkwardly peering over—their glasses every time they look at objects more than three or four feet away. If they fuss with two pairs, that's still worse.

This inconvenience can be easily remedied by wearing KRYPTOK Glasses. KRYPTOKS combine near and far vision in one crystal-clear lens.

In the lower part of KRYPTOK Glasses you get the necessary correction for reading or other close work. In the upper part you get the correction for distance.

Thus KRYPTOKS (pronounced Crip-toks) render unnecessary the continual removing and replacing of your glasses. You can instantly adjust your vision from near to far. Printed page and distant view are both clear and distinct.

The old-fashioned bifocals gave this double vision, but everyone disliked to wear them because of the conspicuous seam or hump which blurred the vision and made the wearer look odd and old.

KRYPTOK Glasses are wholly free from that defect. Their surfaces are clear, smooth and even. When you are wearing them, no one can detect that they are double-vision lenses. They keep your eyes young in looks as well as in usefulness.

But KRYPTOKS are no better than other lenses unless prescribed to conform to your individual optical errors.

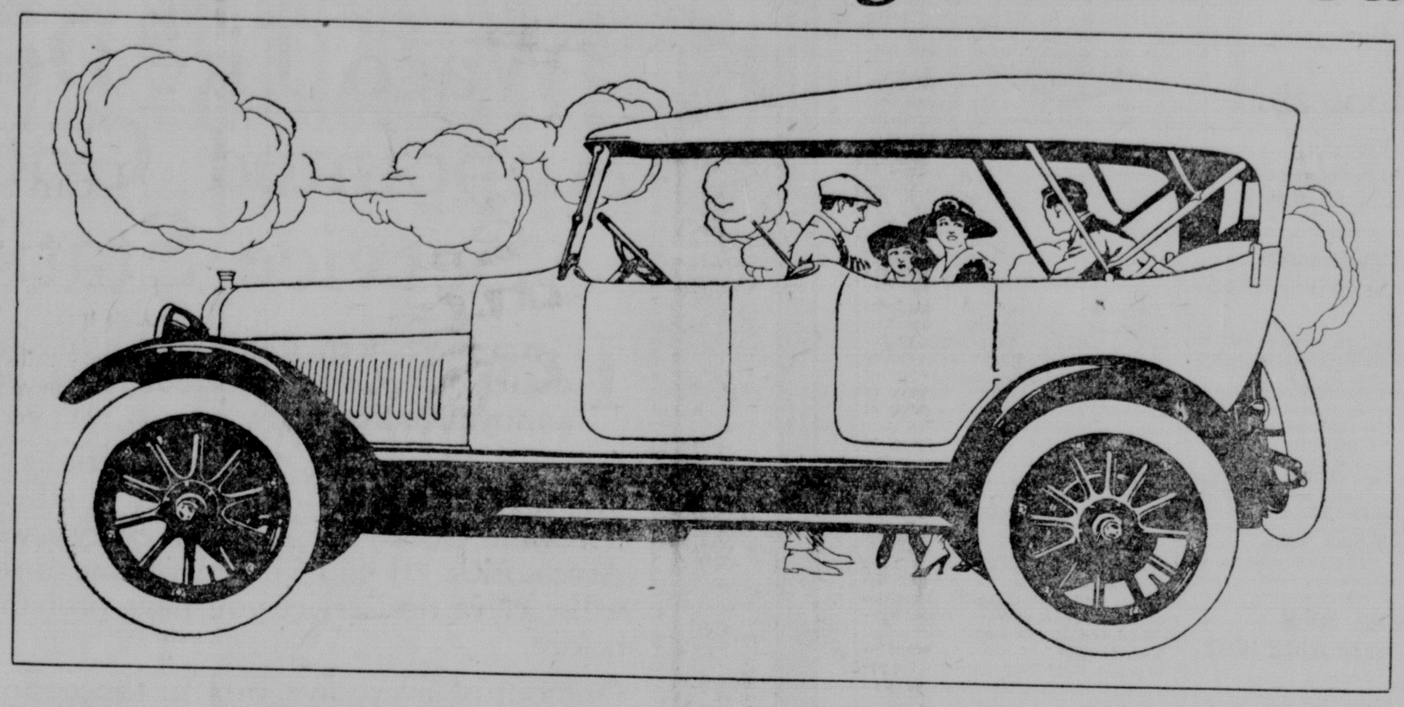
CHANDLER SIX

Do You Know Why More People This Year Are Buying The Chandler Six Than Are Buying Any Other High-Grade Car?



Do You Know Why in Four Years' Time The Chandler Has Passed and Left Behind, One by One, a Long Line of Other Well Known Cars?

There are perhaps several reasons, all of which would appear very clearly if you had the opportunity or took the time to analyze the history and business policies of the automobile industry. But there is one big basic reason which to you as a motorist is the essential reason, and that one reason is this—that ever since the first Chandler car was designed and built and marketed four years ago last month, the Chandler has offered the finest of design, construction and equipment at the lowest possible price.

The Chandler today offers this excess of value, this dependability of service, just as distinctly as at any time in the four years past.

* * *

It took some little time, of course, for a great part of the motoring world to pin its confidence to this newcomer. Men recognized, indeed the whole trade recognized, that a new type of car which must make large appeal had come into the market. The trade knew that it was the product of men who knew motor building and general motor car design and who were experienced in the best manufacturing practices.

Still—and remember this was more than four years ago—the trade said a newcomer could not win out.

Nevertheless, there were a few hundred Chandler cars manufactured and sold in those months of the summer and fall of Nineteen-Thirteen.

And how distinctly the Chandler has won its place in the very front rank of fine motor cars is reflected in the Chandler sales records of Nineteen-Fourteen, Fifteen, Sixteen and Seventeen.

Month by month and season after season thruout these four years the Chandler has moved forward and forward, until today its leadership could hardly be questioned.

* * *

Your own observation of high-grade cars in service in almost any market in America would show you clearly how surely the Chandler has come into leadership.

This leadership has been built on the Right Car at the Right Price.

Back in 1914 men were very generally inclined to recognize that the Chandler was the right car at the right price and about two thousand of them had the courage to make sure of their convictions.

Those two thousand won thousands more to their convictions, so that in the year following nearly seven thousand men chose the Chandler for their car.

And the car went on making friends by its performance in the hands of these owners.

* * *

The whole country marveled at this wonderful motor, at its power, its flexibility, its life and get-away, and its endurance. The whole Chandler chassis came to be recognized as a great mechanism.

So last year, 1916, it was hardly surprising to those who really knew the Chandler that more than thirteen thousand motorists chose this car for their car, more than twice as many as had chosen it the year before.

And now comes 1917, a year of some stress for all trades, a year above all years when the real worth in merchandise counts most. And what is the motoring public's answer in its discussion of high-grade cars? What is its answer in discussion of Sixes most particularly?

From coast to coast so far as our available records show, the Chandler is preferred above all other medium-priced cars, above all other high-grade cars.

Our own sales records show an increase of better than 55% in the first six months of this year as compared with the first six months of last year.

* * *

Records of registration of new cars, although available in only a few typical sections of the United States, indicate a tremendous public preference for the Chandler over all other cars in its field, in some instances as much as a two-to-one preference.

We realize that in some isolated instances, because of peculiar trade conditions, some other car may lead, but in the great markets where men have the choice of all makes of cars, where every kind and type of car is represented, sold and owned, motorists indicate their preference for the Chandler, and prove their confidence in the Chandler, by choosing the Chandler.

Chandler leads because, starting with the right type of car, the Chandler Company has stood firmly by this type of car. It has continued to develop this car thruout these four years until today it approximates perfection in construction and performance.

* * *

We cannot convey to you in the printed page any full conception of the superiority of the Chandler motor, but any one of nearly forty thousand Chandler owners could put you alongside him at the wheel and show you Chandler superiority.

We would be more than pleased to show you this superiority; we would be more than pleased to make clear to you the excellence of the Chandler car in all its details.

* * *

We would like to show to you what it means in satisfactory road performance that the Chandler motor is equipped with Bosch High Tension Magneto as is the Pierce-Arrow, Marmon, Locomobile, Winton, White, Stutz and the Mercer; what it means to you that the Chandler car is built with a big solid cast aluminum crank case extending from frame to frame and giving absolute rigidity to the motor mounting; that it is equipped with silent chains for driving the motor shafts and with annular ball bearings in transmission and differential and rear wheels.

We would like to show you what these items of design and equipment and many others, typical of the highest priced high-grade cars, mean to Chandler performance.

DECLARES DATE OF HIS PARENTS' MARRIAGE WAS NOT STATED CORRECTLY

Declaring that records which were presented to United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick regarding the date of the marriage of his father and mother were incorrect, and maintaining that he is past the age for service in the draft army of the government, a young man from near Rockdale in Milam county, was held in bond Saturday by McCormick.

The young man, according to Commissioner McCormick, declares that he is 33 years old, but records of the marriage license and ministers' return on the license, presented to Commissioner McCormick, showed that the parents of the young man were married in 1887. He will have to answer to the federal grand jury. The young man's name is N. M. Bullock. He was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal J. A. Rogers on a charge of slacking.

Calomel Loses You a Day's Work!
Take Dodson's Liver Tone Instead

Read my guarantee! If bilious, constipated or headachy you need not take nasty, sickening, dangerous calomel to get straightened up.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

A Profession for Young Ladies

The operation of a modern telephone exchange requires the services of young ladies whose work can be truly classed as professional.

In the profession of telephone operating there are exceptional opportunities for business training and personal development that keep those who take it up far away from public places and their attended exposure.

There is an excellent opportunity in this profession for intelligent young ladies who are over seventeen years of age. A salary is paid during the period of instruction; opportunities for advancement are many; and the work is steady.

If you are interested, apply to School Principal on the third floor of the Telephone Building, between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., excepting on Sundays and holidays. We will start training another class of students next Monday.

HOUSTON CIVIL OFFICERS ANGRY

DEMAND THEY BE GIVEN RIGHT TO PROSECUTE NEGRO RIOTERS.

By the Associated Press.

Houston, Aug. 25.—Though Houston generally breahes distinct relief tonight that martial law will end tomorrow and that the rioting negroes of the 24th infantry are no longer in a position to cause further trouble, country officials express resentment that the men should have been taken from their authority.

"The fact that they were removed to Columbus, N. M., does not mean that we will not ultimately take a hand in their punishment," said District Attorney John Crooker.

Evidence of the intention of the local officials not to let the matter drop wtih the departure of the colored infantry men contained this afternoon in the action of the Harris county grand jury. As soon as this body learned 34 negroes held in jail had been turned over to the army before daybreak began consideration of the charges preferred by Mr. Crocker. In a few hours it returned further indictments against 34 and 6 others who had not been arrested.

Alternate sadness and gladness swayed downtown crowds Saturday. There was gladness because the tragedy had passed without any bloody sequel and saddness because every other hour brought grim reminder of Thursday's horror in the passage of funeral corteges.

Thousands paid special tribute to Capt. J. W. Mattes, when his casket was taken to the station to be sent to Chicago. Capt. Mattes was shot down as he approached the scene of the disturbance in a police officer's automobile.

Indications are that there will be no more deaths as a result of the shooting and that the total casualties will stand as they were yesterday—17 dead and 21 wounded.

Two victims lost arms by amputation and a third must have his leg removed. However, these are expected to recover.

Colonel George Cress, inspector general of the southern department, arrived here today and began to collect data on the shooting. He visited Braigadier General John A. Hulen of the Texas National Guard, District Attorney Crooker, the chief of police, sheriff and other autorities. Mr. Crooker turned over to him the statements of captured negro soldiers that Sergeant Zida Henry who was killed was the ring leader and organizer of the raiding expedition into Houstaon's west end and San Selipe street.

A tour of the city and conference with General Hulen and others quickly convinced General Bell that the additional troops rushed here from Fort Sam Houston and at San Antonio and Fort Crockett at Galveston were no longer needed. They were sent back to their stations this afternoon.

HURRYING 24TH OUT OF DEMING

ARMY COMMAND FEARS APPROACH OF RIOTING WITH DETACHMENT OF BLACKS.

By the Associated Press.

Deming, N. M., Aug. 25.—To avoid disturbances which appeared imminentp reparations were made at noon today to transfer the battalion of the 24th U. S. infantry colored here back to its former station at Columbus, N. M.

The decision was reached by military authorities as a result of threats between negro soldiers and townspeople and the beating of an auto driver last night. Train equipment was being assembled at noon and orders to entrain as soon as possible were received.

Friction apparently existing recently was intensified yesterday on news from Houston which caused much excitement among the negro soldiers. Altercations with whites were frequent during the afternoon.

This morning Walter Cooper, driver of a public service tutomobile, who had been beaten almost to death, was found near town. It was said Cooper had been engaged last night to drive two negroes from town to some place in the country.

Waco Tire Dealers Appointed Goodyear Service Stations

IF you have been disappointed in finding your own dealer out of stock in Goodyears, you can end this annoyance from now on.

Regular Goodyear Service Stations have been appointed in Waco who carry at all times Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Tubes in every size, and Goodyear Accessories. If you will call on one of these dealers you will receive tire service you have probably never known before.

One out of every five cars in the country today is enjoying the longer mileage and the lower mileage cost of Goodyear Tires.

The extraordinary favoritism shown this particular tire would be even larger than this if everyone who asked for Goodyears got them.

For Goodyear Service Station Dealers are not content in merely selling you Goodyear Tires, Goodyear Tubes and Goodyear Accessories. Their interest continues until you have had maximum mileage and satisfaction from them.

They all have the same purpose, the same disposition—to hold your business by getting your friendship, by giving you the service you have a right to expect.

This service is given you over and above the extra mileage built into Goodyear Tires, which makes them go farther and last longer, and so cost you less in the end.

Waco Drops One to Fort Worth, San Antonio Defeats Submarines

BY POP BOONE.

Gee, that's a awful battle for second place up to FOHT worth. First the Navs'll be on top, then the Panthers'll be on top. And today they will go 'round and 'round in a double bill. In order to feel real good about it, Waco oughtta grab both ends of the Sunday matinee. Such a happy consummation would make Dallas nervous and give us breathing room at the top. Anyhow, it's been some battle up to FOHT worth. As Sam would say, "Ah'm goin' down to de DE-poh, buy a SEE-gah, mount de Kay Flyah and go up to FOHT worth.

♦♦♦

Speaking of battles: Man, I saw me A battle the other morning. A ford miexd it with a telephone pole. Poor telephone pole! After the argument, the ford went on down the street, while the pole is still lying along the curb out near Streeter Place, unless somebody came and got it yesterday. I was just off work and was almost home—just about 2:30 in the morning. I was too far away to hear what the pole said to the ford—but it must have been something awful, because if fords got mad at all the jokes pulled on 'em they'd be fightin' all the time. Anyhow, as I said, this here ford was ramblin' down Fifth street towards town. All at once it turned square into the curb. I was lookin' straight at it. Bamity-bam bam. Likewise some whams and a few zowies. And directly the little old ford came rambling right along and stopped right by me. I didn't know what he hit, but he sure had hit something. His windshield was smashed into a couple of billion pieces; his top was lop-sided right off to the sou'-sou'-east corner; a fender was smashed, one running board had to be wired up, the radiator was smashed, a few rods underneath were broken—but outside of that the darn thing was all right. The old boy crawled out, looked back up the street and quoth he: "Shay, Fren! What'n'll goin' on here?" Then he cranked 'er up, crawled in and went ramblin' on off.

♦♦♦

THAT ISN'T ALL THE STORY. I DIDN'T KNOW WHAT HAD HAPPENED UNTIL ABOUT TEN MINUTES LATER. I WAS IN THE HOUSE, DOING SOME MIDNIGHT OIL STUFF, AGAIN THE QUIET AIR RESOUNDED TO THE BAMITY-BAM OF A TURRIBLE BATTLE. AGAIN I RUSHED OUT. NO, IT WASN'T THE SAME FORD BACK AGAIN TO FINISH ITS ARGUMENT. IT WAS ANOTHER FORD. IT HIT THE POLE LEFT IN THE STREET BY ITS BROTHER. THE POOR POLE HAD BEEN BROKEN OFF AT THE GROUND, AND AGAIN ABOUT FOUR FEET UP. IT HAD FALLEN ON ITS ADVERSARY, AS SHOWN BY CUTS MADE BY A BROKEN WINDSHIELD. THE SECOND GUY WAS SOBER AND SAID HE WAS GOING TO SUE THE COMPANY. HIS FORD HAD JUMPED THE POLE NEATLY WITH ALL FOUR WHEELS. HE, TOO, CRANKED 'ER UP AND RAMBLED ON HIS WAY.

♦♦♦

But, of course, that has nothing to do with baseball. I've been trying to dope out for my own amazement just what hit us last Monday—and I believe I've got it solved. It was all Syd Smith's fault, speaking of fundamental causes for the blow-up. The Navs, during the Fort Worth and Houston series, went better than they ever went in their lives. Dallas gave up, everybody knows that. They said: "Now the lucky stiffs have ten or twelve games with the tail-end Gassers while Fort Worth is battling us and they ought to be safe when that's over." That's the way Dallas fans had it doped. They were wondering where we were going to find room for the new flag on our crowded flagpole.

♦♦♦

Then along comes Syd. The Gasser foreman had a bone to pick with us. He didn't have any ball club, but he had a lot of dynamic power, and he put a buzzer under his saddle, turned on the current and started to give his jaded nine a good old-fashioned, bat-and-spur finish. The old cripple came to life. It engaged the easy-running Nav machine in a hook-up. The resistance was so unexpected, and so determined that our boys were hard put to it. Tie games jumped up—five double-headers in nine days; then a hard fourteen-hour ride to Shreveport and a thirteen-inning battle.

♦♦♦

In the meantime, the Gassers' winning of three staight games from the Navs resulted in fanning the flickering flame of hope into action in the Dallas camp. Then another fourteen-hour ride back to Waco, while Dallas had been tucked in their little beds by 10 o'clock the night before. There could be but one result. When the big series opened Sunday, it caught the Dallas team coming up and the Waco team about all in. All it took was one more blow to finish them. And the 16-inning game Sunday furnished that blow.

♦♦♦

THERE YOU ARE: IT TOOK ME A WEEK TO FIGURE OUT THAT ALIBI, AND I'VE TOLD YOU IN FIVE MINUTES, OF COURSE, DAL-LAS FANS MAY NOT SEE IT FROM THIS ANGLE—BUT NEUTRALS DO, FOR WHEN I TOLD UMPIRE MATHEWS ABOUT IT HE AGREED WITH ME.

♦♦♦

I would have told Hays my views also but Gerald was very angry with me. He accused me of taking a kick at him the other morning when I said he had a grand day in the 1-to-0 game with Conley. Gerald and I are pretty good friends, and he was hurt worse by my little stab than he was by all the columns other guys have written about him. What he said to me was this: "Pop, I'm afraid you let the country boy come up in you this morning. You kept it down a long time, but it finally had to come up, didn't it?" And I had to plead guilty, at that.

♦♦♦

Hey, ho! This baseball writin's a merry life. If I get through early enough to catch the 'G. N. this morning and if I can get Johnnie Pineapplis to cash a check for me, and if I can get somebody to write said check and if I don't cut myself too badly in amputating my hirsute chin adornment, and if—anyhow, if nothin' happens I'm going up to FOHT worth this morning to see that double-header today, and, if the editor will let me and if—hey, who let that darn pup in here, anyway?

PETTY ALLOWS 20 HITS TO FT. WORTH; SCORE WAS 13-6

By the Associated Press.

Fort Worth, Aug. 25.—Fort Worth set a season's record today by making twenty hits off Pitcher Petty in a game which Waco lost 13 to 6. Bernsen led the Fort Worth attack with two singles and two doubles out of five times at bat, while Sharman and Dodd each made four singles in five times up and Williams hit for three out of five. SAN ANTONIO PUTS DALLAS TO BAD BY 8 TO 4 YESTERDAY

Dallas, Aug. 25.—"Doc" White, famous White Sox flinger, now one of the owners of the Submarines, tried his hand at pitching today. Dallas lost to San Antonio 8 to 4. The Doc has been threatening to try to warm up the old soup bone for several weeks, and today when Lewis had his daily ascension, the ex-Sock went to his rescue with more or less success, mostly less. Ham Patterson, the other owner, formerly of the Coast league, also furnished the populace some amusement by appearing as a pinch hitter for Lewis. Ham made a two-bagger. Score:

Transient.

"Does your family have any trouble with servants?"

"No," replied Mr. Crosslots. "I don't believe any of them stay around the place long enough to become really troublesome."—Washington Star.

Al Demaree must have been born with a horseshoe in his mouth—he is the luckiest ballplayer alive. Old Dame Fortune has been grinning at Al again. The famous artist-twirler is now back with the Giants—and another slice of the world's series coin.

"Steamer Al" was with the Giants before—and shared in the world's series of 1913. In 1914 Demaree was traded to Philadelphia. This was a terrible blow. However, in 1915 the Phillies won the flag, and lucky Al took a prominent part in their victory by beating his old teammates, the Giants, with great frequency. He also made a trip to the bank after the big series.

Last year Al was traded to the Cubs. The Giants got him back recently in an attempt to bolster up their weak pitching staff. Al will make another trip to the bank this fall.

Can you beat it?

Every time Demaree is fired he falls into a better job. Twice he was traded from a pennant winning club—only to join another winner.

Luck?

Sure!

But where there is luck there must be ability.

Over There in France They Must Think America a Land of Sensations

If you believed all you hear, is the gist of a message to Wacoans from the west front in France, you would wonder what had come over that native land of yours—America.

Clitus Jones, Wacoan, who last spring became a member of an American Ambulance unit on the French front in France, writes interestingly of "the news from home." His experiences along this line put a unique touch to his letters, several of which have just been received in Waco. He says in part:

A group of us from section 15 of the American Ambulance were returning to the front after spending the 4th of July in Paris. On the same train was a major of the newly arrived American army on his way out to join his command. We were naturally interested in any American we met regardless of how august a personage he might be and we soon engaged him in conversation. We were eager to know about the American army, the spirit back home and his ideas of the war, and he was interested in anybody who had been on the front and who could speak English.

He talked at length about America, but about the war he was at a loss. He said frankly:

"I know nothing of the trench fighting. All American wars that I have taken any part in have been in semi-barbarous lands where no such methods were known. However we can learn and we will not be long in the learning."

The First Americans.

We were delighted with his view. We had just seen a battalion of American troops swinging up the Champs Elysees when all Paris turned out to celebrate the 4th of July. And as we gazed at the magnificent spectacle we wondered if the soldiers realized what they were going into on the front. We wondered if the officers in charge would be willing to learn from the experience of the French. We wondered if they would profit at all by the experience of the English with their first hundred thousand—now famous in history.

We ended the talk with the officer by telling him considerable of the war, and we were only ambulance drivers, all we know is about shell fire and we have learned it through fearful experiences. I think that Americans as a whole fail to realize the efficiency of modern shell fire and its usefulness as both a defensive and offensive weapon, or the difficulty of making an advance when the enemy uses it. Everyone knows that Germans have it in abundance and we in the ambulance know better than anyone that they are not stinted on shells. In fact from all reports they seem to be the one thing that they are not short on.

Just Back of Lines.

We are at presnt a little distance back of the immediate front with our division which is resting. The ambulance section didn't need the rest but the soldiers have been in the trenches continuously for ten months. After the rest the division is usually sent into a sector where the fighting is heaviest, so it is probable that we will see heavy fighting soon.

From time to time there reaches the French front various newspaper articles from America which aim to show the trend of the war spirit there. The men in the Ambulance read them with the greatest degree of interest. Many of them are encouraging like those telling of the efforts being made at home to put a large air fleet in operation. Everybody near the front knows the value of such a movement But many of the articles are amusing only, like those which give vivid discription of the organization of the women of America into companies and regiments for the defense of the land the formation of women flying corps, women ambulance sections, etc. One particularly thrilling article told of the organization in New York City of a woman militia company composed of society belles who pledged themselves "to patrol the streets everyday from the hours of ten to twelve and two to four, unless sooner relieved from duty." Just what their duties were no one seemed to know exactly. Accompanying the article was a half page cut of Captain Francis Gray of said company, dressed in the prescribed uniform, sitting in the official staff car and attended by all the aides and orderlies necessary for such a high dignitary.

N. Y. "Sob" Party.

Another paper told about a recent "sob party" held by the Red Cross New York City at a fashionable hotel and presided over by Charles Evans Hughes. The article was particularly interesting to us because a former Ambulance boy spoke at the meeting. He must have forgotten his experience in France and filled in with his imagination for his story was full of ridiculous sentiment. But the effort was proclaimed a success. His hearers were moved to tears according to the account and wept copiously on each other's shirt fronts, and a good time was had generally.

All such matters as these make very amusing and interesting reading when it comes back home to us here where these scenes are supposed to have been enacted. The stories that have been spread over America of French regiments crowding around to thank the brave young American ambulanciers on the front are absurd. The French as sensible a people as any, and they know we feel their appreciation of good work. Also, they are much too busy themselves at present to spend time wasting sentiment.

The Real News.

But we hear much of the real determination in America to see this business through and that is the real thing that counts. The exhuberance of a few well meaning people does not disturb the mighty will of a great nation. They are only a few amusing incidents that have come to us and they are most amusing because those in America have taken them so seriously.

LOCAL SPOT MARKET.
(Furnished by Waco Cotton Exchange.)
August 25, 1917.
Strict middling 22 5-16
Good middling 22 1-8
Middling 21 3-4
The future market declined from 47 to 59 points today. The cause of this decline was on reports of favorable weather and heavy selling from eastern states, where the crops have shown decided improvement.

New York Cotton.
By the Associated Press.
New York, Aug. 25.—There was renewed selling in the cotton market today owing to the favorable character of crop advices and continued reports of increased new crop offerings. After opening at unchanged prices to a decline of 2 points, prices rallied several points on covering for over the week-end. Aside from covering, however, local brokers found very little support around the ring and prices soon weakened again with December selling down from 22.47 to 22.05 and January from 22.45 to 22.10, or 20 to 30 points net lower. One of the private crop reports published before the opening indicated an improvement in condition for the month in the states of Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.
Selling was active later in the morning with very little support in evidence and prices broke through the 22 cent level. October contracts sold off to 21.78 and December to 21.79, or about 52 to 59 points net lower on the more active months. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 46 to 58 points.

New Orleans Cotton.
By the Associated Press.
New Orleans, Aug. 25.—Week-end covering by shorts put the price of cotton 5 to 15 points higher around the opening today but a private bureau report showing crop improvement in the central belt, encouraged fresh selling and the market was soon on the down trend. At the end of the first half hour of business the trading months were 17 to 22 points under yesterday's close.
Heavy liquidation from the long side forced by the favorable map, the bearish week-end statistics and the wide losses in southern spot markets widened the decline. Late in the morninf the most months were 48 to 56 points under yesterday's close.
Cotton closed steady.

LIVESTOCK.
Fort Worth.
Fort Worth, Aug. 25.—Cattle receipts 1200 head; market steady. Beeves $7.00@$10.00, stockers $6.00@8.25, heifers $6.00@$8.00, cows $4.50@7.75, bulls $5.00@6.00, calves $6.00@9.50.
Hog receipts 1,000 head; market steady to 25 lower. Heavy $16.50@16.75, light $16.00@16.25, mixed $15.50@15.75, pigs $10.00@13.00.
Sheep receipts nine; market nominally steady. Lambs $13.00@14.00, yearlings $9.50@10.50, wethers $9.00@10.00, ewes $8.00@9.00, culls $6.00@7.00, goats $5.00@$7.00.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.
Chicago, Aug. 25.—Although week-end evening up of contracts was expected today, the corn market opened easier. Bearish sentiment seemed to sway most of the trading, favorable weather conditions having weight. Opening prices were unchanged to ⅛c lower with December at $1.07⅞@1.08. Slight fractional advances were followed by declines within the same narrow limits.
Wheat prices were unchanged at the opening today, the last day of trading in futures before the government takes over the handling of wheat September 1. Announcement was made of the appointment of a board of trade committee to fix the price at which open September contracts should be settled. September started its last day unchanged at $2.12.
Later the corn market dragged and toward the end of the session a marked decline occurred, influenced apparently by weakness of the cash market. The close was weak 2¾c to 2⅞c lower with December at $1.07¾ to $1.07⅞, and May at $1.05⅝ to $1.05½.
Oats opened with September a shade higher and the more distant months somewhat easier. There was little selling pressure and only small fractional price changes were recorded.
The few remaining trades in September, the last option on the market, were at slightly lower figures. The close was weak and ½c lower, the final transaction in September being at $2.11½.
Weakness in the live hog market was reflected in lower provision prices, no marked decline, however, being observed.
The range of prices:

	High.	Low.	Close.

LIVESTOCK SHOW IS TO BE FEATURE OF GREAT EXPOSITION HERE.

(By Forest E. Goodman, Director of Livestock, Texas Cotton Palace.)

Livestock at the Cotton Palace this year is going to be one of the main features. The demand for all classes of breeding stock the coming year is going to be enormous. With cattle beef reaching a record breaking price of 15 1-2 cents and hogs a record-breaker of 20 cents, and sheep that has passed all records in price, there is no reason why the farmers of Texas should not restock their places with registered or high grade stock of all kinds. From a business standpoint, if the average farmer would stop and think just a minute a beefsteak will never go out of style and will always be in demand in every locality. Not only every day in the year but three times every day the use of meat gives the stock raiser an opportunity to sell his product in every clime and every land.

County Forms Nucleus.

McLennan county, situated as it is in Central Texas, and the adjoining counties to this county should be a nucleus around which and in which the breeding and raising ground for all classes of high grade livestock to supply the customers throughout this state should be situated. There is no possible chance to lose on livestock that is not suitable for breeding purposes, for these can be sent to the local market to be slaughtered for consumption. The Cotton Ualace spirit must be distributed throughout the farmers of this section ad this state until the state of Texas is re-stocked again. The farmers in raising this stock should by all means use standard or registered sires and such men who start with this character of breeders will raise a much larger animal on the same ground, the same feed, and profit largely over common or scrub stock. There are throughout the United States, we will say for example, such men as Henry L. Wardwell of New York City, who is raising today and has been raising for the past twenty years the finest and best grades of Shropshire sheep in the United States. Aside from the profit Mr. Wardwell makes out of his sheep he derives a pleasure of knowing that he is doing the citizenship of the land a great benefit by raising the class of sheep he is distributing throughout the land. The same applies to Warren T. McGary of Kentland, Indiana, who is the owner of the top herd of Hereford cattle in the United States. He is the owner of the famous bull, "Perfection Fairfax." This man had a public sale on his farm on June 26 and sold 150 cattle, the cheapest bringing $1,000, and one young bull $17,000.

Invites All Stockmen.

The livestock department of the Cotton Palace this year invites all breeders and all buyers to come to this show as there will be all kinds of cattle on exhibition, as well as all other character of livestock. We expect to see some fine sales and purchases made at this shok. The Jersey Cattle club of this state is going to have a public sale of all kinds of Jersey cattle. The Shetland Pony club expects to have a large sale and a large assortment of all kinds of Shetland ponies. This exhibit will be quite attractive to children. The hog department and the sheep department are both always a good class at the Cotton Palace and this will be a good opportunity to buy your breeders.

We earnestly solicit all possible purchasers of livestock ony character to be with us at the fall exposition in November.

ROTARIANS TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT AT 7

The Monday night meeting of Rotarians will be a good fellowship, get-together and get-better-acquainted gathering, and the night meeting was thought best in order to give those attending a chance to stay without feeling in a hurry.

This night meeting takes the place of the regular luncheon at the Raleigh Monday at noon, except that there will be no charge Monday night. F. L. Booth will be toastmaster at the meeting Monday night, while Prof. B. B. Cobb will be the speaker, his subject being, "Fellowship." The prize will be given by F. E. McLarty.

Plans are making for gingering up for September, and already a live committee has been named to have charge of the program during this month. The committee follows: R. E. Pellow, chairman; E. S. Fentress, John F. Wright, W. H. Montz, R. J. Windrow, J. E. Porter, O. M. Brant, W. T. Lockwood, Dr. I. L. McGlasson.

SAYS CALVERT WILL BUILD BIG COTTON MILL SOON

It was stated Saturday by Col. Sim Lewis that Calvert will sign up this week for the erection of a cotton mill, and that other points in Texas are clamoring for mills and are arranging to get actively into the business of erecting mills.

Mr. Lewis said that he intended going to Calvert and closing all details for the cotton mill. Regarding cotton mills in Texas he said:

"Cotton mills will prove the greatest conceivable boon for Texas—the financial salvation, in fact. If a man wants to put up a sawmill he goes where the timber is; thus it must be with the cotton business. We must have the cotton mill men come to the cotton fields."

CALIFORNIA TOKAY GRAPES GROWN SUCCESSFULLY HERE

California Tokay grapes have been grown with wonderful success by S. M. Taylor, a landscape artist, and horticulturalist living at 1218 North Fifth street.

Clusters of the grapes were shown The News Saturday which were a revelation in this line. Some of the single clusters weighed as much as three pounds, the individual grapes being large, well formed and of excellent flavor. The vine, said Mr. Taylor, is strong, healthy and wonderfully vigorous and productive, being covered with grapes. The vine is three years old. In order to grow the grapes successfully, he said, it is necessary to spray them once a week with Bordeaux mixture.

BRIEF PREPARED IN OKLAHOMA GLASS CASE

Secretary H. D. Driscoll of the Chamber of Commerce has just received from the press copies of a brief in the case of the Waco Chamber of Commerce vs. the A. T. & S. F. Ry. et al, a hearing before the interstate commerce commission in the matter of rates on bottles and fruit jars, Oklahoma points to Waco

The brief contains the statement of the case, testimony and argument. This hearing was had July 26. Secretary Driscoll has written other briefs in different cases, which soon will be off the press.

GOOD CROPS IN KANSAS, OKLAHOMA, NORTH TEXAS

Telling of good crops in Kansas and Oklahoma, also in North Texas, H. H. Crouch of the Crouch Grain Co., is at home after a visit of several weeks in California.

Mrs. Crouch, who accompanied her husband, stopped at McKinney on the return trip, but will come on to Waco soon. Mr. Crouch's brother, who lives at McKinney, also made the trip to California. Conditions in the Pacific coast country are described as being very satisfactory.

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FRVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS" CAN'T HARM CHILDREN AND THEY LOVE IT.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."
